...and I often think of Elm Street" "I'm a long way from home out here, and when I'm alone at night, Dad, I often think of Elm Street with its big trees, its neat houses, the bells on a quiet Sunday morning—and all of us coming in town for church. It's the peace and freedom and decency of it all that gets under my skin—and it makes me a bit homesick now and then. "There's nothing like Elm Street over here—and never will be till these folks change their system. "The trouble lies with the men who rule—and with the people who let them get away with it. "Over here the wrong men have been running things too long. They have been crazy with power. They gradually took over more and more, and when the people finally woke up—it was too late. These folks can't throw out their officials the way we can. They have to have a war to get rid of their so-called 'new order.' "Thank God we can still put the men we want into office—and throw them out again—with ballots instead of bullets. "This mess is a fine example of what dictatorship and regimentation can do when they really get going. And talk about bureaucrats—you ought to see what the ones over here are doing to farmers. You can't do anything on your own. You just take orders—and like it. Buy War Bonds and Stamps—and Keep Them!
