Mr. Williams explained the Treasury Department's plans for a special War Bond drive during April and for which Centre county's quota will be vastly larger than any previous quotas. (Highest to date was January's allocation of $232,723 and which was oversold by a total of $5,725.25—sales for the month being $298,449.25).

Mr. Sienciewicz prefaced his remarks with the statement that the government could obtain most of the funds it needs from the banks of the country, but that such action would lead to inflation through the creation of credit.

"The government wants individuals to buy bonds for four main reasons," the speaker said. The reasons are: to promote a personal interest in the government's fiscal policy; to prevent any major shift in the income of the nation; to hold credit expansion to a minimum and thus prevent inflation; and to create a sense of stability.

The keynote of Monday's session was summed up in the expression by one speaker: "We can't buy Victory with loose change." Every income earner, he said, must go "all out" on the purchase of bonds to finance the war, to check inflation, and to ease off the slump which is bound to follow in the post war era.

The War Financing Committee will seek to sell the type of bond most suitable to the individual's needs. Probably the most suitable type for the average income earner is the "E" bond which has been continued in 3-A. The 3-B classification is for a man with dependents engaged in a civilian activity which is necessary to war production or which is supporting the war effort. When a 3-B man comes up for reclassification, he either will be drafted or his employer will have to request his continued deferment.

On April 1, unless regulations are changed, married men, regardless of the number of children, will be classified in 1-A if they are in a non-deferable occupation, board officials said.

The county division of the War Financing Committee is now preparing for the April campaign, and the quota is expected to be announced in the near future.

He was able to return to his work in Harrisburg Monday, although his injuries were still very painful.

World Day of Prayer will be observed in the Methodist church on Friday at 7:30 p. m. The community is invited as this is a nation-wide observance. Jared Evey, who had been very ill for several weeks is able to be about in his room.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Magargel of Washington, D. C. stopped enroute to Geneva, N. Y., where Mr. Magargel has accepted a position with the Shanon Optical Company, for a weekend visit with his brother, George, Jr., and family.

The W. S. C. B. will serve lunch at the Lewis Feltzer farm sale on Thursday, March 18th. Mrs. Russell Spicher was home from Harrisburg for the weekend. Quite a scare was raised in our town last week one day when the barn at the rear of the T. E. Jodon home caught fire and burned almost down. About $1000 worth of lumber had stored there was destroyed and over 500 chicks as well as a number of other things.

Draft Boards Ready To Call Married Men

der Draft Board regulations is any man of the first registration who was married after May 27, 1941. However, childless men under 38 who were married before that date as well as those married afterwards are being re-classified and are being placed in 1-A classification. So far the board has not taken any men married before May 27, 1941.

The next source of men for armed forces in this area is married men with children, of which there are a total of 1619 in non-deferable occupations, Mr. Schreffler said. There are 465 deferable married men with children at this time.

Up to this time 8490 men have registered in the six registrations. In the first registration, the total was 3,286; the second, those who just reached 21, 184; the third, those 36 to 45 and those reaching 21, 1,629; fourth, 45 to 65, 2,523; fifth and sixth, those 18 and 19 and those reaching 21, 868.

Mr. Schreffler explained that the board has been handicapped because the board has not received credit for volunteers who would, normally be included in a month's quota.

State College Board No. 1, is facing a similar condition. Officials said that "unless there is some change announced from Washington, married men with children in non-deferable occupations will be going into the armed services within several months."

Approximately 1290 men in 3-A classification on Board No. 1's list as of March 1, are being placed in three classifications: 1-A, 3-B, or
