Girl Dies After Auto Accident (Continued from page one) the summer in Massachusetts, recently returned to Florida, where she was employed in an office. She is survived by her parents, and by two brothers and a sister; James R. Brown, of Philadelphia; Richard L. Brown, of the U. S. Navy, and now on sea duty, and Mary Louise Brown, at home.

Miss Brown was quite well known in Bellefonte through frequent visits at the home of her maternal grandmother. For a number of years it was her custom to spend part of each summer at the Bricker home on Reynolds avenue.

Widely Known Objects of Art Are Made Here

(Continued from page one) which are commonly used in china decoration still appear in her oil painting and give it a touch which is widely known among connoisseurs. Once or twice when Mrs. Bible became pressed for time, she attempted to enlarge the business to the extent of employing assistants. Her foremost "customers" soon discovered evidences of a new hand in the Bible work, and since then she has relied exclusively on her own efforts.

Mrs. Bible has sold a variety of items through the Gable store in Altoona, Wanamakers in Philadelphia, art shops in Harrisburg, New York Hollidaysburg and many other places. In recent years she has been sending much of her work to the gift shop conducted by her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Blair, in State College.

Blair, incidentally, inherits much of her mother's talent, although her strong forte is in design rather than in painting. As a sideline to her regular decorating, Mrs. Bible has been called upon on a number of occasions to restore and repair antiques. In this line she has handled some priceless articles and her work has stood up under the most severe inspection.

Mrs. Bible, who now is 76 years old, but who appears two decades younger, accompanied her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bradley, from London, England, when she was only 5 years old. The family, which consisted of three girls, came directly to Bellefonte, where Mr. Bradley became a well known builder and contractor.

After their arrival here the Bradleys had three more children, all boys. Of that family Mrs. Bible and two brothers and two sisters survive, namely: Benjamin Bradley, of Bellefonte, who followed his father's footsteps as a contractor and builder; and Robert Bradley, Mary Bradley and Mrs. Nell Riley, all of Bradford.

Mrs. Bible was married 58 years ago to Dr. George P. Bible, who is now 86 years old. Mr. Bible former prominent writer, educator and chautauqua lecturer, has been unable to work for the past ten years because of failing eyesight.

To their union three girls were born: Mrs. Robert S. Walker of Altoona; Mrs. Louis Schad, well known violinist of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Russell Blair, of State College. Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Schad are exceptionally talented as musicians.

Right now Mrs. Bible has a major problem on her hands. Recently a worried customer arrived at the home with a 200-year-old portrait. The portrait shows a young girl sitting before a bench of laurel on which rests a book. One of the girl's hands is on the book. It is her right hand, but the hand is attached to the girl's left arm. All Mrs. Bible has to do is to get the hand straightened out without destroying the ancient appearance of the painting.

Name Woman for Post In Congress (Continued from page one) "I consider it a great honor that I have been asked to become a candidate for the Congress of the United States. The position is one of great trust and responsibility. That my party would consider me for the task is gratifying indeed. I shall be a candidate in November, and if favored by the constituency of the district, I shall leave nothing undone to justify their faith in me."

After considerable discussion, the conference decided to recommend Miss Marsden unanimously for the congressional seat. The motion for her nomination came from Hon. Dan Gingsy, former representative who is now the regional administrator of the Federal government, and after Mr. Gingsy had indicated his intention not to become a candidate.

Miss Marsden will oppose the GOP nominee in November. The successful candidate will serve the portion of the unexpired term of VanZandt. For many years Miss Marsden has been active in party circles. Upon the death of her father, who was Clearfield County Treasurer, she was appointed to the vacancy. At the next election she was given a full term by the voters. Her term expires the first Monday in January 1944, and as County Treasurer, she is not eligible for re-election.

Driver Freed In Death of Child (Continued from page one) and a sister and two other children, when the tragedy occurred. With her were Leonard Tice, 7; Caroline Tice, 9; Yvonne Horner, 7; and Marilyn Horner, 10. All were walking east on the north berm of the new highway, which forms a short cut from Zion to Pleasant Gap, when Mary suddenly darted into the road in the path of the truck, which was traveling west. Her companions said they do not know why she ran from them and they called to her to come back the spot where the accident occurred is near the Tice farm, and about 200 yards from the intersection with the old Route 220 through Nittany Valley.

Corp. Grant E. Shannon of the State Police at Pleasant Gap found the child's body lying in the middle of the highway, with both shoes gone. The little girl was born at Unionville. Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Tice, and the following brothers and sisters: Clark, Harry, George, Leonard, Dora, Lillian, Caroline, Thresa and Beverly, all at home. Her two grandmothers also survive.

Funeral services were conducted at the Tice home Saturday morning.

DEGREES CONFERRED ON UNION GRANGE MEMBERS

At a regular meeting of Union Grange No. 225, held Friday night, the third and fourth degree were conferred on a small class of candidates. The degree work was ably given by the young degree team of Half Moon Grange. Visitors were present from Loagn Grange and Half Moon Grange.

Butter Jumped To 16 Points

(Continued from page one) signed to encourage use of plentiful commodities by low point values and discourages sales of scarce items with high values. Farm butter, or home-made butter, which amounts to a very small percentage of butter sales, was increased from 6 to 16 points, but the OPA said this reflects the normal decline in production at this time of the year.

A single change in the ration cost of fruit juices—a boost of three points for grape juice—was said to be due to diversion of a large part of grape production into jams, jellies and preserves. Meat values will remain essentially unchanged, with the exception of one to two-point increases for eight commodities they will need, and in pork cuts, due to much larger government requirements during October. The OPA said the overall meat supply is expected to improve in October, but civilians will get little benefit since most of the increase will be absorbed by the Army, Lend-Lease, etc.

Meat items not requiring ration points after Oct. 3 are: Pigs feet (bone in); beef brains, kidneys, ox-tails and tongues; veal brains and kidneys; lamb or mutton brains and kidneys; and pork brains, chitterlings, ears, kidneys, tails and snouts. Canned brains and canned pigs feet also will be taken off the ration list next Sunday.
