Prominent Mill Hall Man Dies

Former Councilman Victim of Illness Following Strokes

George S. Moore, 77, former Mill Hall councilman, business man and prominent in church work, died on Tuesday night, Feb. 1, at his home, following an illness of a year which resulted from a series of strokes.

Mr. Moore was born in Lock Haven but had spent practically his entire lifetime in Mill Hall where he was actively identified with business, civic and church affairs.

For some years he was a partner of O. B. Hills in the lumber and coal business there and he served several years on the Mill Hall borough council. For the past 30 years he was a trustee and elder of the Presbyterian church.

Had he lived until February 3 he would have been 78. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Miriam Moore Parfick, at home; one brother and two sisters; Samuel H. Moore, of Andover, Ohio; Mrs. Sadie Harer, of Tampa, Fla.; and Mrs. Tillie Mitchell, of Williamsport.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the residence in Mill Hall by the Rev. Carl C. Gray. Interment was made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

Airplane Crash Proves Fatal to Sgt. James Fauth, Formerly of Philipsburg

Youth's Family, Now Residents of Altoona, Formerly Lived in Centre County; Attended Philipsburg Schools

Sergeant James Edward Fauth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Enal Fauth, 1402 Seventh avenue, Altoona, former well known residents of Philipsburg, was killed in an airplane crash last Thursday, February 3, about seven miles from shore east of Miami, Florida.

He saw service in the Caribbean area. Sgt. Fauth was born May 16, 1926. He was a member of the Methodist church. Besides his parents he is survived by a sister, Private Betty Jane Fauth, of the U. S. Marine Corps, wife of Glenn Sharpless, of Sandy Ridge, also in the service stationed at Washington, D. C.

While home on furlough about the first of the year, Jimmie was seen in Philipsburg greeting many acquaintances.

"Deeply regret to inform you that your son, James E. Fauth, died in an airplane crash about 2:15 p. m. Feb. 3, approximately seven miles off shore east of Miami, Fla. Plane immediately sank in water 700 feet deep. Extensive search by boats and planes at spot found no trace of personnel. Diving operations impossible due to depth of water. Search continuing but no hope for recovery can be held out. James did not suffer pain as death was instantaneous. He was a passenger on the plane. Pilot and passengers also killed. Memorial services will be held at this station at 10 o'clock Sunday, Feb. 6. Sympathy of entire nation is extended to you in your great loss. Letter follows."

Sergeant Fauth, while a resident of Philipsburg will be remembered especially by football fans for his participation in the sport in his junior year in the local high school.

Moving back to Altoona in 1942, he joined the Marines before completing his senior year. He entered service in January, 1943. After his boot training at Parris Island, S. C., he was transferred to Jacksonville, Fla., where he was advanced to a corporal.

On Dec. 6, 1943, he was promoted to a sergeant and rated as an aviation machinist and aerial gunner at the Fort Lauderdale base.

A survey recently made in the Middle West reports that 75 per cent of the plant managers reported that they considered home-freezer units assets to locker plant operation.

Forty-four of the managers considered home-freezer units direct competitors and 46 did not answer the question.

Of these plant managers, all but five reported that they either had expanded facilities during the past year or that they were planning to do so in the near future.

The sergeant is accused of killing Kathleen Ann Geist, a 3-year-old girl, by striking her with a brick.

The couple will live in Castanea after a brief trip. The bride, an employee of the Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., attended the Castanea school. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Mill Hall High School and is employed in the Renovo shops of the P. R. R.

Beautiful seed catalogs already are reminding everyone of last year's garden. Family food supplies are of prime importance during war, and time remains for anyone to improve his gardening technique before the growing season starts, says W. R. White, professor in charge of Agricultural Correspondence Courses at the Pennsylvania State College.

Course No. 83, Home Vegetable Gardening, covers comprehensively such subjects as soil preparation and fertilization, selection of seed, and control of common plant insects and diseases. From its seven lessons which have been carefully prepared by J. M. Huntington, extension vegetable gardening specialist, the most up-to-date methods of vegetable growing under Pennsylvania conditions may be learned.

No charge is made for enrolling in this course or for any of 47 others which are listed in the Agricultural Correspondence Course catalog. Application cards may be obtained from Mr. White. After taking Home Vegetable Gardening, many persons, particularly women, take course No. 81 on Canning and Preserving.

Poultry Keeping always has been the most popular course, but much interest now is being expressed in the care of milk goats and rabbits.

The following persons were chosen: president, Mrs. Howard Spear; vice president, Miss Rose Haupt; recording secretary, Mrs. Clarence Pardee; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Amber Felzer; treasurer, Miss Edna McCullough; secretary of missions, Mrs. John Sholly; secretary of local church activities, Mrs. Samuel Stanley; secretary of student work, Miss Grace Schenck; secretary of young women, Miss Bernadine Spear; secretary of supplies, Mrs. Frank Baird; secretary of literature, Miss Hannah Schroyer; secretary of publications, Mrs. Vernal Miles and Mrs. Harry West, Jr.; secretary of spiritual life, Mrs. Edith Mann; membership at large, Mrs. Helen Miller, Mrs. Edith Oswald, and Mrs. Carrie Jodon; status of women, Mrs. Mina Weaver.

The installation service was held Sunday evening, January 30, during the regular service with the Rev. Sowers presiding.

The next regular meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, February 8, at the home of Mrs. Blanche Jones. The women of the church are urged to attend.

A fruit growing short course will be given at the Pennsylvania State College, February 1 to 11, announces A. L. Beam, director of agricultural short courses. The course is planned to help orchard owners, foreman, and crew bosses meet more successfully the problems they face in the war period.

Ralph C. Blaney, Centre county agricultural extension representative of the Pennsylvania State College, was elected a director of the National Association of County Agricultural Agents at the recent 28th annual convention in Chicago.

Charles G. Mack, 65, a member of the Lock Haven Police Department, died Friday in the Private Hospital. He is survived by his wife, two sons, one a warrant officer in England, a brother and a sister. Services were held Tuesday at the residence.

Wallace Seyler Is Fatally Injured

Former Clinton County Man Dies in Accident at Detroit

Wallace Seyler, 38, son of Mrs. Aaron Seyler of Bethel Creek, was fatally injured in an automobile accident on Sunday, Feb. 6, at Detroit when a speeding car driven by Earl K. Gullen, 51, struck the rear of the Seyler automobile. Mr. Seyler died a short time after the accident.

Detroit police report that Gullen had been involved in two previous accidents in Detroit in which several cars were sideswiped and that he was speeding away from Irate motorists when he crashed into the car which struck the Seyler car.

A former resident of Lock Haven, Mr. Seyler left that city about 30 years ago. His last visit to Clinton county was in May when he came for the funeral of his father, the late Aaron Seyler.

He is survived by his wife, the former Josie Shilling of Lock Haven, and a son and a daughter; also a brother, Grover Seyler, of Mill Hall, and a sister, Mrs. Wilson Burrell, of Flemington.

Some insurance was carried, but it is estimated it will not cover one-third of the loss.

State Democrats Have Shaped Primary Ballot

Pennsylvania Democratic chiefs have virtually agreed on a slate of primary candidates topped by Congressman Francis J. Myers of Philadelphia for the United States Senate.

Myers, twice a congressman and former deputy state attorney general, would head the organization ticket for the seat now held by Republican James J. Davis, who is expected to seek re-election. Other candidates virtually agreed upon were:

State Supreme Court—U. S. Circuit Judge Charles Alvin Jones.

Superior Court—Judge Chester H. Rhodes and Auditor General P. Clair Ross.

State Treasurer—Ramsey S. Black.

Auditor General—State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner.

25 Head of Cattle Lost in Barn Fire

Farmer Succeeds in Rescuing 18 of His Herd of 43

Fire which burned the barn on the Wendell Turner farm at Graham Station, 11 1/2 miles north-west of Philipsburg, Wednesday morning of last week, caused the loss of 25 head of cattle.

The fire is said to have started from the tractor back-firing.

Mr. Turner rescued 18 of his 43 head of stock from the barn, but by that time the flames completely filled the structure and it was impossible to reach the remaining 25 cows. The cattle bawled in agony as the flames reached them and although firemen from Philipsburg had responded to the alarm at 7:50 o'clock and were there by that time the fire spread so quickly and raged so hard that nothing could be done to save the barn. Mr. Turner's face was blistered in rescuing the cows.

The destroyed barn was described as being exceptionally large. It was well filled with hay, straw, grain, feed, and housed a tractor and other farm equipment.

Some insurance was carried, but it is estimated it will not cover one-third of the loss.

Blanchard Soldier Missing in Action

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Shilling Advised of Son's Death in Italy

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice D. Shilling of Blanchard received word last week from the War Department that their son, Pvt. David M. Shilling, was missing in action. The message was delivered by a representative of the Bellefonte Chapter of the Red Cross.

Pvt. Shilling was serving in Co. G, 168th Infantry in Italy and has been overseas for some time. He was an operator of motorized equipment.

Home Freezing Units Considered Assets

Home freezing units are not necessarily competitors of freezer-locker plants, in the opinion of John E. Nicholas, professor of agricultural engineering at the Pennsylvania State College.

A survey recently made in the Middle West reports that 75 per cent of the plant managers reported that they considered home-freezer units assets to locker plant operation.

Forty-four of the managers considered home-freezer units direct competitors and 46 did not answer the question.
