Pfc. Harry Rhoads 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rhoads of Orviston, was killed in action in France July 28. It was revealed in a War Department telegram received last Thursday by his parents.

The Orviston soldier, who was serving with an infantry unit, was called for service in April 1943. From New Cumberland he was sent to Camp Robinson, Ark., and later to Ft. Meade, Md. He left for overseas duty about two months ago.

Pfc. Rhoads, who attended the Orviston schools, was employed at the General Refractories brick plant at Orviston at the time of entering service.

In addition to his parents, one brother, Cpl. Lester Rhoads, also in the Army, and two sisters, Mrs. Melvin McGloskey and Mrs. Robert Shearer, both of Orviston, survive.

Cpl. Steve E. Jozefick

Cpl. Jozefick, 22, son of Mrs. Helen B. Jozefick of Clarence, was killed in action in the South Pacific "in performance of his duty and service to his country."

Cpl. Jozefick, a member of the U. S. Marines, had written his widowed mother July 20, at which time he told her he was well and was concerned as to whether she was receiving the $30 allotment he had instructed to be sent her monthly.

The Clarence man enlisted in the Marines September 23, 1942, and after training at Parris Island, N. C., and New River, S. C., was sent to San Diego, Cal. After training as a cook's assistant, he was sent overseas in December of the same year.

The county soldier was called for service May 16, 1942, and after training at Camp Polk, La., was sent to California, and then back to Camp Polk for advanced training. After a short stay at Ft. Dix, N. J., he was sent overseas in October of last year.

Pfc. Charnick attended the Clarence schools and before entering service was employed as a miner

More Comfort Wearing FALSE TEETH

Here is a pleasant way to overcome loose plate discomfort. PASTEETH, an improved powder, sprinkled on upper and lower plates holds them firmly so that they feel more comfortable. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get PASTEETH today at any drug store.

and for a time worked as a truck driver in Lock Haven.

In addition to his mother, surviving brothers and sisters are: Frank and Andy, both of Clarence; Walter, in the U. S. Army, stationed in Georgia; Michael, also in the Army, now believed to be in France, and Mrs. Anna Serwinsky, of Lock Haven. His father, Joseph Charnick, died April 17, 1937.

Cpl. Joseph Ciprish

Cpl. Ciprish, 30, son of Simon Ciprish of Clarence, was killed in action in France on July 4, according to the War Department.

Cpl. Ciprish, who was with the medical corps, wrote to a cousin in Clarence July 8, and it is believed to have been his last letter written to county relatives. He spent his last furlough at home just a year ago.

Cpl. Ciprish was called for service during the summer of 1942 and trained in Massachusetts and other states before being sent to Ft. Dix, N. J., from where he was sent overseas early this year.

In addition to his father, these brothers and sisters also survive: Mark, Mrs. Frank Gomola, and Mrs. Walter Swanner, all of Clarence; Steve, living in California; Mrs. Anna Monara, of New York City, and John, also in the U. S. Army.
