Some Business
Customer: You say it costs you $20 to make these watches. Well, if you sell them for that, how do you make any profit?

Too many people get out of prison just to get caught and be convicted again.

Annual Victory Sale

CLINTON AUCTION
MILL HALL

Saturday, March 31st

Miscellaneous Items at 10:00 A. M. Before Lunch
Farm Machinery and Horses After Lunch

The first Victory Sale was held during World War One, when farm machinery was scarce and hard to get. The original purpose of the sale was: That farmers having extra machinery might have an opportunity to offer the articles at public auction, thereby turning into cash the things they did not need. This in turn made available a lot of equipment that was badly needed on other farms.

Now the Victory Sale at the Clinton Auction still does that same thing. However, the farmers have associated one other job with the Victory Sale—that of house cleaning around the barn.

So if you have anything you don't need, bring it to the Victory Sale at the Clinton Auction in Mill Hall on Saturday, March 31.

Household goods and miscellaneous items before lunch—farm machinery and horses after lunch.

If you need a horse, or a team, you can get them at this sale. Or if you have horses to sell, bring them along and see if we can't sell them for you.

Sorry I can't publish a complete list of the articles that will be sold. However, I know there will be tractors: W. C. Allis Chalmers with cultivators, Ford tractor, like new, 1950 model; plows, harrows, cult-packers, discs, corn planters, cultivators, corn binders, corn huskers, drills, combines, hay balers, hay loaders, mowers, hay rakes, and wagons, potato grader; Surge milking machine, 2 unit; milk cooler, and many other articles.

We have a good ramp for unloading. There will be a man at the barn all day Friday. If it is not convenient to bring your consignment-Friday, bring it as early as you can on day of sale.
