Secretary of Internal Affairs William S. Livengood has said in his opinion some kind of legislation is needed. Previously, Sen. George B. Stevenson had said he was ready to introduce a legislative proposal for regulation, if the conferees at the meeting could agree on the type bill they wanted.

Judge Dunn, an advocate of legislation to conserve the State's natural gas resources, and also to tax the output of gas as a means of reimbursing the State and counties for gas pumped out from under public lands, said the big gas companies intend to use the Leidy gas wells for storage of gas from Oklahoma after the Leidy field is exhausted.

MRS. ANNA B. SEIBERT

Mrs. Anna B. Seibert, 83, of Phillipsburg, died at the Centre County Home at 10 p.m. Wednesday, May 2, 1951. She had been a guest at the home since June, 1950.

Mrs. Seibert, born in Huntingdon Jan. 29, 1868, was a daughter of Oscar and Rebecca Wigham. Her husband, Frank B. Seibert, a brother of the late James Seibert, of Bellefonte, is a guest at the County Home.

Mrs. Seibert was a member of the Baptist Church, Phillipsburg. Services were held at the Kuhlman Funeral Home Saturday afternoon, with the Rev. John A. Fasset, of Millsburg, officiating. Burial was in the Union Cemetery in Donegal.

DONALD E. STRUNK

Donald E. Strunk, of Johnstown, Centre county native, died at his home Saturday evening, May 5, 1951. Born August 23, 1895 in Jacksonsville, he was the son of Harry and Annie Ertley Strunk. He was married to Ruth Long, who survives with his mother, Mrs. Annie Strunk, State College, one daughter, Hope Strunk, at home, and two sisters, Miss Hope Strunk, State College, and Mrs. Margaret Beamer, Indiana, Pa.

He was a member of Christ Evangelical United Brethren church of Johnstown, a veteran of World War I, and was a salesman for the Colonial Lumber Company.

County Meetings Held

Three county-wide meetings have been held by the women of the Executive Committee of the Centre County Agricultural Extension Association. The first of these, held at Progress Grange in Centre Hall in November, was called "Christmas Meeting". Here the women pooled and exchanged ideas for making Christmas gifts, deserts and wrappings.

The second county-wide meeting was held at Logan Grange Hall in Pleasant Gap, on cleaning and adjusting sewing machines. Eight machines were cleaned and adjusted. Their owners knew a great deal more about how to operate their machines when they finished that day than they did that morning.

The third county-wide meeting was also held at Logan Grange Hall, on chair caning. Thirty-four women learned how to cane chairs. Some phases of Extension work can be conducted more efficiently on a county-wide basis, while other phases must be conducted locally. The Executive committee, which represents all sections of the county, and the County Representative decide this. Other things, like planning the remodeling of a kitchen, must sometimes be done on an individual basis. All methods are used in Centre County.

off and the rest considerably patched." Realizing that the repair would be a real problem, the chair was set aside. Someone else then re-finished it in green enamel, the kind of paint "that penetrated cracks and tack holes." Then the broken leg was restored, a replacement arm copied from the old one and the top rail of the back was reproduced, using a picture of a similar Windsor as a guide to its shaping.

The original top rail bore the marks of five spindle holes, indicating that it had once had the added embellishment of a comb. For a man who has always done such nice restoring making a replacement complete and the accompanying five spindles is easily possible. On the other hand he can rest on his laurels and leave the chair as it is, finishing it either in the natural or painting it. With or without the comb he again has a good-looking Windsor in usable condition and neatly restored to its original appearance. Further, it is now more than an inherited antique. It is proof of his skill as a restorer and as such is a conversation piece of personal significance.

Potters Mills: Mrs. Stanley Johnson, Blanchard; Mrs. Fred Markle, Pine Hall; Mrs. Earl Musser, Bellefonte RD; Mrs. B. P. Nicodemus, Port Matilda; Mrs. Clarence Peters, Stormstown; Mrs. Ellis Peters, Port Matilda RD; Mrs. Ellis Reardon, Millheim; Mrs. Ray Sherrer, Centre Hall RD; Mrs. Guy Sterns, Lemont; Mrs. Philip Stover, Zion; Mrs. George Weight, Jacksonville; Mrs. Hugh Wilson, Warriors Mark, RD; Mrs. Paul Wise, Madisonburg; Mrs. Henry Zerby, Rebersburg, and Mrs. M. T. Zubler, Spring Mills.

where the flood control and public works committees of the House and Senate will consider them. Approval of the report by Congress, however, will not assure construction of the dams, since specific appropriations must be made.

Since the program is not authorized until it is acted upon by the Board of Engineers, a proposal that the West Branch flood control project be taken before the Civil Functions subcommittee of the House of Representatives cannot be carried out.

Plans for a group of West Branch people to appear before the U. S. Board of Engineers with their data showing the need for flood control dams to protect this area, on June 4, are being worked out by the Susquehanna River System Flood Control Association.

Meanwhile, the General State Authority is collecting engineering data on the proposed flood control dam on the First Fork of the Susquehanna, in response to an appeal from West Branch residents for the state to expedite the carrying out of the Army engineer recommendations by going ahead with the first of the five dams.

BILLION DOLLAR PENSION RACKET EXPOSED

ALWAYS BE CAREFUL DRIVING

The difference goes more than Skin-Deep

NOBODY wonders what you're driving when you roll by in this one.

In the 1951 line-up, its brand-new front-end styling stands out with a beauty all its own.

You're the proud owner of a Buick—and the whole world knows it.

But you—at the wheel—enjoy a long list of differences that go far deeper than looks.

The ride is different—level and true. You sit the road with special assurance—because Buick's torque-tube drive keeps rear wheels firmly aligned—soft coil springs on all four wheels soak up the bumps and bobbles—honest weight keeps you on a steady keel.

The power is different—eager and sure. Buick's high-compression Fireball engine does wonders with fuel—and no matter what you demand in emergency, there's horsepower to spare.

Handling is different—this car seems to steer itself on straightaway or curve—and swings lightly into parking spots inches shorter than you'd think you need. Capping it all, there's the silken versatility of Dynaflo Drive,* that takes all the tenseness out of driving—responds to your slightest wish with a surging swoop of power.

No doubt about it, what you get in a Buick is far more than just a new car—it's a whole new experience in getting pleasurably from here to there.

So why not explore this difference? Come, take a Buick over and find out how very much satisfaction smart money can buy.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.
