Sarah Ann's Cooking Class

Throughout the nation all persons are being asked to help in the defense of our country. The home-maker can help in many ways to avoid waste; one of the foods most wasted is left-over bread which can be used in many ways.

Orange French Toast
2-3 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1 tablespoon sugar
2 eggs
3-4 teaspoon cinnamon
5 to 6 slices dry bread
Butter

Combine orange juice, rind and sugar. Add cinnamon to the beaten eggs and orange mixture to this. Dip slices of bread into mixture. Melt butter and when hot, brown slice of bread on both sides. Serve hot.

Poppy Seed Cheese Sticks
Cream grated American cheese with butter. Spread lightly on sliced bread and top with a second slice to make a sandwich. Remove crusts and cut sandwich in 4 strips. Spread outside of each strip with cheese and butter mixture. Roll in poppy seeds. Brown in a moderate oven.

Savory Dressing
1 cup dried celery
3 tablespoons minced onion
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 cups day-old bread cubes
2 teaspoons crushed sage leaves
2-4 teaspoon pepper

Boil celery in 1 cup water until tender. Drain. Reserve 1-4 cup of liquid. Cook onion slowly in butter until tender. Mix remaining ingredients. Add celery, liquid, onion mixture. Mix well.

Apple Charlotte
2-3 cup sugar
3 tablespoons water
2 pounds tart apples
1-2 cup seedless raisins
1-4 teaspoon lemon rind
1-4 teaspoon cinnamon
Few grains nutmeg
2 tablespoons marmalade
5 slices fresh bread
1-4 cup melted butter

Combine sugar and water in a saucepan, bring to a boil. Add peeled, cored, sliced apples, raisins, lemon rind and juice to the syrup, cook until apples are tender. Brush bread on both sides with melted butter and cut each slice in 1-inch strips. Line a straight-sided pudding mold with bread strips overlapping. Remove apple mixture from heat, add cinnamon, nutmeg and marmalade. Pour mixture into bread-lined mold and bake 15 minutes in an oven 350 degrees. Serve warm with unsweetened whipped cream.

Angel Bread Pudding
2 cups bread cubes
1/2 cup milk
3 tablespoons butter
1-4 cup sugar
2 eggs
Salt

Cut day-old bread into 1-4-inch cubes, place in a buttered baking dish. Mix the milk, butter and sugar and heat just enough to melt the sugar and butter, stirring all the time. Beat eggs slightly and add the salt, stir into the warm milk. Add vanilla. Pour over the bread crumbs. Set the baking dish into hot water, bake about one hour in an oven 350 degrees.

Sunday School Lesson

PETER AND JOHN
International Sunday School Lesson
For April 4, 1943.

Golden Text: "And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men."—Mark 1: 17.

Lesson Text: John 1: 29-42; Mark 1: 16-20.

With this lesson we begin a study of the life and letters of two of the leading disciples of Jesus, Peter and John. Opposites in temperament and disposition, these two men were nevertheless faithful and loyal disciples. As John the Baptist and his disciples were walking along the road to Jerusalem, suddenly the Baptist stopped and, pointing to a man whom he had perceived quietly walking with the crowd, exclaimed "Behold, the Lamb of God, that taketh away the sin of the world! There is the One of whom I have been telling you, the One who shall be my successor, the One far mightier than I. To make him known to Israel, I came baptizing in water, yet I knew him not as the Messiah until I saw the Spirit descending upon him. He from whom I have my commission had made known to me that the One on whom the Spirit came and abode was the One who would baptize with the Holy Spirit. This I saw, and I bare record that he is the Son of God."

What a magnificent spirit John the Baptist had, what usefulness, to be willing to lead his followers to another leader, knowing that they would forsake him to follow this new one. This he did, however, and willingly believing that it was what he had been sent into the world to do, he went forward to lead his followers to his successor, the One who would baptize with the Holy Spirit. This I saw, and I bare record that he is the Son of God.

On the very next day, Jesus met Philip and summoned him to follow him, and Philip at once sought out Nathaniel (probably Bartholomew), and told him that he had found him, the man of whom Moses said the prophets wrote, Jesus of Nazareth. Nathaniel was incredulous. "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" he asked. Philip didn't argue, he simply said, "Come and see." How much we learn through our own experience, how very little through argument. Nathaniel followed Philip's suggestion, and he will be so if that I am baptized in water, yet I knew him not as the Messiah until I saw the Spirit descending upon him. He from whom I have my commission had made known to me that the One on whom the Spirit came and abode was the One who would baptize with the Holy Spirit. This I saw, and I bare record that he is the Son of God.

Several months later, as Jesus was walking by the Sea of Galilee, he saw Peter and Andrew casting their nets into the sea and he called them and they immediately left their nets and followed him. Evidently the first call was a preliminary one or an acknowledgment of devotion to belief and in acceptance of him as the promised Messiah. Nearby, were two other brothers, James and John, also fishermen. Jesus called unto them and they, likewise, left their nets and followed him.

The greatest day in any one's life should be the day on which he definitely commits himself to Christian discipleship. It is a day of decision, of commitment, is the establishment of a definite personal relationship with Jesus. We take the inspiration and uplift out of the idea of discipleship when we leave out the thought of a personal relationship to him, and think of it merely as joining the church or accepting a creed. That relationship will make demands upon us here for a purpose and we should not be content until we have discovered that purpose and fulfilled it as best we can.

On the next day, John the Baptist pointed out Jesus to two of his disciples. One of the two who followed Jesus to his abode to talk with him, was Peter. He was the first to be named. He was named Peter, and the other was named Andrew, and the other was named John. So immediately was this man Andrew with Jesus that he immediately went out to find his brother and when he found him, he exclaimed: "We have
