roodnight, Bill Brady..." Hello, Bill Brady, 'way out there . . . I guess the mailman must be mad at us because he hasn't brought a letter since the day you went away. And if he doesn't ring the doorbell soon, I think my heart will break.

There isn't much to tell, tonight, except-since all my letters seem to go astray, I've found another way to say 'I love you.'

Last night I joined the Red Cross.

I'm not anybody there. Just one more woman cutting dressings, rolling bandages, packing Red Cross kits-hoping the men we love will never need them, but hoping more that they aren't past the need.

I'll be a Staff Assistant before long, Bill. In a very military uniform. I can hear you chuckle, my darling. I don't mind the extra hours. To me, time isn't measured by the ticking of a clock - it lags or races with the beating of my heart. So time at work is short, because I know that you would have me very busy. I can hear vou say "Chin up, and get on with the job."

Good night, Bill Brady. Out there . . . somewhere.

The Red Cross is shoulder-to-shoulder with our fighting men from training camp to the front lines.

All over the world, wherever it can reach, it is carrying relief supplies, clothing and medicines to war victims.

In this second year of War, the needs increase. You can help with time and money. March is the War Fund month, Give more this year.
