live. As said by Rev. Charles T. Holman: "Our social scientists tell us that the causes of poverty are discoverable and largely removable, if only enough intelligence and unselfishness can be summoned to the task. If we would serve that God who identified himself with those who hunger and thirst, with those who are friendless and unprotected, surely we shall do all that lies in our power to help forward this fundamental readjustment of our social order."

ranging from $100 to $2000 to individuals, and give tenants of his properties $1000 each and the right to purchase the properties at stipulated figures. A grandfather's clock and watch owned by the deceased also are disposed of by bequests. The Centre County Hospital best interest is covered in two items. The first provides a grant of $250 for purchasing new furniture for what is to be known as the Royer Memorial Room, while the second provides for a fund of $1000 to be invested, and the income from which is to be used for maintaining the room.

The trustees of the Zion Evangelical Lutheran church are bequeathed a fund of $5000 in trust, the annual income of which is to be used by the church. In the event that church merges with another congregation, half of the fund, which is to be known as the "Joel S. and Emma Royer Memorial Fund," is to go to the merged church, while the remaining half goes to the Board of Foreign Missions of the United Lutheran Church in America, in Baltimore, Md. In the event the Zion church should be disbanded, the fund is to go to the Foreign Missions organization, the will provides.

A fund of $2000 is left in trust to the trustees of the Tressler Orphans' Home in Loysville, Pa., the income to be used for the home.

A similar trust fund of $1000 is left to the Good Shepherd Home, Inc., in Allentown, the income to be used for the home. The grandfather's clock is left to Dr. Edwin L. Royer, of Lock Haven, with the suggestion that it descend to other members of the Royer family to be chosen by him. A gold watch owned by the deceased's father is bequeathed to William T. Royer, of Niagara Falls, also with the suggestion that it be retained in the family. Among the individual bequests are a group of six persons whom Mr. Royer termed "the Garbick Heirs," who are to receive the residue of his estate after all bequests have been taken care of. Three other persons are granted $100 each for "their many kindnesses to me," according to the terms of the will.

made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. William Litke, of State College. Mrs. Grundy is a graduate of Indiana State Teachers' College and taught for a time in Phillipsburg. Her husband is in the armed forces. The board authorized school authorities to obtain an architect's drawing of proposed new classrooms to be constructed in the basement of the Spring street school building. All the rooms will not be completed at this time, but it was deemed necessary to have a general plan to serve as a guide to the contemplated program.

The board guaranteed payment of a $500 indebtedness of the Athletic Association in the form of a short term note. Handwriting may come in for more emphasis in the local school program as the result of board action, Monday, inviting a representative of a firm specializing in handwriting instruction to explain his system at the next meeting of the board.

The local school's observance of V-E Day will follow the township plan for a quiet program of thankfulness and religious services. A religious and patriotic service for high school students will be held in the auditorium, while grade schools will have their own ceremonies in the classrooms, the board decided.

The board authorized the purchase of 3 overhead spotlights for the auditorium stage, at a cost of $25 each. Permission was granted to the students senate to contract with an orchestra for the annual Senate Spring Frolie to be held in April. The board some years ago limited to $50 the amount any school organization might spend for an orchestra for a dance. Monday's special action enables the Senate to contract for an orchestra for $122.

Swabick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Swabick, of Snow Shoe, who received wounds sustained in action in Belgium on Dec. 26, while serving with the First Army, was received from their son, March 3rd. The Snow Shoe private, who was serving with an artillery group, was called for service in September 1942, and after three months' training at Fort Eustis, Va., was sent with a group of reserves to work in the copper mines in Utah because of his knowledge of coal mining in the Snow Shoe area. He remained there until April of last year when he was returned to the army and was sent to Fort McClellan, Ala. for six months' training in the infantry. He then spent a 10-day furlough at his home, following which he reported to Ft. Meade, Md. in October he left for overseas, landing in France.

T/S Dean Wounded

For the third time in World War II, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Dean of Pine Grove Mills, last Thursday morning received a message from the War Department listing one of their sons as a casualty. The message reported their son, T/S Frank W. Dean, 30, had been slightly wounded in action in Germany on February 20.

The Dean's eldest son, Pvt. Andrew H. Dean, 33, was killed in action in France on July 5, and another son, Cpl. Carl Dean, was wounded in France last summer. Dean, Jr., recently completed basic training in Texas and expects soon to be assigned to overseas duty.

A fourth son, Pvt. Jesse W. Dean, Jr., recently completed basic training in Texas and expects soon to be assigned to overseas duty. Although the message reporting that Frank had been wounded was received last Thursday, the family had prior information of his misfortune, for earlier in the week they received a letter from him, apparently written by a nurse, which reported that he was wounded and in a hospital. He said the injury was not serious and that his parents were not to worry about him.

The Pine Grove Mills technician, who was inducted into the service on November 14, 1942 was sent overseas early last fall. He served with an engineers' division and according to letters from him had been in action for some time.

Letter of information follows."

On January 6 of this year Mr. and Mrs. Swatsworth were notified by the War Department that their son had been missing in action in Belgium since December 18. Two days later they received a letter from Washington confirming the telegram and informing them they would be notified when further information about their son was received.
