H. S. Taylor and bride returned from their wedding tour on Saturday evening and are now living at their home on Howard street, where they have everything furnished in handsome style. . . . The report that a cave had been found in Patton township in which were a lot of tools and implements of a prehistoric race, turns out to be a fake by hungry penny-a-liner, correspondents.

Twenty Years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Willard motored to Danville where Mrs. Willard was admitted to the Geisinger Hospital to undergo treatment for an eye condition.

Rev. Reed O. Steely, pastor of the Bellefonte Evangelical church was in Williamsport Sunday to attend the dedication of a new Evangelical church in that city.

Mrs. Margaret Spicer, a cook in the diet kitchen of the Centre County Hospital, suffered from shock and painful bruises when she fell down the stone steps in front of the institution. She was discovered by Mrs. Harry Johnson, a resident of the area, who heard Mrs. Spicer's calls for help.

Doris Murray, aged 3 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Musser of Bellefonte, was taken to the Gettysburg Hospital in Philadelphia to undergo observation. The child had been seriously ill for a number of months and physicians had been unable to determine the cause. On several occasions her condition had been so serious little hope was held for her recovery.

Fred B. Healy, former deputy warden at Rockview penitentiary, had stored his household goods and moved into the furnished John Francis dwelling on the Francis farm in Benner township. Although Mr. Healy's plans for the future were indefinite he was contemplating accepting a position as salesman for Whitetock Quarries.

Centre County farmers reported that the ground was unusually dry for this season of the year. Rain was needed to give winter wheat and rye proper root development and as a protection against winter kill. Pastures were in fair condition. Leaf-moulding had to be done than for many years, it was reported. This condition was attributed to drought which made the ground too hard to turn.

Zora Agha, a Kurd living in Conowingo, Md., is believed to be the oldest man in the world. He claimed to be aged 150 years and had records to substantiate that claim. He still worked as a porter and was claiming that his fifth wife, who was 65, was too old for him. He wanted a young mate. The old Kurd said he had always been too poor to eat meat but still hunted on his raima and fresh figs at every opportunity. He ate all the honey and sugar he could get, and claimed he'd always eaten about eight pounds of bread a day. He never smoked, or tasted alcohol or coffee, and averred that he only took a sip of water once or twice a month. "I have had wives in great moderation," he was quoted as saying, and added: "I took three at the same time when I was a young man. When they died, he took another, and several years before his 150th birthday he married his fifth wife."

Buy bonds till it hurts!

Go without and do without if need be to help speed the pace of victory

THE young man in this picture obviously is an extreme example. Our Government certainly does not expect any of us to go that far in restricting our buying—even to put the 6th War Loan over the top.

But our fighting forces certainly will feel that their sacrifices are appreciated if we deny ourselves some things and put the money into extra War Bonds instead.

Remember, War Bonds pay off at maturity at the rate of $4 for every $3 invested. Try to buy at least one extra $100 Bond while this 6th War Loan Drive is on.

You wouldn't let a pal down... WOULD YOU?

"Not now. Not while the going is toughest. Not while that extra winning punch is needed most. Not on my life . . ."

The 6th War Loan is now on! Let's not let any of our fighting pals down. The Japs are far from being pushovers—there are 73 million of them, stubborn, cruel, fanatically determined to stop us. To save American lives, to save time, we must overwhelm them with supremacy of materiel. Our fighting men will need more and bigger planes, more ships, landing craft and supplies, more of everything than in the invasion of Europe. So let's buy that extra $100 Bond right now to help shorten the war. Let's save other lives by saving our money!
