

OBITUARY

RUSSELL W. SNYDER, Jr. Pneumonia, contracted only a few days ago, took the life of Russell W. Snyder, three-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Snyder, of Lamar, Tuesday, at the Lock Haven Hospital.

Morning with Rt. Rev. William E. Downes officiating. Interment was made in St. John's cemetery, Bellefonte.

EDGAR EMEL

Edgar Emel, lifelong resident of the Bellefonte area, died at his home on North Penn street shortly after 10 o'clock yesterday morning, January 20, 1943, after a five year's illness with a complication of diseases. Mr. Emel was a son of Jonas and Mariah Spier Emel and was born at Pleasant View. Had he lived until April he would have observed his 70th birthday anniversary.

CURTIN CALVIN TAYLOR

Curtin Calvin Taylor, former P. R. R. Co. employe of North Thomas street, Bellefonte, died Saturday noon, January 16, 1943, at his home from complications following a several weeks' illness. Mr. Taylor had been employed as a special police officer by the Canton Railroad Co. at Baltimore, Md. for more than a year, but had been confined to bed since returning home about a month ago.

BELLEFONTE MAN PREPARES XMAS DINNER IN INDIA

Cyril Moerschbacher, formerly of Bellefonte, steward at the Nittany Country Club, recently received from his son, Corp. William J. Moerschbacher, who is with the U. S. Medical Corps somewhere in India, a copy of the Christmas menu at the Station Hospital in which he is serving.

Corp. Moerschbacher, who enlisted in the medical division of the Army in December 1941, is one of the chief cooks at a hospital in India, and here is the Christmas menu:

- Shrimp Cocktail Consomme Roast Turkey and Chicken Giblet Gravy Bread Stuffing Canned Sweet Potatoes Mashed Potatoes Boiled Onions Sliced Tomatoes Parker House Rolls Apple Pie Associated Fresh Fruits Coffee or Limeade Mixed Nuts Hard Candy

On the bottom of the menu Corp. Moerschbacher writes: "How do you like this for a day's workout? If he's asking us, we'd say it looks like a lot of work for the cooks, but if he means the knife and fork end of the meal, it sounds swell."

urer in charge of the Bellefonte office, presented charts showing details of last year's financial operations. Other representatives of the association present were: George Mothersbaugh of Bohnsburg, Milton Stover of Coburn, Jean Fanning of Bellefonte, and Catherine Bechtel, bookkeeper of the Hollidaysburg office.

After the report of the nominating committee was read, the stockholders voted for two directors, Frank P. Keller of Pleasant Gap, James J. Markle of State College, and Ray J. Sharer of Centre Hall, were appointed as tellers to count the ballots including those held over from the other section of the meeting held in Martinsburg the preceding day.

Ralph C. Blaney, county agent, William Rishel, chairman of the County War Board, and Miles Cubbins, directors of the Soil Conservation, each gave an interesting talk on the ways and means of helping the farmer to meet the present problems of increasing food production.

Robert O. Bechtel, son of Mrs. Edgar Bechtel of Blanchard, and brother of Mrs. Harry Jones of Bellefonte, and Miss Ruth Lant of Butler, were married November 29 in the Epworth church at Harrisburg, with Rev. T. Max Hall, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, officiating. The bride wore a street length dress of winter white trimmed with gold sequins and black accessories. After the ceremony Mrs. Hall gave a reception.

Mrs. Bechtel is a graduate of the Lorain, Ohio, High School and Kent University, Kent, Ohio. For a time she was employed at the WADC radio station in Akron, Ohio, later at WISK in Butler, and is now working at station WKST in New Castle. Mr. Bechtel graduated from Lock Haven High School in 1933 and the Cleveland College of Embalming in 1940. For some time he was a member of Troop D, Pennsylvania Motor Police, at Butler, and is now stationed at Beaver. The couple is residing at 877 Seventh street there.

easy and interesting and observers have a fine record for relieving the man on duty promptly at the expiration of his time. Comfortable chairs and plenty of reading material is on hand. Bellefonte should have no difficulty whatever in obtaining an overabundance of spotters—especially when it is considered that in many places the watchers stand out in the weather the entire time and have no way of putting in idle time.

COUNTY EXCEEDS WAR BOND QUOTA

Pass December Mark By $23,600; January Quota Sets New Peak

Centre county citizens successfully passed a severe War Bond purchase test in December, but an even greater test is being made in January, according to an announcement yesterday by Claude G. Aikens, of State College, head of the County War Savings Staff.

Despite the heavy demands of Christmas buying, Mr. Aikens said, the county's citizens exceeded the December quota of War Bonds by a margin of $23,565—a most creditable showing. The quota for the month was $155,237 and sales totaled $179,773, the officials reported. Quotas and sales comprise "E" bonds only. But the picture for January is even more challenging, for the quota has been set at $232,723—nearly a quarter of a million dollars. It is by far the highest quota assigned to Centre county since the outset of the War Bond program, for the next highest was last June when the Treasury Department fixed $186,500 as this area's share of bearing the cost of the war effort. The county fell down on that assignment, for sales totaled only $117,848.

But Mr. Aikens expressed confidence that the goal is attainable. He pointed out that last October, when the quota was $166,000, citizens purchased an all time high of $194,513 in bonds and stamps. A repetition of last October's purchases, combined with a little extra effort on the part of every district leader and every income earner should result in the county reaching the goal of $232,723 without working any hardship on anyone, Mr. Aikens said.

carriers have entered the armed service. In towns where the houses are numbered, almost anyone can serve as a substitute to deliver mail. But in Bellefonte anyone who hasn't a very thorough working knowledge of who everyone is and where he lives is faced with a monumental task. In addition there are many new faces coming and going in the community. Under these conditions today an order suspending free delivery here would come as no great surprise, Mr. Meek said.

During the years from 1932 to 1939 when unemployment was a problem and when various government work relief agencies virtually begged Bellefonte Borough Council to authorize a survey of the town for the numbering of homes and business places, Council turned a deaf ear, even though the government would have provided all labor and some materials free of charge. There never seemed to be any active opposition to the proposal in Council, but that body just never got around to taking any positive action.

The lack of sidewalks in some parts of town is another reason assigned for the possible curtailment of free mail delivery. Postal laws set forth that free delivery will be accorded only to such places which may be reached by sidewalks. In some sections of town postmen walk considerable distances where there are no sidewalks.

In the event free mail delivery should be suspended it would mean that everyone would have to call at the postoffice for his mail. The rush of patrons seeking mail, plus the monumental inconvenience of having to call for mail soon would arouse townspeople to demand definite action to keep Bellefonte from dropping to the postal status of a backwoods crossroads.

Sieg Urges County Aid For Library

quest that the County Commissioners consider the position of this library in the community life of the county from the angle, not only of our present needs, but post-war needs as well. Unquestionably, the curtailment of a lot of the activities, which we were accustomed to when gasoline and rubber were available to practically everyone, will force many people to find other means of diversion. The facilities of the County Library, therefore, in our opinion should be enlarged rather than curtailed.

No one knows what will face the county, as well as the country, in the post-war era. One thing certain, however, is the more people read the more enlightened they become—in more hope there is for a solution of a lot of economic problems which are sure to result with the close of the war.

I don't see how we can afford to close or curtail the activities of such an important enterprise in our everyday life, and should like to solicit your consideration of the financial needs of this county institution, giving them every possible dollar so their activities cannot only be carried on in their present scope but enlarged. The work necessary to enlarge the general public must be carried forward. The more involved our economy becomes, the greater the demand for understanding. Very truly yours,

TITAN METAL MFG. CO., W. W. Sieg, General Manager.

Several Errors Mar Blackout

er the prison was signaling the end of the blackout. Aside from these mishaps, the blackout worked smoothly and a mock air invasion test held in connection with the exercise proved defense workers well trained in their duties.

The yellow flash was received at the Bellefonte "Black Box" at 9 p. m.; the blue flash came at 9:15 p. m. and the red flash, calling for a complete blackout, was received here at 9:30 p. m. The "all-clear" signal came through at 10 p. m.

Bellefonte defense officials said the local protection corps was at its highest peak of efficiency during Friday's mock raid. Members responded for duty promptly and there were few violations of blackout rules. Several bombing and sabotage "incidents" in the Bellefonte area were handled effectively and promptly, officials said.

Civil Defense officials point out that during blackouts no audible signals will be sounded. Fire alarms are handled through the control center and firemen are dispatched to the scene from that point without any general alarm being given. Hence, in the future, the sounding of whistles or signals during a blackout will not indicate a fire.
