Last Saturday this locality had several thunder showers. The one which occurred at about 4:15 p.m. carried the heaviest and severest thunder bolts.

A certain commentator on one of the Radio stations stated last Saturday that Daylight Saving Time would begin on Sunday morning at 2 a.m. and that it would give us one extra hour of sunshine.

We wondered what kind of arithmetic that fellow studied. Shock! The sun rises regularly at God's schedule—a few minutes and seconds slower as we approach the first of July, etc.—God's Standard Time. What foolish notions some people have. Those folks could have stated that they would go to work an hour earlier without setting the clocks and other time pieces an hour ahead. We heard quite a number of persons say last week that they were positively opposed to this business of setting the clocks an hour ahead. We hope the number will increase by the millions until this business stops.

To God alone is it known how many people suffered damage in this country of ours because of Daylight Saving Time. No wonder we're having all kinds of trouble, occasioned by disobeying God's command. Has God commanded us to change our clocks an hour ahead every spring and then reverse them every fall? Foolish, foolish idea.
