Want to make this a 5 minute job?

Just five minutes... that's all it takes an electric dishwasher to do a heavy dinner's dishes... and that includes glasses, silverware and all... and someday after the war, when the electric dishwasher is available again, you'll beam lovingly at the sparkling dishes and glasses as you take them out all washed, rinsed and dry... ready to put on the shelves.

There's no work or fuss on your part. Just a flip of a switch and the dishes are washed and rinsed hygienically clean in water hotter than hands can stand. They dry quickly in their own heat.

Today, smart housewives are buying War Bonds, with some very special ideas for their tomorrow's homes buzzing happily in their heads. They're thinking about that day after the war when time and energy-saving electric home appliances will be obtainable again. The electric dishwasher is one labor-saving appliance they've really got their hearts "set on".
