

Man Found Dead In Williamsport

(Continued from page one) He is survived by his father, residing in Bellefonte; his wife, the former Lulu Thomas, of Bellefonte, and these brothers and sisters: Joseph and Walter, of Bellefonte; George, of Williamsport; Mrs. Rose Smead, of Newberry, and Mrs. Christine Melburn, of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at the Widowson Funeral Home with Rev. Harry C. Stenger, Jr., of the Bellefonte Methodist church, officiating. Interment was made in the Union cemetery, Bellefonte.

Members of the family here believe that Howard may have opened the gas jets to light the burners, and while searching for a match forgot the jets were turned on.

The deceased, who was buried in Bellefonte on March 8, 1901, was a son of Michael and Mary Howard.

Evidence that American youth looks to the future not only for opportunity but for security appears from the fact that students buy 7 per cent of all ordinary life insurance policies.

Over the County News

Mrs. E. B. Keen, of West Main street, Millheim, had a nasty fall last Saturday afternoon, injuring her right hip and back. She was confined to her bed for several days.

Little Miss Mona Stover, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Stover, is ill at the family home on Penn street. She has been suffering for several weeks with an ailment that has not been diagnosed as yet.

Mrs. Martha E. Spigelmyer, native of Pottery Mills, but for many years a resident of Vicksburg, Union county, died at her home in that community on Saturday, November 21, of influenza of age. She was ninety years old, and was born at Pottery Mills, a daughter of Richard and Susan Gaunt.

Word was received in Bellefonte recently that Dr. Harold B. Harris, former Bellefonte physician, has been promoted to the rank of major in the U. S. Army Medical Corps. Dr. Harris entered the service in the spring of 1940 and has been stationed at the base hospital at Fort Eustis, Va. Mrs. Harris and the two children are with him in the south.

Mrs. C. H. Breen is under the doctor's care following a fall in the family home on East Main street, Millheim, last Saturday morning. The Breens have a pet squirrel, a tame butaucy fellow, which is allowed to jump about the house at intervals. During such playtimes, a board is placed between the kitchen and dining room to prevent the animal from getting into the latter room. Forgetful for the moment that the board was there, Mrs. Breen tripped over it, injuring her legs and knees severely, but did not break any bones.

The dog population of Millheim is suffering from the activities of motorists. Last week, a hound, apparently without an owner, was run over and crushed near the Millheim Hosiery Mill on Penn street. Its howling and death throes were still being heard when it was dragged to the side of the road and administered the mercy shot. On Sunday, a white dog, a pet in the household of Miss Mabel Ziegler, was struck

Jonas Faust and wife of Pottsville, are spending a few days at the Mrs. J. G. Boal home.

Red Cross Nurse Submits Report

(Continued from page one) Parents were invited to these inspections and 55 were present. The tuberculosis testing program was carried out during the month of November, when 800 pupils in the Bellefonte, Bush Addition, Yocum, Millburg, Central City, Unionville, and North Hill schools were tested, with 52 positives.

The promotion of Corporal James T. Caldwell, Jr., of Bellefonte, to technical fourth grade in the classification section of the 1301st Service Unit has been announced by Lt. Col. William A. Fulmer, commander of the New Cumberland Army Reception Center. The advancement entitles him to wear a sergeant's stripes. A graduate of Penn State College in 1940, Sgt. Caldwell was inducted into the Army February 5, 1941, and first saw service at Fort George G. Meade before arriving at his post 20 days later. He was first elevated to technical fifth grade June 15, 1941. His mother, Mrs. Mary

Marketing Administration, in the interest of surplus food commodities visited the chapter and the schools at Coleville and Yocum are using these foods. The Associated Charities furnished one pair of glasses, and the Needlework Guild of Bellefonte gave a nice donation of children's and infants' wear. A donation from the Murphy store also was made to the Chapter for the two-month period. A class in home nursing will be started in Bellefonte in the home nursing rooms in the Bush Arcade building on High street, Tuesday, January 5. Anyone interested in taking the course is asked to register with Mrs. B. J. Beezer, East Bishop street.

Human nature, brother, changes very slowly and almost imperceptibly; so don't expect a reformation overnight.

Gets Indian Relics A collection of more than 2,275 Indian arrowheads, tools and ornaments, all found along the Susquehanna River, has just been presented to the school of mineral industries at the Pennsylvania State College. The gift was made by five Pittsburgh men, all alumni of the college. The parole system has been abused, no doubt, but the idea behind it is still valid.
