—Effective November 1, the air-mail pickup station for the Bellefonte area will be moved from its present location on the Jacksonville road, about a mile east of Bellefonte, to the Bellefonte Municipal Airport, it was announced yesterday.
—Reason for the change is that a great increase in air express shipments from Bellefonte frequently makes it necessary for planes to land to take on such shipments.
—When the change is in effect, planes will pick up mail and light express parcels without landing. When there are heavy parcels, landing instructions will be given by the pilot through two-way radio communication between plane and express truck, it was explained.
—A slight change in the air pickup schedule will go into effect November 1, it was said.
