Each Class to be kept separate

- 1. Poplar, Bass, Linn, Cucumber, Quaking Asp and Willow.
- 2. Maple, Beech, Birch, Cherry, Gum, Butternut, Buttonwood, Elm and Ash.
- 3. Yellow Pine and Jack Pine.
- 4. White Oak, Red Oak and Rock

SPECIFICATIONS

- All wood shall be sawn at both ends, full 52 inches long. All wood shall be prepared from live, sound trees.
- All wood shall be round, with a minimum diameter of six inches, and a maximum diameter of twelve inches outside the bark.
- All wood shall be straight, limbs and knots trimmed close, and free from crooks and forks.
- All wood shall be sound and free from burned or charred portions, rot, defective hearts and all other de-
- All wood for rail delivery shall be at least partially seasoned before shipment.

PULPWOOD IS URGENTLY NEEDED FOR WAR USES

Here is an opportunity to make that wood lot produce and to be well repaid for you winter's work.

FOR A CONTRACT

Write to us giving the following information:

- 1. Number of Cords by Classes you expect to produce.
- 2. Township and County where wood will be cut.
- 3. Shipping Point and Railroad.
- 4. If truck delivery is more advantageous to you than rail shipment, give the number of miles by the shortest available highway route to Lock Haven. If the distance is greater than 25 miles, we will quote additional allowance.
- 5. Name and address.

If you have only a few cords, team up with a neighbor to fill a car. Inquiries solicited from local organizations which may sponsor the current campaign:

WOMEN WORE THE HELMETS

15 Years ago -

They were made of felt, of course, not steel. Styles were different then, with indelible lipstick and zippers newly invented. Janet Gaynor was the bright new star of the silent screen, and Helen Wills was queen of the tennis courts.

Fifteen years — and lots of changes! You can't remember them all. Here's one you probably didn't know was happening: During those fifteen years electric rates were coming down and down. Maybe you haven't kept track of those reductions because all the time you were adding new appliances - and enjoying more electricity - to make living easier. But it's a fact that today the average American home gets about twice as much electricity for its money as it did then!

You've helped make that electricity a bargain because, by using more, you've made economies possible. But the men and women of your electric company — under experienced business management — are also responsible. By their efficiency and dependability they've made it possible for you to get friendly service, cheap!
