FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

P. R. R. Machinist Killed Under Wheels of Engine Near Altoona Station

Frank X. Ziegler, 63, Meets Instant Death When Struck by Train and Hurled Beneath the Wheels

Frank X. Ziegler, 63, a machinist at the Altoona passenger station for the P. R. R., was instantly killed last Wednesday afternoon when he was struck by a train, hurled against a wall and then thrown under the engine with it and a car passing over his body, at Fourteenth streets, as the train was pulling into the passenger station.

J. T. Ammerman, car inspector, who was about 200 feet from the accident, was looking at Mr. Ziegler as the train approached.

The man threw his hands above his head as though to ward off the blow of the oncoming engine, was hurled backward in a spinning motion and hit the retaining wall, then was apparently dragged under the engine, which passed over his body as did the mail car of the train.

Mr. Ziegler was a large man and there apparently was not enough room for him to proceed between the width of the engine and the wall. A mark on the retaining wall showed signs that the man was hurled against it with such force that an object he was carrying made a dent in the wall.

Mr. Ziegler is survived by six sons and daughters. His wife, Rose (Klem) Ziegler, died November 19, 1936.

He was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic church, the Fraternal Order of Eagles, and the Brotherhood of Shop Crafts, C. B. L.

HOLD-UP PAIR GET LONG PRISON TERMS

Men Who Robbed George W. Hartsock Given 3 to 10 Years

Two men who held up and robbed a retired railroader, and indirectly contributed to his death from a heart attack, were sentenced in Clinton county court at Lock Haven Friday morning to prison terms for at least three years.

Clarence F. Dippold, 21, of St. Marys, and William R. Smith, 28, of Johnsonburg, pleading guilty to robbery, were each ordered to pay a fine of $1, the costs of prosecution and to undergo imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for three to ten years. The two admitted holding up George W. Hartsock, middle-aged Sinnemahoning man, above Renovo, October 26, as a result of which Mr. Hartsock died within an hour of a heart attack. Dippold's term is dated from Oct. 31, while Smith must serve from Nov. 6, the dates of their admission to the county jail.

Smith had gone to work that day, according to his statement to the court, but had quit and joined Dippold. Together they set out drinking and driving around the country. Dippold has a criminal record which includes prosecution for breaking and entering and burglary. Smith has no record.

Bridegroom Dies Celebrating Wedding

John Payne, 47, of Warren, Ohio, died early Wednesday morning at DuBois while celebrating his wedding.

Payne, a former resident of DuBois, was married last Saturday and he and his bride came back to DuBois to celebrate with his people. They were attending a dance at a club when he sat down beside his sister, coughed once, and was dead.

Dr. Erhard stated death was due to a heart attack. He had been previously married, his first wife having died several years ago. For the past few years, he had been operating a crane in a Bradford mill.

Scout Leaders Attend Meeting

strong appeal for more volunteer leaders to aid in the expanding program which it is expected the return of ex-servicemen will make necessary in many areas.

Following Mr. Power's address a short business meeting was held in which the retiring chairman stressed the need for cooperation in developing an effective Scout program in the Howard and East Penn's Valley districts. E. Keith Anderson, of Bellefonte, who was elected chairman for the ensuing year, expressed his gratitude for the honor conferred upon him and requested that all Scouts and Scouters join him in carrying on the great work of the Muncy District.

Robert G. McDonald of Bellefonte, was named vice chairman, and the following were chosen as members-at-large: W. W. Sieg and Thomas Beaver, of Bellefonte, and Ray C. Noll, of Pleasant Gap. Mr. Tucker, whose excellent work during the past year was the subject of much favorable comment, was chosen to fill the key position of District Commissioner.

WOMAN TO FACE CHARGE OF MURDER

Mrs. Olive Westover, of Altoona, Held For Fatally Beating Man

Following a hearing before Alderman Stevens in Altoona on Friday, Mrs. Olive Westover was remanded to the Blair county jail to await trial on charges of first and second degree murder and aggravated assault with intent to kill, in the case of Herbert A. Weidel, a shop foreman, who died November 10 of a fractured skull which he was alleged to have suffered when his head was knocked against the cement wall of the Brown Derby on September 23.

William D. Westover, her son, who had been charged with being an accomplice in the assault, was discharged at the hearing. Mrs. Westover will stand trial in January.

Several witnesses at the hearing testified to witnessing the fracas in which Mrs. Westover is alleged to have grabbed Weidel's clothing about the chest and bounced him back and forth against the cement block on the Fourth street side of the Brown Derby building.

300 PHOTOS IN VFW OVERSEAS HONOR ROLL

An overseas honor roll begun about six months ago now contains more than 300 pictures, it was announced this week by John Garis and William Weir, who are in charge of the work for the Bellefonte V. F. W. The photos are posted in the lobby of the V. F. W. home.

Members of the organization make an appeal to all Centre county families to send in pictures of men and women now serving overseas or who have returned home after serving in some foreign country.

Any size picture will serve the purpose as it will be made to the size of pictures corresponding with others on the roll. All pictures will be carefully handled and will be returned to the sender, who is asked to write address plainly on the back of the picture sent in, it was said.

NO FURTHER PRACTICE BLACKOUTS TO BE HELD

No practice blackouts until further notice are planned in this area, according to an announcement by Maj. Gen. Philip Hayes, commanding officer of the Third Service Command at Baltimore.

General Hayes indicated the Army has decided that air raid protection regulations shall be continued until the final outcome in the European theatre is in sight. The regulations themselves will not be rescinded until it can be more definitely determined that it will not be necessary to reinstitute them, he said.

Man Severely Burned When Powder Ignites

George Hartshorn, 60, of Philipsburg, was badly burned in an accident at his mine last Thursday.

He was taken to the Philipsburg state hospital where his condition is listed as serious.

He was said to be sharpening a chisel in the mine shanty when a spark ignited some powder and caused a can of powder to catch and burn. The flash fire caused severe burns on the victim and the shanty was burned to the ground.

HITLER'S GANG COMING TO BELLEFONTE

One by one, crime by crime, lie by lie . . . you'll see the entire gang in the movie "The Hitler Gang," which comes to the State Theatre, Bellefonte, Monday thru Wednesday of next week, November 27 to 29. The role of Adolh Hitler is realistically portrayed by Robert Watson, in what is hailed as the most daring, hateful true story ever told.

COMPLAINT:

A reader asks us to "ride the range" on landlords who refuse to rent their properties to wives of service men. It might be a good idea except that we haven't been able to find any landlords hereabouts who have anything vacant to rent to anybody.

COMFORT NOTE:

Many persons forced to remain in bed because of illness, suffer from severe pains in the small of the back. It does not seem to be generally known that a pillow under the hips often effects a complete and miraculous cure. (Linotype operator's note: One more crack about that operation and I'll go on strike!)

CIGARETTES:

We wouldn't be a bit surprised if the current nationwide agitation about the shortage of cigarettes eventually is found to be caused by chiselers. The best punishment we could think of if such proves to be the case, is to turn such persons over to a committee of guys who've been forced to roll their own or smoke brands which ordinarily they wouldn't honor by throwing at the cat.

EASY MONEY:

The Chamber of Commerce reports that as of November 15, a total of $1,943,018.61 was deposited in savings accounts in the three Bellefonte banks. If you own a part of those deposits you can earn money for yourself by converting it into War Bonds. The interest rate on War Bonds is nearly three times more than your money draws in a savings account. Then, too, you'll be helping to win the war.

SAD TALE:

The saddest hunting story we've heard this season is told about Harold G. Duck, of Bellefonte. One day recently Mr. Duck was in the woods watching for turkeys. A chill wind was blowing and he built a small fire. Crouched over the blaze he was engaged in a moody contemplation about the scarcity of turkeys when he discovered one of his stockings had caught fire where it extended above his hunting boots. He vigorously slapped out the fire with his hands and at the same instant heard a noise a few yards in front of him. A flock of turkeys, which had been feeding in the brush just ahead of him, frightened by the hunter's sudden activity in fighting the fire, took wing and soared away.

THE HUMAN TOUCH:

Seems to us that what President Roosevelt is reported to have said when the voting machine he used at Hyde Park failed to work on election day, is no one's business. When a man goes into a voting booth, he's supposed to be apart and away from the rest of the world. If he mumbled an imprecation against the mechanical monster which balked at registering the vote, it's no more than many of us have done when a stupid, grinning cigarette machine accepted our money and failed to produce a package of cigarettes. It's still no one's business what he said.

If every individual would attempt to give something to life, instead of trying to take something, there wouldn't be any need to debate the virtues of capitalism and communism.

Body of Aged Man Found In Juniata Creek After Reported Missing 2 Days

Victim Had Suffered Slight Stroke Friday Night, and Wandered From Home; Body Discovered by Young Boy

Frank S. Kensinger, 77, a retired water inspector for Altoona, who resided with his son, Howard, in that city, suffered a slight stroke Friday at midnight, left his home around 1 a. m. and was last seen alive at 4 a. m. Saturday.

Sunday afternoon while Chalmers McGeary and his son, Robert, 5, of Juniata Gap road, were strolling through the fields with their dog, the boy discovered the body of Mr. Kensinger partly in the creek and called it to his father's attention.

Police were notified and the coroner summoned who conducted an investigation.

For over two weeks, Mr. Kensinger had been suffering slight strokes and when he was found, the time of his death was estimated at five or six hours earlier. He had apparently rolled down the bank and his one side and the back of his head and shoulders were in the water, which was shallow.

He was born January 20, 1867, in Martinsburg. He retired from the water department of the city in 1935.

STRUCK AND KILLED ON FOGGY HIGHWAY

Victim Dies Before Reaching Philipsburg Hospital

Sherman Krise, 49, of Dean, Cambria county, was killed in a highway accident last Wednesday night between Ashville and Fallen Timber. The victim was rushed to the Philipsburg State hospital following the accident, but he was pronounced dead upon arrival. His injuries consisted of a crushed chest.

John H. Wolfgang, 17, of Houtzdale, was listed as the driver of the car which struck the victim. Wolfgang was accompanied by his wife.

The driver told investigating officers that he was driving along the road and that it was so foggy that he could scarcely see. He said that he and his wife felt the car hit something and that they immediately stopped to see what it was. They found they had run over a man but could not say if he had been walking on the road or lying there.

The victim is known to be married and have a family. It is believed that he has several sons in service.

Appreciate Firemen

Citizens of Coburn, to show their appreciation for the prompt and efficient services of the firemen recently called to their town when F. J. Malone's home was ablaze, took up a subscription and presented the Millheim Fire Company with the sum of $57.50. The Centre Hall Fire Company was presented with $20 by the folks of Coburn, who were grateful to these neighboring firemen for their response to the call for assistance.

DEER ARE PLENTIFUL HUNTERS ARE TOLD

Penn State Wildlife Authority Forecasts Excellent Season

There's "plenty of deer for everybody," Pennsylvania hunters are reminded by Dr. P. F. English, associate professor of wildlife management at the Pennsylvania State College.

Estimating that somewhere between 750,000 and 1,000,000 deer are lurking in the State's hills and forests, Dr. English attributed this season's excellent supply to the dearth of wartime hunters and the poor deer hunting weather of the past two seasons.

In 1942, he said, only 20,890 deer were bagged and a tabulation of 79 per cent of last year's records show a kill of 36,000, compared to 185,575 in 1940.

The wildlife specialist estimates that approximately 200,000 hunters will go in search of deer when the season starts December 1, but added that the kill will depend largely upon the weather.

"Snowy weather," he explained, "is the best for deer hunting, because snow muffles the sound of the hunters' walk and also permits them to track the animal."

Not only has the supply of deer taken a turn for the better, he said, but he pointed out an improvement in the quality of the animal. The doe seasons of 1938 and 1940, he said, reduced the herd to numbers commensurate with the food supply.

More food, he explained, has increased the average weight of deer and also has improved the size and appearance of the antlers.
