DR. WALTER S. STEWART
Dr. Walter Shaw Stewart, prominent surgeon and physician of northeastern Pennsylvania, died at 2 a. m. Saturday, October 23, 1943, at his home in Wilkes-Barre, following a long illness. Dr. Stewart was born at Pine Glen over 80 years ago, a son of Dr. Miller and Patsy Shaw Stewart. After completing medical studies at the University of Pennsylvania he located in Wilkes-Barre where he became a leader in his profession and in civic affairs of that city. One of a large family, Dr. Stewart never married. His only survivor is a sister, Mrs. Margaret Stewart of Bellefonte, who has been with her brother for the past four years. The Wilkes-Barre physician was the founder and first president of the first health center in Pennsylvania. He headed the institution at the time of his death. When the center was founded it was understood to be the largest in the nation and attracted national attention. Many of the nation's prominent physicians were members of the staff. The late Dr. Stewart's father, also a physician, located in Pine Glen when a young man and became the owner of large lumber tracts in that area. Funeral services were held at Wilkes-Barre where interment took place.

New Baking Methods To Be Shown Here

Bellefonte Health for Victory Club members will meet November 3 at 8 p. m. at the high school auditorium to enroll in the U. S. Food Administration's "Food Fights for Freedom" crusade and learn new methods of making cakes, pies and cookies to conserve rationed ingredients needed for the war.

Miss Janet Soisson, home economist for The Penn Power Co., said the entire Health for Victory membership will be asked to take the following pledge:

"I hereby promise to use food as a precious weapon to help shorten the war, and to save American lives. I will faithfully make food fight for freedom by producing, conserving, sharing and playing square with food to the limit of my ability. The housewives will be given recipes that call for corn syrup, molasses or honey in place of sugar; drippings, poultry fats and suet as alternates for butter, lard and vegetable fats, and the economical use of milk and eggs.

"The wartime cakes and pastries we will talk about at the next Health for Victory meeting," Miss Soisson explained, "are satisfying to the taste and a lot more satisfying from a nutritional standpoint than many of our pre-war cakes and pastries.

"But best of all, they conserve precious ingredients now required for war purposes and at the same time add a tasty climax to meals." Another feature of the meeting will be a discussion of six steps important to baking good cakes: (1) Use tried and tested recipes. (2) Use good ingredients. (3) Measure ingredients accurately. (4) Mix carefully. (5) Bake correctly. (6) Use proper care after baking cake.

Nursing Activities Committee Meets

Last Thursday afternoon the Nursing Activities Committee of the Bellefonte Chapter Red Cross, met in the nursing headquarters in Petrikita Hall. Miss Rimmer, chapter nurse, gave the following report:

Total number of visits for the month 103; weighed, inspected and measured the pupils of the 4th class schools of Spring township; held medical inspection of the 1st, 4th and 8th grades of Spring township; held a clinic at Pleasant Gap and 31 children were given toxoid, which completed the immunization for diphtheria which was started May of this year; Howard Health Club paid for the examination and glasses for school child.

Visitors for the month to the local chapter were Miss Vroomo, American Red Cross Field Nursing consultant, and Mrs. Krebs and Mrs. Calahan, Red Cross Nurses from the State College chapter.

The State College Field Army furnished Miss Rimmer with 10 dozen large pads for use of the local chapter. The ladies aid of the Reformed church made 44 large pads for the chapter use, and a committee of the same organization spent Wednesday afternoon at the Red Cross rooms mending. The committee consisted of Mrs. Harry Badger, Mrs. C. Y. Wagner, Mrs. Dave Washburn, Miss Carolyn Harper and Mrs. Harold Kirk.

I. O. O. F. OFFICIAL VISITOR HERE

Local Lodge May Be Host to Grand Encampment Next Year

Members of Bellefonte Encampment, No. 72, I. O. O. F. of Bellefonte, were visited Monday night by Roger W. Haas, of Meadville, who was installed the latter part of last week at Grand Encampment sessions in Harrisburg. He made his first official visit to any lodge last night.

Among business discussed at the meeting was the possibility of holding the annual Grand Encampment in Bellefonte next year. The last time the event was held in Bellefonte was in 1904. Members of the Bellefonte lodge expressed the hope that they might celebrate the 40th anniversary of that encampment by holding another in Bellefonte.

With the grand patriarch was Harris W. Trank, grand marshal. District Deputy Grand Patriarch Victory Auman of Centre Hall, spoke briefly as did the following past district deputy grand patriarchs: John Shope, State College; Guy Bitner, Spring Mills; Girard Altenderfer, Howard; Willis Wion, Bellefonte.

Merchants Sign Pledge To Prevent Inflation

Scores of merchants in the Bellefonte area have endorsed the OPA campaign to prevent inflation and increased living costs by signing a pledge that they will charge no more than top legal prices and that they will sell no rationed goods without collecting ration stamps. It was reported yesterday by J. Mac Curtin, chairman of the local price panel.

Merchants signing such pledges are given posters for display in their store or business place. Meanwhile the Home Front Pledge campaign is being continued through distribution of pledges among residents of this area. The aim of the program is to have every housewife make a pledge to pay no more than top legal prices for any commodity, and to accept no rationed goods without giving up ration stamps.

Let's Show RUDY We Believe in Him!

We Centre Countians, Tuesday, have a chance to express our approval, or our lack of confidence, in a man who with almost superhuman patience and resourcefulness has learned to overcome the loss of both hands and most of both arms.

We have a chance to tell Rudy in a substantial way that we admire his fortitude in remaining a self-supporting citizen in spite of a most awesome handicap. We can tell him that we're proud of him, of his ability to maintain a family of five persons in addition to himself.

RUDY NEEDS THE JOB:
Shoveling coal, driving a truck, and similar work is hard labor for any man. To a man in Rudy's condition such work is tremendously more difficult. Does anyone think conducting the Sheriff's duties would be more difficult than that?

RUDY DESERVES THE JOB:
He is honest, intelligent. He has proved himself a deserving citizen.

RUDY CAN DO THE JOB:
He has the strength of body and mind. A man who, without hands, can write, drive a truck, repair a flat tire without help, hunt, do carpenter work, fish, and perform many of the acts which are commonplace to the average man, but which are the result of many hours of study by Rudy, surely would be able to find some way of performing any task he might be called upon to perform in the Sheriff's office.
