

Echoes From the Past

Fifty Years Ago

The invitations are out for the reception by Governor and Mrs. Hastings on Tuesday evening, February 23, to the United States Senators, Congressmen, Congressmen-elect, State Judiciary and personal friends.

Edward Rankin, operator of the Western Union Telegraph at Bellefonte, has resigned his position. He made the change in order to accept a place in the insurance department in Harrisburg. Mr. Rankin is a deserving young man.

On Wednesday of last week two passenger trains on the Lewisburg road smashed noses on their engines at Coburn station. There was a slight misunderstanding. It is not often that such accidents occur on that road.

Mr. Michael Rishel died at his home two miles west of Madisonburg on last Friday morning, Feb. 8. He has been in a semi-conscious state for almost six months prior to his death, which resulted from a paralytic stroke. His age was about 68 years.

During the blizzard one of the teachers of the Howard township performed a very heroic deed. W. F. Leathers, the teacher, was afraid his little flock would perish in the snow, so he formed them in a cabin, he taking the lead, and took his whole school to the home of Director W. T. Leathers, where he was sheltered for the night. During the night the snow attained such depth the teacher was obliged to take his school pupils home by rail.

On Wednesday evening, February 13, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garbrick celebrated their golden wedding. It being the 50th anniversary of their marriage. Just fifty guests were present to assist in the celebration of this memorable occasion and it is needless to say there was a jolly good time all around. Mr. and Mrs. Garbrick were the recipients of many handsome, useful and valuable presents. They have lived a half century of life together and are yet vigorous and bid fair to round out another score or so of years.

On Monday morning there was quite a little conflagration on Wallace's Run, in Boggs township. Warren Hanscom was driving in a sleigh to Bellefonte when he thought he noticed smoke about the sled, and soon found that his clothing was on fire about his right hip. There was a hustling for a while, and he succeeded in putting out the fire after it had consumed a large portion of his pantaloons in the rear, as it were, also a respectable portion of his coat tail. In this pitiable condition he arrived at Centre City where Kollbecker played the Good Samaritan by furnishing another garment. Mr. Hanscom had a number of valuable papers destroyed that were in his coat pocket.

UP TO A RECENT MONTH, the Western Electric Company, peace-time producers of telephone and communication equipment for the Bell System, had made more than 5,000,000 military telephones and 300,000 sound-powered telephones for war. Essential production, this. And it helps to explain why more than 100,000 people in Pennsylvania are now on the waiting list for home telephone service. THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Miss Ann Heverly clerk at the Index station was spending a week with her sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Mohar, at Lancaster.

On February 11 Mrs. Elizabeth Bilger, of Pleasant Gap, celebrated her 94th birthday by entertaining 64 guests, including most of her 11 children.

Sim Baum, the Bellefonte clothier, had purchased another lot of curtains in street between Stevens and Bradley homes, with the intention of building another home there.

T. R. Hosterman, of Buffalo, N. Y., a former resident of Woodward, took possession of the Bellefonte Baking Company, conducted until that time by Harry Smith and Earl Armstrong.

Marriage licenses were issued to the following couples: Joseph Kachuk, Clarence, and Elizabeth Debraux, LeJesse John Tourchick, Jr., and Elizabeth Staryack, both of Bridgeport, Pa.; Daniel E. Gardyko and Stella S. Marks, both of Clarence; Elmer R. VanGorder and Gertrude S. Wadsworth, both of Lock Haven.

Despite the fact that rumors were afloat that Bellefonte would not retain its air mail station, assurance was given that a new site for the field had been selected on the back road between Pleasant Gap and Zion approximately four miles from Pleasant Gap. Bids for about 80 acres of land were being asked for the erection of a large hangar.

On Friday Mrs. Mary McClellan, of Phillipsburg, Centre county's oldest resident, observed her 100th birthday anniversary. Marching from the school building the entire student body and faculty of the Phillipsburg public school passed the David Sowers home, where Mrs. McClellan made her home, to pay their respects to the aged woman.

Bellefonte lost one of its most esteemed citizens and Pennsylvania one of its oldest bankers on Sunday afternoon when John P. Harris, former treasurer of the Bellefonte Trust Company, died after a two-week illness at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Warfield. Surviving children were: Linn Harris, of Lock Haven; Dr. Edward Harris, of Snow Shoe; John P. Harris, Jr., of Newton Hamilton; and Mrs. Frank Warfield and Dr. Edith Schad, of Bellefonte.

Mrs. Joseph Heichel, residing two miles north of Howard, on hearing a commotion in the chicken house went out to find a bobcat in possession of the henhouse, the animal having killed seven of her hens. Upon seeing the woman the cat did not attempt to get away but crouched as if to spring and growled continuously. Mrs. Heichel called her husband who took a rifle and shot the bobcat. Although they lost seven chickens the Hutchells received $15 bounty and $2.50 for the pet. A few days later another bobcat was seen in the same vicinity. Reuben Lucas' dog chased the cat into a tree, where Mr. Lucas ended its career with a bullet.

Stephen Philip Rush, one of Tyrone's most ingenious gentlemen, has just invented and put in rough model form a piece of furniture combining a couch, a cradle and a baby swing in one article. First it is arranged so that it looks like and answers the purpose of an ordinary couch; next the top can be lifted off and the cradle is displayed, the rockers for which are produced by means of a lever movement. By placing the top on the floor beside the cradle, tired mamma can recline and rock the baby in the cradle, or again, she can elevate another portion of the piece of furniture and make a swing to amuse and quiet the little one. It is an interesting invention and if properly handled might become a very popular piece of furniture.
