Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lutz of Pittsburgh, are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Annie Lutz. Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Stover and son Donny, and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Walker of Clintondale, were Sunday dinner guests at the C. C. Klingner home at Williamsport. They also called at the Charles Fargus home at Avis. Mrs. Bruce Harris of Clintondale, was a Friday evening caller with her aunt, Mrs. Ely Krape. INSTITUTE 1942 Centre County Teachers Institute On Oct. fifteen and sixteen Was just about as successful As any session I have seen. It was conducted by Superintendent Rogers. And his assistant Lewis Lenhart; The cause of the great success, you see. Each one did well their part. The teachers came from all over the county. The attendance was just fine; According to the register there was Four hundred and eight or nine. The day was murky, cloudy, rainy. In fact anything but fine; But the interior of the building Was aglow with bright sunshine. When the teachers all met and began to talk It sounded something like a riot; But when Supl. Rogers used the gavel. Everyone seemed very quiet. The sessions was opened by the Milesburg minister. And some funny things do occur; I felt sure that it was him. All the rest said it was Herr. We will let this be just as it was. But we were glad that he was there. To read to us the word of God And offer up a prayer. By all of us it is needed. If you want to know what for; If we don't get on the Lord's side We'll never win this war. They must of thought us all suckers But I concluded I would wait. Before I would begin to nibble At that great attractive bait. The next speaker on the program. As we keep going down the line. Delivering to us the Russian history. Was well done by Dorothy Fuldheim.

SPRING MILLS

It was a shock to the community when the news spread that Mrs. Annie Smith had passed away on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Smith was a grand lady, very highly respected with hosts of friends and will be greatly missed, as she was a friend to everybody. She will also be missed in church and lodge circles. She was a lifelong member of the Methodist church. The remains of Harry W. Weaver of State College, were interred in the Heckman cemetery last Friday afternoon. Mr. Weaver was born and raised in this vicinity and had many friends here. The Halloween parade last Friday evening was considered a decided success. The parade was led by the Spring Mills 92 piece band, followed by a large aggregation of masked merry makers. Bruce Bailey moved his family to State College where he has secured employment. The shutting down of the local silk mill was rather hard on our town, as it left many without jobs. It is rather unfortunate that our town could not land some kind of war production industry. There are a number moving out of town to industrial centers. Lester Hanna has moved his family to Milton where he has secured employment. C. E. Ziegler spent several days in Williamsport last week. Donald Miller moved his family to Lewisburg last week where he has secured employment. Mrs. Paul Henninger and children of Harrisburg, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Ziegler. William Fogleman, our station agent has recently been transferred to Coburn and moved there last week. The meeting sponsored by the Democratic County Committee held in the school auditorium last Thursday evening was largely attended with an array of speakers, the program was interspersed with selections by the school band. A free lunch was served by the ladies. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Skiles, of Karthaus, were weekend guests at the R. E. Henry home. Miss Dolores Condo spent the weekend at Bethlehem, where she witnessed the Lehigh football game.

KENNEDY

WOODWARD

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ketter of Pottsville, were weekend guests of his sister, Mrs. Carrie Pultz. Of course "Ruse" Kessinger and he being great hunters, were out hunting the first day of the small game season which opened on Saturday morning. We learned they were quite successful in their hunting. Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Fiedler accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fiedler, north of town, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fiedler of near Fiedler, to Selinsgrove on Sunday, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Musser, their son-in-law and daughter. Well, before this paper arrives at your home, election day with its returns will be history. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hosterman, our hotel host and hostess, made a business trip to Sunbury on Saturday. C. E. Krenmer was housed in over the weekend on account of a severe attack of neuritis in his upper left leg. However, he is able to be about again. The Halloweeners in towns were quite busy throwing corn besides doing other tricks for the last few weeks. The holiday closed on Saturday night by several dress parades. On Sunday morning the local Evangelical church presented Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Fiedler with a basket of flowers in honor of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Fiedler are members of the above-named church for quite a number of years. A flock of wild geese was noticed winging their way southward the latter part of last week one day. It was the first flock noticed thus far.

PINE GROVE MILLS

In the passing of one of our respected citizens last Saturday night, Dr. E. B. Gravitt, who died at his home on East Main street, our vicinity is again without an M. D. The family has the sympathy of the community. The aged physician was buried Tuesday afternoon at Everett, his former home. Mr. and Mrs. James Wesley and daughter, Cleoid, spent the weekend with relatives at this place and also at Howard. Nevin Watson and Eddie Burd left on Thursday for army service. Irvin Watson of Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., spent a few days at home with his wife and baby daughter, and his host of friends and relatives in this vicinity. many friends wish her a speedy recovery. Farmer Samuel A. Homans is erecting on his farm a large tractor and automobile shed. Michael Bressler is the contractor. Reports are that farmer Paul Henry is arranging to make public sale in the near future of his fine dairy herd and devote his time to his chicken and hog business. Mrs. Margaret Sunday and daughter, Mrs. Waldo Homan, of Oak Hill Station, were Sunday visitors at the Paul Sunday home on Tadpole. Clayton Corl and son Dick, of Altoona, were down among their home folks last Saturday for the opening of their favorite sport, the small game shoot. Messrs. Jack Johnston and Merle Roseman enlisted last week in the Altoona recruiting station for the U. S. service. They both expect to be called soon to the Allis-Chalmers factory as war necessity mechanics. Warren S. Ward, wife and son and daughter of Lewisport, and Mrs. J. H. Mauger of Chester, enjoyed the past weekend at the well known Ward home in Baileyville, guests of Miss Ann and J. Maxwell Ward, proprietor of the Clover Farm store. The Rev. John S. Peterson, pastor of the Methodist charge here, has recently moved to Somerset, where he will take charge of the United Brethren charge in that town. While here the young divine was one of our school bus drivers. According to reports, his successor on the bus will be "Pete" Harpster, former school janitor. John H. Bailey spent the weekend in Mill Hill, a guest of his son, Warren F. Bailey and family.

THIRTEEN ROADS TO ADVENTURE for Men of 18 and 19 Choose, while you can, one of 13 branches of the U. S. Army. Get ready now to get in your licks at the Axis MAKE no mistake, the Army of the United States is going back to Bataan. It's going to put the cocky Jap army to head-long flight. Immortal Corregidor will again see our flag flying proudly overhead. We're going to hit the Axis in every part of the world. And some day the streets of Berlin will echo to the clatter of American "tank busters." Don't you want to be there? You young Americans—the hardest hitting, toughest fighting team in the world—have got the stuff to help bring this about. Today the Army offers you, before your 20th birthday, the privilege of selecting any one of 13 different branches in which to get into this fight. Read about them. Talk them over with your family and get full information at your nearest Army Recruiting and Induction Station. AIR FORCES—Here you have splendid opportunities—more than 26 highly specialized jobs—mechanics and radio men, bombardiers, pilots, navigators, gunners, aerial photographers, flying in planes, gliders or serving on the ground. Or, if you're skilled with tools, you can gain first-hand knowledge and experience serving the fastest, finest planes on earth. It's all great training for a career in the mighty field of aviation. ARMORED FORCE—This is the team of gunners, drivers and radio operators that smashes hard at the enemy in mammoth tanks and armored cars... roars over the countryside on husky motorcycles... cuts across fields in bronco-busting "jeeps"... rolls up to battle in huge, powerful trucks. If you're mechanically minded, you may get plenty of action and training keeping these modern implements of war in first-class fighting shape. COAST ARTILLERY CORPS—The Coast Artillery includes both world-wide anti-aircraft service and harbor and shore defenses. Around the world, they're knocking the enemy out of the sky... peppering our harbor waters with deadly mines against hostile ships. Gunners are manning anti-aircraft guns, big-caliber railway guns and tractor-drawn 155's. Here's thrilling experience, in gunnery and seamanship, and in electrical and radio fields too. CORPS OF ENGINEERS—Build and destroy—you learn how to do both in the Corps of Engineers. Build to pave the way for our Army... destroy to obstruct the enemy. Bridges, roads, tank traps, camouflage—you build 'em all. You operate railroads. In powerful assault boats of the Amphibian Command you carry troops to secret attack. Engineers are trained to fight and they see plenty of action. CORPUS OF MILITARY POLICE—These are the men who expedite mass movements of troops by skillful regulation of traffic... up at the front and on highways at home. They're the ones responsible for controlling prisoners of war. They are men of integrity who maintain law and order wherever the Army goes. And they're trained to operate as tactical units in battle when needed. FIELD ARTILLERY—In this branch you can become one of the team that hurls the huge shells which soften up the foe... split wide open his supply lines... scatter his reserves under a hail of fire and pave the way for "the kill" by your own Infantry and Armored Forces. Today's Field Artillery is a fast-moving group of men who know how to deliver telling blows, where it hurts the enemy the most. QUARTERMASTER CORPS—Soldiers in the front line depend on supply units to keep them in battle. Food. Shelter. Clothing. Equipment for special climates and tasks, all the way from Iceland to the jungles of Africa. Wherever our men are fighting, the Quartermaster soldier is on the job. The enlisted man may learn one or more of some 70 valuable trades in the Quartermaster Corps. SIGNAL CORPS—In the Signal Corps you are away ahead of the action—the eyes and ears of war. Lightning-speed communication is your job. The ultra-modern in radio transmitters and receivers, "Electronic Sentries," "Walkie-Talkies" and scores of other closely guarded secret devices are yours to assemble, install and operate. There's no better training for one of the most promising after-the-war industries... no more exciting branch of the service.

U.S. ARMY RECRUITING AND INDUCTION SERVICE POST OFFICE BUILDING BELLEFONTE, PA. The advertisement features a large central headline and a grid of 13 illustrations, each depicting a different military branch. The branches shown include: Air Forces (pilots in a plane), Chemical Warfare Service (a soldier with a gas mask), Infantry (soldiers in a truck), Medical Department (a soldier with a medical kit), Ordnance Department (a tank), Corps of Engineers (a soldier with a map), Corps of Military Police (a soldier with a rifle), Field Artillery (a large artillery piece), and others. The text is arranged in columns around the illustrations, providing a brief description of each branch's role and the opportunities it offers to young men.
