Production Credit Officers Elected

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Hollidaysburg Production Credit Association held in the Association office Thursday, January 21, the following officers were elected for 1943: President, John A. Runk, of Huntingdon; vice-president, H. R. Snoberger, New Enterprise, Bedford county; secretary-treasurer, E. G. Fouse, Martinsburg, Blair county.

Plans were discussed by which the services of this Cooperative Credit Association could be made more readily available to the farmers in the counties served by the association, namely, Bedford, Blair, Cambria, Centre, Clearfield and Huntingdon.

The directors desire that every farmer who may need credit in connection with his efforts to produce food for the war effort this year will feel free to contact the association and discuss needs with the secretary-treasurer or his assistants. The association stands ready to give the fullest consideration to any credit requests in connection with the production of vital foods and fibres sorely needed this year.

and they're multiplying at a terrific rate. Note: George Peters of Phillipsburg, dog law enforcement officer for this area, could solve the problem.

BIG SHOT:

Comes a letter from a resident of a Centre County town alleging that there is a persistent ignore of black-out regulations and keeps his lights burning during air-raid alerts. Ordinarily that is a matter for air raid officials. This corner is interested because the man named is the same one we reported several weeks ago as allegedly making his usual Sunday visit with friends in a neighboring city and stopping at Milesburg at a speed said to have been not less than 50 miles an hour. We hope someone soon tells this man that the country is at war, and explains to him that life here, even with the few paltry restrictions we're asked to bear, is still a great deal more free and more desirable than it would be if Hitler got the upper hand. Or maybe he never heard of Hitler.

"POP" NOW "MOM":

Svenget Smith, of Bellefonte, who is entering the Army was the County's Deserter, Probation and Parole officer, and who is known as "Pop" at the recreation center at New Cumberland because he's the oldest enlisted man there, has been assigned a leading role in a play the men at New Cumberland are going to stage. He's to act the stage part of "Mom" in a fast-moving drama.

MISCELLANEOUS:

Rationing has made a great change in the life of Msgr. William E. Downes, rector of St. John's Catholic church. His daily round of golf at the Nittany Country Club, winter and summer, has been off ever since the OPA banned pleasure driving. We thought Governor Martin's inaugural address last week was a splendid expression of a man who knows what's going on and who fully realizes the political parties, if they are to live, must recognize changes in the times and revise government to meet those changes. He should do well in the Governor's chair.

DEAN ADVISES CIVILIANS TO KEEP MENTALLY FIT

Keeping mentally fit in wartime is the duty of every civilian, according to Arthur R. Warnock, dean of men at the Pennsylvania State College, who is executive secretary of the Advisory Committee on American Unity for the State Council of Defense. A five-point program is suggested by Dean Warnock: 1. Keep in good physical condition. 2. Build confidence in the group to which you belong, and have confidence in our government and military leadership. 3. Participate in some specific activity of the war program on the home front. 4. Go to church, and to public meetings of a patriotic nature. 5. Minimize avoidable internal frictions which waste energy.

Nittany Valley Farmers Meet

Hear Discussion on "Increasing Milk Production"

Tuesday evening, January 26, 1943, marked the third of a series of 12 evening classes being conducted in the Walker Township High School by the Vocational Agriculture Department.

The title of the course is "Increasing Milk Production" and is designed to provide Walker Township farmers with the fundamentals that will enable them to increase production of their dairy herds to meet the ever increasing demands of the war effort.

The course is conducted under the authority of the Rural War Production Training Program. The class meets regularly on Tuesday nights from 7:30 to 9:30 in the Agriculture room of the High School building at Hubersburg. The course was sponsored by the Walker Township School Board and is being conducted by Robert Corman, teacher of vocational agriculture in the Walker Township schools.

Thus far such problems as "Individual Breeds of Dairy Cattle—their history, use and importance," "Selection of Desirable Breeding Stock: The Characteristics and Importance of Milk," etc., have been studied and discussed by the class. Other subjects to be taken up by the class include Milk Testing; Determining the Food Requirements of the Dairy Cow; Preparing and Balancing Desirable Rations; Feeding Dairy Cows; Raising Young Dairy Stock and Controlling and Preventing Diseases and Parasites of Dairy Cattle.

The first meeting was held January 12, 1943. Present plans call for one two-hour meeting to be held each week for a total of twelve consecutive weeks. There is no charge in connection with the course and Walker Township farmers are encouraged to enroll and attend the classes.

Walker Township Boys Win Prizes

On Wednesday, January 20, 1943, as a special feature of a school assembly, two Walker township Vocational Agriculture students were presented medals in recognition of their outstanding project programs. The medals were presented by Mr. Harry P. Bailey, supervising principal in the Walker Township Schools.

Thomas Hinds, a senior in vocational agriculture, received a bronze medal as an award for winning 10th place in the State senior project contest, on his senior swine project in which he made a net income of over two hundred dollars, part of which he has invested in U. S. War Bonds.

Painting Over Nails

If one paints over rusty nails, they are likely to show through the paint as dark spots. This can be prevented by painting over them with aluminum paint and then applying a fresh coat of gloss paint after the aluminum paint has dried thoroughly.

The Refrigerator

Lukewarm water and borax used for washing the inside of the refrigerator will keep it sweet and clean. A piece of charcoal kept on one of the shelves will absorb all the odors.

Removing Whitewash

Whitewash can be removed from walls by dissolving one pound of alum in one gallon of strong vinegar, applying with a brush, allowing the mixture to soak in real well, and then scraping and washing.

Care of Stove

Never wash the porcelain finish of the stove while it is still hot, as this might crack it. When the stove is cool, warm soapy water should be used on it. Be sure to wipe off quickly any acid, such as vinegar or lemon, that may be spilled on it.

Hand Lotion

An inexpensive and effective hand lotion can be made as follows: Mix one-half cup of vinegar, one-half cup of starch in a jar and shake well.

When Working Putty

When one is working with putty, it is a good idea to have some powdered chalk on the hands so as to prevent its sticking to the hands.

Heat Stains on Table

Heat stains on the highly polished table can be removed by applying in order the following, and using a separate cloth for each: kerosene, alcohol, and sweet or lined oil. Rub the last in well until the spot disappears.

Serving Salad

Whenever it is possible to do so, serve the salad dressing separately and let the guests help themselves. Not only does the lettuce wilt after the dressing has been on it for any length of time, but people have so many different ideas in regard to salad dressing.
