Norman Fisher and James Metzler have also joined the successful deer hunters of the community, Joseph Hobbs, who conducts the Berg service station, looked out the window of the service station the other day and saw a big buck and went to get his gun to kill it, and upon returning saw that a mink had crossed the path and he made a quick end of Mr. Mink and sold the carcass and hide for a good price.

Recent news received by Mrs. Louise Stere, from her husband, Cpl. Stere, who has been stationed somewhere in India for the past fourteen months, states that he, with three of his buddies, enjoyed a 15-day furlough from November 1st to November 15th, and spent the time hunting in the jungles of India. While there they bagged four deer, several prairie chickens, rabbits and a peacock. They had good eating all during the 15 day period as one of their crows was an expert cook.

We are sorry to learn of the death of Mr. Winslow, husband of the former Carolyn Van Vally, who has been here on several occasions speaking in the Free Methodist and Methodist church along the line of their missionary work in China, where they had spent some time prior to the time of the illness of her husband. Funeral services were conducted on Wednesday of this week. We wish to extend most sincere sympathies to Carolyn and her two boys, friends and relatives.

Leaves of the Past—Feb. 6, 1908. On last Saturday, Prof. J. C. Fox, principal of our grammar school, started to deliver the mail on the R. F. D. route for Chapple Underwood, while the latter went to Bellefonte to undergo an examination for mail carrier, but on account of a raging blizzard he did not get all the way around. His buggy was blown over three times before he got half way around. This so discouraged him that he struck for home and said "enough, no more mail delivery in mine."

Leonard Watson has got it bad! On Saturday, he boarded the noon train for his destination where he was to meet his future "other half" at the station. The lady lives about three miles from the station, but nothing daunted, the two dashed on through the terrible storm and blizzard with their two hearts beating as one, thinking only of the happy time they will have holding each other's hands later in the evening. Leonard returned on Monday morning, toes frozen and his ears badly nipped by Jack Frost, nevertheless he has fully made up his mind to learn the trade of a "Weaver," and has so notified Foreman McDonnell.
