

UNIONVILLE

Methodist Church services: Sunday School at the regular hour. Worship service at 7 p.m., at which time will be held a special Mother's Day Program by the Women's Society of Christian Service, and the annual installation of officers of that society. Youth Fellowship at 8 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Fisher and family, of Altoona, visited with their respective parents here over the weekend.

Mrs. William Kreps is seriously ill in the Altoona Hospital, under an oxygen tent most of the time. Her many friends and neighbors here hope for her comfort and a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Kathryn Tallheim spent the past weekend with relatives in Harrisburg and vicinity.

The Gleasons Sunday School class of the Methodist Church were entertained last Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. Blair Holtzworth.

Free Methodist Church services: All evening services have been changed from 7:30 to 8 p.m. during the period of Daylight Saving Time. Prayer service Wednesday at 8 p.m. and the evening worship services on Sunday will be 8 p.m. with the Young People's service at 7:30 p.m.

The members of the borough council have announced that all fire plugs in the community will not have to be turned off, only for a short period, but the water may become riled.

Mrs. Kathryn Tallheim, with the following persons, attended a conference of the Women's Society of Christian Service in the Methodist Church of Jersey Shore, Wednesday, May 2: Mrs. G. Bullock, Mrs. B. E. Holt and Mrs. Fred Fisher.

The community junk pile or dump has been closed for the present by members of the borough council due to persons abusing this privilege by placing their junk on the road leading to the dump, instead of taking it on in where they should, and also dumping ashes which have not been permitted.

Persons should appreciate a privilege such as this, as it has become quite a problem to know what to do with junk which accumulates from time to time.

The members of the Hospital Auxiliary of this community will hold a bake sale this Saturday afternoon at the Louise Beauty Shoppe rooms beginning at 1:30 p.m.

A special program will be held in the Grange Hall this Saturday at 7:45 p.m. It will be a religious program. An evangelist from South Carolina, conducting services now in Orviston and Monument at the pastorate of the Rev. Kulp, will be the speaker of the evening. The young folks, who sing over this program over in Lock Haven each Monday evening, will be along to provide the music of the evening.

Owen Reed Fox, in one of his walks along Bald Eagle Creek one day recently, saw what he claimed to be a bald eagle traveling very high along the creek. The birds are scarce around this vicinity and it is exciting to see one. Owen had field glasses along which helped him to see more clearly.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Melvin "Pat" Lucas and Deloris, of Beaver, Pa., and another daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams, and Shirley Lee of Ohio View, visited over the weekend with his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Holt and other relatives in the community.

Guests at the home of John Resides over the weekend were his children, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Resides, of North Chili, N.Y.; Mrs. William Resides and two children, Rochester, N.Y. and Mr. and Mrs. Forest Lucas and children, Altoona. When the folks returned to New York, Mr. Resides accompanied them, and will visit with his children there for the next few weeks.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Kerchner over the weekend were their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. P. Richard Fisher and two children of Milton; Mr. and Mrs. Toner Calhoun and her sister, Miss Emma Moyer, of Altoona. The latter folks have been in Miami, Fla., for the winter months and have just returned. Mr. Calhoun is a brother of Mrs. Kerchner.

Guests at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Hall Sunday were her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoff and son, of State College.

Sunday guests of Mrs. Harriet Askins and her sister, Miss Mary Turner, were their niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jarrett and Carol, of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Dolly Snook Passmore, of Clearfield, has been with her daughter, Mrs. Harriet Askins and sister Miss Mary Turner, for some time past while taking treatment from a physician in Bellefonte. Her many friends and relatives here wish for her a most speedy recovery to her usual good health.

We wish to advise the citizens of the community that local taxes have been coming in better this year than they did for some years past, although there is still a small amount outstanding, which we hope to clear up before too long. New duplicate will be out in a short time.

The Legion ball field has been undergoing repairs recently. The erection of bleachers is one main feature of the work being done by Norman Fisher and some of his crew of men. Several games have been played thus far but a number of the folks in the community are not happy over the fact most of the games have been played on Sunday.

No definite plans have been made as yet concerning Memorial Day services in the community, but we hope to have something to report by next week. Schools in the borough will be closed on Memorial Day.

Mrs. L. C. McElwain visited with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Woomer and

HOWARD

A. H. Schwenk was admitted to the Lock Haven Hospital Monday for observation.

Plan Two Exercises

Use And Handle Insecticides Safely

Here are some simple rules offered by Assistant County Agent Clair D. DeLong for safe handling of insecticides in the household, on the farm, or in the garden:

Take extra precautions in handling and using the more poisonous insecticides, such as parathion, TEPP, HETP, DDT, BHC, chlordane, and all other chlorinated compounds, arsenicals, fluorine compounds, and nicotine compounds.

When mixing or applying insecticides, take extreme care to keep ingredients out of mouth and eyes. Keep the body well covered. Do not spray or dust with legs or arms and shoulders bared.

Wash face and hands or exposed skin thoroughly after using any insecticide.

To avoid accumulation of residues, frequently wash clothing used while spraying. Do not contaminate streams or ponds with insecticide sprays or dusts.

Do not leave open containers in which insecticides are being mixed, nor set aside batches or prepared materials, where domestic farm animals can drink or lick them in passing.

Burn empty insecticide bags or containers out in the open air. Follow the directions of the manufacturer as to time of discontinuing application before harvesting crops in order to prevent any residue.

Do not keep any household insecticides where feeds are stored and be sure that all are distinctly labeled. Use fumigants only when familiar with their poisonous nature and with the proper methods of application. Otherwise, employ an experienced operator.

School Of Agriculture Visiting May 24-25

Grassland farming, newly acquired livestock and mechanization of chowchow will be featured May 24 and 25 when the School of Agriculture marks Visiting Days at Penn State. Many organized tours from various counties are scheduled to see the various facilities open for inspection on both days.

A. L. Beam, director of short courses, who books the tours, said each group of visitors will be provided with guides to point out any specific interests indicated by the group in advance. New buildings, experimental work in a number of lines, and campus points of interest rate high in requests already received, Beam said.

Similar visiting days have been scheduled for the summer months to view research plots, crops, and other seasonal features on these dates: June 19 and 20, July 10 and 11, and August 9 and 10. Emphasis for the different months varies according to periods of development for the crops and other seasonal variations.

Groups interested in planning a tour of the School of Agriculture and College farms can get details by writing to Prof. Beam or from any county agricultural agent.

Armed Forces List Indoctrination Center

In answer to many inquiries concerning the indoctrination training center now in use by the U. S. Air Force, T/Sgt. William S. Nagle of the local office offered this information.

One of Air Training Command's newest "babies" is growing into a giant as an average of 300 airmen a day swell the population of Sampson Air Force Base, which opened its doors for indoctrination training February 1.

Keeping pace with new arrivals is a $2,600,000 reconditioning program. Base exchanges, barber shops, theatres, service clubs, commissaries and dependent housing are either active or in the cards for the near future.

In fact the 2,500-acre tract of land which the Air Force took over from the Navy has become in less than four months a full-fledged indoctrination center similar to Lackland. The command eventually will include three basic military training groups, a WAP training group, an officer candidate group and four supporting groups of permanent party.

The base mission is "to indoctrinate new airmen into the concepts, principles and policies of the Air Force."

Sampson facilities at present include barracks that will house four flights of 65 men each and dining halls built to feed 5,000 men at a sitting. Present plans call for a total population of 36,000 trainees and permanent party.

Sampson AFB was approved as a site for a Naval "boot camp" in 1942. At the end of the war, training halted and part of the base was turned over to Sampson College.

A stop-gap measure, the college handled the overflow of students who could not be accommodated at other New York colleges. Studies were abandoned in 1949.

The former Naval base was slated to be turned into a State Park this year but the Korean situation forced expansion of the Air Force Training program.

Sgt. Nagle explained that all local volunteers for the U. S. Air Force are being sent to Sampson. With the advent of Sampson's opening and the change in mental test qualifications, Air Force volunteers can anticipate immediate enlistment without the lengthy delay made necessary by daily enlistment quotas.

Sgt. Nagle invited local persons interested in the U. S. Air Force to contact him at the local office, 220 1/2 W. High Street, Bellefonte, or call 4110.

Honored at Party

Miss Jane Dunkle and Richard Gauder were chosen May Queen and May King at the roller skating party sponsored by the Youth Fellowship of the Evangelical and Reformer Church in Walker township, held in the Hecla Park Roller Rink, Wednesday, May 2.

With the customs of modern times in mind, we suspect millions of grandmothers are whirling in their graves.

Treat Sweet Corn, County Agent Says

Seed decay and root rots may cause severe losses in the sweet corn crop this year, states Assistant County Agent Clair D. DeLong. Much of last year's crop was weakened by diseases. Weak seed planted in soil that turns cool and wet is especially subject to attacks by disease organisms.

As a precaution against weak seeds, the county agent suggests that all sweet corn seed be treated this year. He tells growers that where seed is suspected of being weak to use twice the normal dosage of Arasan dust, or 4 ounces per bushel of seed. For a slurry form of Arasan use 3 pounds in one gallon of water. To apply dust shake seed in closed container until the corn is well covered.
