Weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Custer were: Mr. and Mrs. William Lucas, of Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Laws Lucas and daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hanford, and Mrs. O. A. Shirey, of near Williamsport; Mrs. Eward Adams, of Edgewood, Pa.; Mrs. Edna Spotts, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lucas and Mrs. Roy Spotts and two children, Freddie and Janice, of Union township; Mrs. Edwin Brautigam and four children of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Brautigam is a daughter of Mrs. Edna Spotts of Union township.

Mrs. D. H. Custer attended a very pretty wedding last Thursday afternoon in the Central Baptist church of Williamsport, when her niece, Miss Velda Lucas became the bride of Charles Hanford, a member of the armed forces and stationed at Miami, Florida. The ceremony was performed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon before a gathering of the immediate families.

Members and friends of the Free Methodist church are attending their annual camp meeting, this week which is being held at the Holiness camp grounds below Howard. Camp opened on Wednesday of this week and will continue over two weekends, during which time there will be no services in the Free Methodist church here with the exception of Sunday school each Sunday morning.

A number of friends and relatives of the Kreps family enjoyed the Fourth of July holiday at the Kreps homestead across the creek. Mrs. Hazel Barton has been ill for the past several weeks and confined to her home, in bed part of the time. Her many friends and neighbors hope for her a most speedy recovery to health.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Parsons and daughter, Phyllis, motored to Chester, last Thursday where they spent a couple days with his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lanier. Their daughter, Margaret, who is employed in New York, met them there and came on home for a short vacation with them.

T. B. McClellan of Altoona, spent Sunday with his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones of this place.

A $55 mattress given by a furniture store was sold for $50; a cut glass bowl brought $180; an antique pitcher was knocked down at $100. One customer paid $180 for a blanket and $210 for a raincoat. A box of cigars commanded spirited bidding and was sold at $105.

A part-wool blanket, new, went for $375, and a dress was sold for $200. A Wo-lich jacket, given by a local merchant, was bid up to $500, and a Premium ham, donated by a Milesburg businessman, sold for $500. A new coffee table, given by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was sold for $650.

Motor oils commanded fancy prices. One ten-gallon lot went for $100, and late in the sale a 5-gallon lot brought $200.

At the clerk's table, where purchasers bought Bonds and stamps, were Marked K. Robb and Fred Witmer, of the Bellefonte Trust Company; and Postmaster Ebon Bower and Assistant Postmaster J. Millard Hartwick, who furnished stamps and otherwise aided with the sale. Girl Scouts and members of the woman's division committee aided in bringing articles from stores in the former Diamond Restaurant room to the auction block.

All the aides worked as volunteers and served without recompense. Members of the committee yesterday attributed a large share of the success of the sale to Auctioneer Mayes, who in his inimitable manner kept things moving swiftly, plugged War Bonds at every opportunity, and kept bidders in a liberal frame of mind. His task was particularly difficult, Robb and Witmer cried another sale earlier in the day and Saturday was one of the hottest days of the year.

$16,000 Sales at War Bond Auction

Cecil A. Walker announcing the terms, and introducing L. Frank Mayes, Lemont auctioneer, who was in charge from that time on. Bidding was slow in the early minutes of the sale, but as the thousands of more spectators became familiar with the procedure, bidding grew spirited and prices skyrocketed.

Of the more than 75 articles contributed by local merchants and individuals, the highest price was paid for a chair and ottoman given by a local merchant. The set brought $2,300.

A fair indication of the way prices rose is given in the prices paid for Bonds and Stamps placed on the auction block. The first $25 War Bond was sold for $350. The second brought $600. Then $5.00 in War Stamps went for $100. Soon afterwards a $10 block of stamps was knocked down for $425. Later a $25 Bond brought $800, and as the sale neared its end a $25 Bond was sold for $1,000. The next item offered was another $25 Bond. It brought $1,050.

Large Dairy Barn Is Razed by Fire

all the livestock from the building, including a large and vicious Holstein Association bull which was kept in a special pen.

The bull was maneuvered a short distance away to a neighboring farm where it was penned up, but in a few moments it broke out of that building and again had to be captured.

The Millheim Fire Company was called to the scene and firemen are credited with having saved the silo, poultry house and garage. The roof of the silo was badly damaged but the remainder of the structure was saved.

When all the water in the fire apparatus booster tank was exhausted, firemen found it necessary to drive in to Rebersburg to fill the tanks, since there was no other adequate supply. While they were gone, heat caused the garage to scorch badly and just as it was about to burst into flame, a neighboring farmer arrived with a load of milk cans filled with water. The water was used to drench the garage until Millheim firemen returned with filled tanks.

Included in the loss, in addition to the buildings, are a large quantity of hay, milk cooler, milking machine, hammermill, manure spreader and the barn dairy equipment, including stanchions, litter carriers, and the like. The barn recently had been remodeled, roofed and modernized throughout.

No decision has been reached on whether the structure will be rebuilt.
