

Penn State Joins In Festival Of Arts

Faculty members and students of various departments at Penn State this month are presenting the annual Festival of the Arts.

The program included numerous dramatics presentations, musical concerts, dance recitals, lectures, and exhibits.

The exhibits will include a display of work by students in architecture, oil painting, water colors, sculpture, landscaping, stage set designing, home arts and other fields.

Observance At Laurelton State Village Planned

The Laurelton State Village has planned for an "open house" at 5 p.m. Tuesday, May 8, as part of the Institution's observance of Mental Health Week. Dr. Ernie C. Ireland, superintendent, announces "We urge the citizens of the area to avail themselves of this opportunity to see for themselves the progress being made in Pennsylvania's Mental Health System. At the Laurelton State Village the public will find improved facilities for over 900 girls. An addition to the central kitchen and two cottages are now under construction. This is only part of the great expansion and improvement program of the Department of Welfare which maintains jurisdiction over such institutions as the Laurelton State Village."

Mental Health Week is being observed nationwide this year from May 2 through May 8.

The program for "open house" at Laurelton will include a program by the girl's chorus under direction of Miss Jean Rothermel and a tour of the grounds. Colored slides of the Institution and the girls' activities will be shown for the benefit of those who cannot make the tour. Tea will be served at 4 p.m.

Illustrated booklets on Mental Health and a special Mental Health Week issue of the Department of Welfare's own publication, the "Welfare Reporter", will be distributed to visitors at Laurelton State Village during Mental Health Week.

Work Done In The Zion Home Group

The Home Economics Extension group from Zion had variety in their meeting this year. Instead of concentrating on one project there were four meetings, each completely different.

The first meeting was on house cleaning where an inexpensive wall paper cleaner and furniture polish was made to really do the job. Another meeting that was very satisfactory was on making cake and biscuit mixes. These turned out to be very economical and just as good as you buy. The last meeting was a demonstration by Miss Butler on putting hems in dresses by machine instead of by the old hand method, and making shoulder pads.

The meeting on refinishing furniture was an all day meeting. Several who attended took pieces of furniture to the home of a neighbor where the many layers of paint and varnish were removed. Once down to solid wood, the finishing material, made at home, was rubbed in. One chair had a design on the back that had been covered with about four layers of paint. This was drawn off as a pattern to go by when the chair was repainted and ready to have the design replaced.

These pieces of furniture, along with projects done by other groups of Centre County, probably will be displayed at the spring Home-makers Day, May 16, at Pleasant Gap Grange Hall, to celebrate National Home Demonstration Week.

If you don't belong to a home economics Extension group, we, from Zion, urge you to find out when the group in your community meets and join with them. You will find that this is a good way to get to know your neighbors, and have a good time while you are learning the newest methods of doing things a homemaker must know in this fast moving world in which we live and raise our families.

HOWARD

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Amick had their guests last week. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vial, of Long Beach, Cal. The ladies are sisters. Mr. and Mrs. Vial motored overland from California for a visit with friends in the East. They left here Monday morning for Fall River, Mass., to visit Mrs. Vial's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Flannery.

Mrs. Claude Bechdel and daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Miller, of Beech Creek, visited at the Millford Heverley home last Thursday evening. Miss Treva Pletcher was admitted to the Lock Haven Hospital last Wednesday as a medical patient.

Miss Sarah Holt arrived home one day last week to spend some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Holt, after having spent the winter at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

A. H. Schwenk returned home from the Teah Hospital last Saturday. It is the wish of his many friends that his stay at the hospital will prove beneficial to him.

Mrs. Willard Pletcher and Mrs. Lester Wyland visited Mrs. Roy Cyphert at the Lock Haven Hospital last week. Mrs. Cyphert has been a medical patient there for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Confer, Jerry and "Vicky", accompanied by Mrs. Charles Confer Sr., drove to Wilmington, Del., on Saturday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Denison Confer. Mrs. Charles Confer will remain there indefinitely so that she may consult eye specialists in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Fred Betz, who underwent surgical treatment at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore several months ago, returned to that institution on Monday for a routine check-up. She returned home on Tuesday.

Mrs. Eliza Lucas was a weekend guest of her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Lucas, of State College.

The Republican Council meeting held in the Phillips Hotel at Phillipsburg last Friday evening was attended by several women from our town. Those attending were Mrs. Winifred Beightol, Mrs. Carrie Wolfe, Mrs. Iva Burkey, Mrs. Nora Tice, Mrs. Emma Caseman and Mrs. Katherine Weber.

Mrs. Mabel Ivins and Mrs. Chester Caseman were shopping in Lock Haven, Saturday afternoon.

The horseshoe pitching season opened officially Monday evening of this week. Those participating in the opening contest were Art Strunk, Charles Beightol, Wesley Peters and Oscar Wensel.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Siegle, Danny and Sharon, of State College, were Sunday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Pletcher.

Here we are, again caught up with the annual NUISANCE of Daylight Saving Time. Although it is advocated by a comparative few of our nation's population, yet the masses must endure and abide by

Conducts Recital
