SCOTIA

(By H. M. Williams)

As we haven't had any news for about three weeks we will now try and scare up a little with the approval of deer season coming on. We may have quite a bit later on.

Carl Cronmiller, Sr., of Bellefonte, spent last Friday with his aunt, Dora Chaner.

Last Thursday we strolled around quite a bit hunting and we noticed quite a few parkers hanging around and we noticed that the majority of them weren't runs either, about the neckers we saw were up at Scotia at Robert Albright. But you can tell that it is outcracking time for the smell of that good fresh sausage is in the air. We will have some real soon now, about the fifth of next month.

Mrs. Dora Chaner and Mrs. Johanna Williams spent their Thanksgiving in Gettysburg and Scotia, while the boss spent his at home hunting, but with no results, only an empty gun. And on Friday we got word that mother Williams had taken sick very suddenly at her daughter's, Mrs. Beese Stitzer at Pleasant Gap. Upon landing there Saturday morning we found her somewhat improved and on our return home that evening she insisted upon coming along home, and at the time of this writing she is still improving. We have two people in our vicinity who are now, one is his 79th year and the other nearing 79. They are W. G. Saxon and Mrs. Johanna Williams. A birthday party was held a couple of weeks ago for Mr. Saxon with near relatives helping him to celebrate it.

We just learned that our neighbor, Edward Horner, had suffered a heart attack this Sunday morning and later reports in the afternoon weren't very favorable. (Later report the same afternoon stated he died.) Well, as the folks of Scotia know, I will say that we lost a very good neighbor.

Modern Etiquette

1. When addressing a letter to a widow, should her late husband's initials be used?
2. When monograms are used, should the initial of the last name appear in the center, or in natural order?
3. In serving people at dinner should the dishes be passed to the left or right?
4. When and how should an engagement ring be presented to a woman?
5. In writing to the head of a college, should his academic degrees be designated on the envelope?
6. Is it proper to thank a maid when she passes food to you at a dinner?
7. Is it necessary for a woman to take off her gloves when shaking hands?
8. When does a man lift his hat to other men?
9. When did people stop bowing when meeting on the street?
10. If I receive an invitation to a wedding, am I obliged to send a present to the bride?
11. Is it improper to eat the lettuce upon which a salad is served?

Answers

1. Following her husband's death, a woman is known socially by the name which she used during her husband's lifetime. Mrs. John Jones continues to be known as Mrs. John Jones.
2. This is a matter of choice. When the initial of the surname is in the center it is usually larger than the others.
3. Dishes are always removed from the right and served from the left.
4. The gift of an engagement ring is largely controlled by the convenience of the prospective bridegroom. There is no arbitrary rule concerning the method by which he gives the ring to his fiancée.

5. It is not usual nor necessary to affix them to his name on an envelope.

6. It is not necessary to thank a maid for such services.

7. A woman never takes off her loves to shake hands, no matter when or where, and never apologizes for wearing gloves when shaking hands.

8. Use the form of name which appears in the visiting card, also adding the name of town or city which is one's permanent place of abode.

9. In recognizing clergymen or distinguished men of his acquaintance.

10. Many people still incline the head slightly when speaking to acquaintances on the street. The doer bow or curtsy of women and the waist deep bend of men had been modified to a great extent by 1860.

11. No. Your sending a gift is a matter of your own desire and ability to gratify it.

12. Inclination may guide a person. The lettuce may be eaten if one chooses.
