ART

done since 1921. Although available on a county basis, Census figures on the township and ward level are not expected until too late for the 1951 legislature to redistrict assembly seats.

Under the plan now receiving top consideration by the Diehm committee, the 13 counties in northern Pennsylvania that now comprise the 14th and 15th districts would be redistricted to five other districts.

Gillette's 14th district includes Bradford, Sullivan, Columbia, Montour, Wyoming, Susquehanna, Pike and Wayne counties. The 15th district, represented by Bush, comprises McKean, Potter, Tioga, Cameron, Clinton and Lycoming counties.

Republican dominated counties, Pike, Wayne and Susquehanna, would go to the 20th district, a seat held by Rep. Francis E. Walter. (D-Easton). His district now includes Monroe, Carbon, and Northampton counties.

The 10th district, now limited to Lackawanna county would broaden to include Republican counties such as Bradford, Wyoming, Sullivan and Lycoming. The 10th district now is represented by Rep. Harry P. O'Neill (D-Scranton).

The remainder of Gillette's 15th district would be assigned to two other districts now controlled by Republicans.

Clinton county would become a part of the 23d district which now includes Centre, Clearfield and Blair counties. The seat is held by Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R-Altoona).

The far-flung 19th district, represented by Rep. Leon H. Gavin (R-Oil City), would be extended farther east under the plan. McKean, Potter, Tioga and Cameron counties would be tied into the area that now includes Venango, Warren, Clarion, Jefferson, Forest and Elk counties.

The Rev. Ivor D. Fenton's 12th district, now composed of Schuylkill and Northumberland counties, would also include Columbia and Montour counties, from the 14th district. He is a Mahanoy City Republican.

Sen. Diehm said the plan calls for redistributing the 33d district, formerly served by Mr. Buchanan, deceased, to the remaining four districts in Allegheny county. They are divided equally between the Republicans and Democrats.

Still to be worked out is what to do about increasing the size of the 17th district, represented by Congressman Richard L. Simpson (R-Huntingdon).

One proposal suggests that Fulton and Bedford counties be cut from his district of Union, Snyder, Mifflin, Juniata, Perry and Huntingdon counties with three other counties—Adams, Cumberland, Franklin—added to the district.

Fulton and Bedford counties would become a part of the 23d district where Edward L. Sittler (R-Uniontown) is the congressman. His district now includes Fayette and Somerset counties.

Cumberland would come from the 18th district, a seat held by Walter L. Mumma (R-Harrisburg). The 18th also includes Dauphin and Lebanon counties.

Adams and Franklin counties are now in the 21st district, represented by James F. Lind (D-York). Lebanon county would go to the 15th district which now comprises only Berks county, represented by George M. Rhodes (D-Reading).

Centre Hall—

In 1882 the Centre Hall Carriage Works with J. I. Deninger as proprietor and J. W. Henney as superintendent, was founded. His shop was located behind the Weis Store. Later Mr. Deninger started a hardware store at the place of his residence beside the bank. He was also known as quite a contractor, building many of the best homes in Centre Hall.

In 1885 The Kurtz Roller Mills located at the lower end of the town near George Johnson's store. It was consecutively owned by Weber Bradford and Bearsons. This was an important step in the progress of Centre Hall industries.

In 1885 William W. Bosh manufactured carriages and wagon wheels at his shop located where the George Rimmey Garage now stands.

The Strohmeier Monument Works was founded in 1886. It was owned by H. G. Strohmeier and later a son-in-law, Clayton Homan, took over the business and has operated it since that time.

In 1900 A. E. Kerlin started a wholesale and retail egg business. In 1904 he purchased acres from J. A. Murray and the Emily Alexander estate on which he founded the Kerlin Grand View Poultry Farm. In 1925 he sold his interest to W. W. Kerlin. Since 1925 the Kerlin Farm has been increased to 33 acres. At present W. H. Kerlin is a partner in the business.

In 1925 the Sheffield Farms Co., Inc., bought the Dewart Creamery which is located just outside of Centre Hall. They ran the creamery for a number of years until they sold it to Sidney Riegel with the stipulation it could never be used as a creamery again. Mr. Riegel uses it for a salesroom known as the Penna Valley Sales Bldg.

The Garbrick Brothers Works located just inside the borough limits is operated by Vernon and Lewis Garbrick. They make riders for fairs and do welding and machine shop work.

The Nittany Packing Company at the Old Port is managed by H. T. McConigal. This is one of the newest industries in Centre Hall. The company cans vegetables raised by a selected group of farmers in the area. They employ many people during the harvesting season.

The Stover Grain House located just opposite the bowling alley is owned by George Stover who purchased it from William McClellan. Stovers not only grind their own brand of feed, but also for different farmers.

In the early days, Pottery Mills was one of the busiest towns in the valley. The Potters developed the industries considerably. In 1833 a large woolen mill was founded near the McCoy farm along the stream. A large saw mill was also built there. They used the water for a partial supply of energy. A tannery was built in 1870. It was located north of the school house on Chestnut Street. A grist mill was built near the Eastway House.

Pioneer TV May Operate in Renovo Area in Six Months

Renovo area residents may view television in six months time. This statement was made by John P. Rathmell, one of the leaders in the Greater Television Corp., to citizens of Renovo recently.

Mr. Rathmell, a resident of Summerson, Md. near Renovo, told how he began experimenting with a borrowed TV set some months ago and how he could get sound reception but no picture. He was picking up signals from channels 3, 5 and 6 out of Pittsburgh and Ohio.

Then word began to get around about the new television experiments at Lansford, where signals were picked up at a high point and piped into various homes in the valley.

With several other individuals, Rathmell said the company was formed and the franchise rights secured from Renovo and South Renovo Councils, and the Chapman township supervisors.

Next the small group at their own expense secured the services of a radio engineering firm from Potstown. The first good picture reception was secured along Renovo's Mill Run road in the south-side mountains. Later in the Coffer Rock area, an almost perfect signal was picked up, out of Johnstown, which is channel 13.

Experiments will continue so that the tower will be constructed as close to Renovo as possible. The speaker said the leaders of the group are satisfied that good reception is possible.

Stock in the company went on sale this week. Cost of equipment and installation will run to about $50,000. Manufacturers have promised delivery within five months after contracts are let.

Rathmell explained that the owner of the set will be able to receive just what is being picked up by the tower. The signals will go into pre-amplifiers and then by cable with a booster every 3,000 feet, to the home. Signal strength will be the same at the end of the line as close to the tower.

Estimated cost of installation of service for the individual is about $125, approximately what it cost at Lansford, and despite greater increased costs of material and supplies the local company is going to attempt to hold to that figure. The costs of maintenance will run from $3 to $4 per month; payable the same as a phone bill.

Rathmell predicted television to Renovo by this method in the foreseeable future. Engineers in Emporium, Pa. say that the ultra-high frequency station there will only have a range of 20 miles, while that community is 30 miles from Renovo. Johnstown, now the most likely prospect, is 90 miles away but the frequency is such that it comes in strong. The speaker also spoke of the quality of programs broadcast from Cambria County station, which is independent and gives a variety of the best from all three networks.

Increasing inventories suggest that manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers are overstocked in some items and that, eventually, the buyer may expect a temporary reduction in price.

Here's Where the Pounds Pay Off

FIRST thing that people notice when they take over a Buick is the sure-footed stance this fine automobile has on the road.

You head into a curve and hold firm and true. You travel a turnpike without sway or wander.

While your wheels may dance when you hit a stretch of washboard gravel—your car holds its level course.

A lot of things account for this beautifully poised performance, but it starts with stalwart structure and ample weight—plenty of pounds where pounds are needed.

Please don't get us wrong. This isn't "deadweight." Though a Buick like the one pictured here tips the scales at more than two tons, it's as nimble as an antelope at play.

It has a generous hoodful of valve-in-head Fireball power—packing a powerful punch of velvet velocity.

It comes with the smooth magic of Dynaflo Drive*—a lightness of steering that's gently responsive to a lady's hand—a front-end geometry that's pure genius—the finest brakes ever put on a Buick.

And every wheel rides on shock-eating coil springs that are carefree and trouble-free for the life of your car.

You'll also find—by a few moments of simple arithmetic—that the pounds in this bounteous beauty pay off in another way. On a cents-per-pound basis, it will cost less to buy than anything else near its weight and power and size.

Why not visit us real soon—like the first thing tomorrow—and let us show you why you and your budget will both be happy with this Buick?

- No other car provides all this:
- DYNAFLO DRIVE*—saves strain on driver and car
 - FIREBALL POWER—high-compression, valve-in-head engine gets more good from every drop of fuel
 - PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT—combines smart style and unsurpassed protection
 - WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS—provide greater clarity at night
 - TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE—steadies ride, improves driving control
 - 4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING—cushions ride, saves servicing costs
 - DUAL VENTILATION—outside air fed separately to right or left of front compartment
 - SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES—hydraulic—multiply pedal-pressure five times at brake drum
 - DREAMLINE STYLING—tapered, car-length fenders, gleaming sweepers on most models
- *Plus: Self-locking luggage lid, Step-On parking brake, two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride rims, Hi-Posed engine mounting, Body by Fisher
- *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional on other Buick series.
- When better automobiles are built Buick will build them
