Scrap Total Is Near 5,000 Tons

Per Capita Collection in County Almost 200 Pounds, Kennard Reports

Latest reports from district chairmen have raised Centre county's scrap total to 9,250,726 pounds or less than 15 pounds under the 200-pound per capita mark.

Since the last compilation of scrap collections was released by R. J. Kennard of State College, county chairman, 411,070 pounds have been reported, adding 205 tons to the county pile.

Sources from which the latest metal scrap reports have come in Centre county are:

Drives by school children and teachers in Millsburg which netted eight tons, three in the first campaign and five in a later one in which children made a house-to-house canvass with boys collecting heavier items and girls gathering unused keys.

Making up the committee in the drive were Frank L. Baird, chairman, Irvin Hess, George Newman, Alan Weaver, Miss Bessie A. Miles, Mrs. Ralph Mitchell, Miss Ruth Lucas, Miss Mildred Crust.

The Phillipsburg campaign under W. C. Springer, which totaled 69,600 pounds from Phillipsburg, 9,700 pounds from Sandy Ridge, 8,210 pounds from Munson, and 3,500 pounds from the Rush township school, Mr. Springer said that more scrap in his district has yet to be moved.

District 9, directed by Miss Margaret Stere, which gathered 2,550 pounds in a school drive at Unionville, 8,350 pounds sold in Boggs township, 500 more pounds expected to be sold in Boggs township soon, 500 to be sold in Union township, at least 350 pounds sold in Union township.

Reports from Bellefonte district, including 20,090 pounds in Bellefonte borough, 200 pounds sold by Gerald Robinson, and 30,000 pounds reported by Jake Kofman. This report was submitted by Karl Kusse, chairman in that district.

A total of 93,875 pounds sold by American Lime and Stone Company and added to the report of Mr. Kusse's district.

An additional 27,900 pounds sold by Rockview Penitentiary.

The College campus, reported by H. W. Loman, an additional 119,835 pounds, bringing the total to 119,835 pounds.

Mr. Kennard continued to urge that reports of private sales of scrap or new sources be turned over to district chairmen.

Scrap Movie Nets 6000 Pounds of Junk

Bellefonte youngsters who attended a free scrap movie at the Plaza theatre Saturday morning contributed an average of just twice as much scrap as officials had fixed as the admission price.

Ten pounds of metal or rubber entitled youngsters to attend the movie, but when the movie was over it was found that some 300 youngsters had piled up a total of 6,000 pounds of scrap—or 20 pounds each, on the average.

The three youngsters contributing the largest amounts of scrap, and who received a month's pass to the movies as a reward, were Jack Musser, Janet Herman and Lynn Spicer, all of Bellefonte. Two of them brought in their contributions by truck, while the third started early in the morning to haul in his contribution.

Fred Fisher, theatre manager, compared Saturday's movie with an earlier one as follows: "Saturday there were fewer kids, but more scrap."

PENN STATE STUDENTS TO GET SHORT HOLIDAY

Thanksgiving weekend will be just another weekend of study on the calendar of students at the Pennsylvania State College.

Students at Penn State will only take time off from classes on Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 26, and will return to their studies the following morning. This one-day holiday will not allow them to join their families, but fraternity and dormitory caterers are planning special "Turkey Day" feasts.

Because the College is operating under the three semesters a year program, with three classes graduating in one year, College authorities are aiding the war effort by streamlining vacations along with academic programs. Students now graduate in two years, and eight months as compared to the normal four years.

Classes are being resumed Friday and Saturday after Thanksgiving in line with a request from the Office of Defense Transportation to keep student travel to a minimum, particularly over weekends.

Food Protection Needed In Raids

Flying Glass, Smoke, Dust And Poisons Constitute Possible Menace

Hints on food protection in air raids were released for Centre county this week by the Centre County Civilian Defense Council. According to Henry A. Brockerhoff, Council chairman, the recommendations are based upon studies of British experience under actual raid conditions.

Four factors, according to Council members, may result in contamination of food on pantry shelves and elsewhere in the home. They are flying glass, smoke and gases from exploding bombs and shells, dust raised by nearby explosions, and chemical warfare agents commonly known as poison gas.

Members advise keeping all foods which are usually stored in the open, such as potatoes and other vegetables, and cereals, in paper cartons, and cured meats in cassettes, heavy cardboard, closed wooden bins or other places where they cannot be reached by flying glass.

They warned that food should be so placed that it will not be shaken from shelves and containers broken by falling.

To protect foods against gas, members advised sealing them in glass jars or bottles with screw caps or good stoppers and in tin cans with tight-fitting lids. Flour, cereals, sugar, rice and other perishable foods may be stored in this way.

Reserve supplies should be wrapped in paper before being stored, they stated.

Although refrigerators having doors with airtight seals are adequate protection for perishable foods, ice boxes are not, they warned. Closed containers should be used in refrigerators if there is any doubt about their safety.
