He then secured employment as a clerk in the T. B. Budinger General Store at Clarence. After working a year he decided to take up teaching as a profession. On the advice of Professor David O. Eiters, then County Superintendent of Schools, he attended summer schools to enable him to take and pass an examination for a permanent teaching certificate. When you read the news on the home front, in this year 1943, you will do well to keep in mind that there will be a presidential election next year. He has taught school for the past twenty-seven years in the public schools of the county. He is also a graduate of the International Correspondence Schools at Scranton in Bookkeeping and Business Form. He has lived in Unionville and vicinity for thirty-five years, eleven of which he taught in the Grammar Schools in that village. He also served his community as Auditor, Assessor and is at present Clerk of the Borough Council. Mr. Fox is active in both civic and political life in his town. At present he is Chairman of the Victory Garden Committee and also a member of the Salvage Committee. He has also been interested in the Athletic activities of Unionville and one of its ardent rooters. He has long been very active in the interests of the Republican Party serving for many years as committeeman in his borough. In making his announcement, he made the following statement: "I have never offered myself as a candidate for public office before. I feel that I am qualified to fill the office of Recorder for which I have announced and would appreciate the support and influence of my fellow Republicans in helping me to obtain the nomination." Mrs. Robert Conway and son Lester, were Monday evening callers last week with Mrs. Harry Swope. YOUR HEALTH We are about as well-informed as any nation on earth. But what Americans do not know about such a common condition as cancer is unbelievable. A survey was recently made of 158 cancer patients at an eastern hospital. There had been considerable delay in the diagnosis and treatment of 155 of these victims. Three patients came immediately to the hospital for emergency treatment—one because of intestinal obstruction and 2 because of hemorrhage. Only one-fourth of the group of patients had ever read anything about cancer. Of those who had read about cancer, all but 2 had obtained their information from newspapers and popular magazines. Only two admitted reading public health pamphlets. Delay in the diagnosis and treatment of cancer is one of the most important factors in the failure to obtain better results by methods of treatment now available. The definition of delay must necessarily be arbitrary. It is well known that the time required to recognize and diagnose a cancer which is visible on the exterior will be quite different from that on the interior of the body. Failure to attach sufficient importance to recognized leads, signs, and symptoms accounts for most of the delay. Recognition of cancer is primarily an educational problem. DO YOU KNOW Many insect household pests formerly frozen in chilly closets, and storage rooms during the winter months are now kept alive through the even heating of houses. Cleanliness is the only answer to this problem of insects in the home. Nine out of every ten humans have had at one time or another during their lives a tuberculosis infection, but in most instances the body has been able to destroy the invading germs. "Have you ever been in the state of syncope or coma?" "No, where are they located?" Syncope and coma are two medical emergencies that are dramatic and serious. Syncope means fainting. Coma is a deeper state of unconsciousness from which the victim cannot be aroused even by powerful stimulation. These conditions usually come on with suddenness. In rarer instances, the onset is insidious. Sometimes there is giddiness, vertigo, weakness, disturbance of vision, unsteadiness and restlessness. Drowsiness, confused speech and yawning, nausea and vomiting have been noted. Physical signs shown by the unconscious patient are important. The physician examining such a case will look for evidence of injury, such as scalp lacerations, or bruises, or fractures of the skull. Seek odors such as that of acetone or ammonia, or alcohol, or a poison such as carbolic acid. In unconscious persons signs of great significance are often discovered through study of heart action and blood pressure. Cold, leaky, pale skin may be noted in one unconscious from shock due to injury or hemorrhage. A general medical condition may first come under observation through coma. For example, from diabetes, uraemia, meningitis, brain abscess, or tumor. The unconscious person challenges the physician to prompt and correct diagnosis. DO YOU KNOW Sunlight destroys riboflavin known as vitamin G, a most important vitamin of milk. Most cooking processes do not destroy this very valuable vitamin. Moral: Do not permit bottled milk to stand on the porch or window sill in the sunlight. MARKET QUOTATIONS Corrected Weekly by C. Y. Wagner & Co., Inc., Flour Mill, Bellefonte. Text: "GRADE PUPILS ENTERTAIN MILESBURG WOMAN'S CLUB An interesting program presented by the pupils of the 7th and 8th grades of the Milesburg schools featured a regular meeting of the Milesburg Woman's Club in the school house last week. The program follows: Song, "How Betsy Made the Flag," American Creed, by David Jodon. Sketch of Abraham Lincoln, Harry Eitright. "Our Motto," and "American Creed," by Richard Lucas. Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, by Don Fetzer. Sketch of George Washington, by James Gentzel. "Lincoln Walks at Midnight," by Nancy Blair. "O Captain, My Captain," by Barbara Roberts. "Footpaths to Peace," by Shirley Breon. "History of the Boy Scouts of America," by Donald Hess. GRADE PUPILS ENTERTAIN MILESBURG WOMAN'S CLUB Those who took part in the entertainment, in addition to those listed above, were: Harry Eitright, Harry McMillen, Miles Sowers, William Shney, James Gentzel, Donald Fetzer, David Jodon and Patrick Gallagher. At the business meeting it was reported that several names which should be on the Milesburg honor roll are missing, but that corrections will be made when called to the attention of club officers. Any person wishing to report corrections or additions to the roll is asked to call Mrs. James Wallace. Persons entering the army from Milesburg are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Wallace so that their names are added. LITTLE NITTANY Francis Dullen of Howard, visited his mother, Mrs. Annie Dullen on Sunday afternoon. William Dolan visited at the same place on Tuesday. Miss Nora Weight of Howard, and Mrs. Martha Clark made a business trip to Bellefonte on Friday afternoon. Willard Harter and son Charles, and Earl Harter made a business trip to Danville on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Laubach and two sons of Jersey Shore, visited the latter's mother, Mrs. Margaret Dullen and family one day last week. We are sorry to note that William Dolan is on the sick list at this writing. We hope for his speedy recovery. 5-Million Dollar Bank. Centralization of banking facilities in one bank building was consummated at Kane when the cash and equipment of the Kane Bank and Trust Company were moved, with police protection, to new quarters in the First National Bank building. The latter bank was voluntarily liquidated and its assets and deposit liabilities purchased by the Kane Bank and Trust Company, which will become a "five million dollar bank." If the Russians manage a few more victories and the Anglo-Americans get underway in North Africa Herr Hitler will become a pacifist.
