Rockview Hustles—

(Continued From Page One) will be planted. Most of the products will be consumed by the Rockview farm, but some will be sent to the Pittsburgh penitentiary.

The Rockview reservation has a total of 6,790 acres. Buildings and roads take up 200 acres, pasture land 520 acres, field crops and garden 1919 acres, wood lots and water catchment areas 4151 acres.

Milking is done three times a day at the prison dairy which had 313 head of Holstein by last December. Last year the dairy got 1,436,204 pounds of whole milk. The cows gave an average of 16,936 pounds of milk per cow. The prison had 60 head of horses and 384 head of swine last year.

Rest of the 820 men at the prison are engaged in the 133 industries that make up the prison work schedule. Some are cooks, dining room workers, shop workers, janitors, laundry workers and hospital employees. Proof of the healthful atmosphere around Bellefonte is shown by the fact that only four men are in the hospital.

The money taken in by the canteen sales within the prison goes into the Prisoners Aid Fund which pays for the prisoners' entertainment. None of the taxpayers' money is used for entertainment. Entertainment at the prison consists of movies twice a week, speakers, and entertainment groups that come to the prison. The men also have a library which is made possible by contributions. The men enjoy sports at the prison and, with the passing of the basketball season, are organizing baseball teams.

For Commissioner—

(Continued From Page One) rector in College township for 8 years, and at present is a member of the Centre County Board of School Directors and holds the office of first vice-president.

In addition, Mr. Bohn is a director of the Centre County Tuberculosis and Health Society, serving in that capacity since the inception of the organization in 1946.

He has been a forest fire warden for the past 12 years and is now completing his third term as president of the Centre County Automobile Association which is affiliated with the AAA and the Pennsylvania Motor Federation.

George, as he is familiarly known to his host of friends, is a well-known figure around many public sales in Centre County. He has officiated as sales clerk for public sales for the past 18 years.

In announcing his candidacy for County Commissioner on the Democratic ticket, Mr. Bohn pledges his time, energy and ability to the performance of the duties of that office.

You can understand what goes on in Congress when you realize that every member represents a district and nobody represents the nation.

Gas Drillers—

(Continued From Page One) Mr. Wilson said earlier that three rigs would be used in the first drillings. Each well will require about three months to drill and cost at least $225,000. Wells will go to 7,000 feet and possibly 9,000.

Meanwhile, Bellefonte's Burgess has been informed a successful well has been drilled on land in Clinton county of which he is part owner. The well blew in at 6:30 p. m. Thursday and was gauged at 13 1/2 million cubic feet daily. The well was drilled by the Cabot Co., of Boston, which owns drilling rights to 85 acres, 35 of which is owned by heirs of Judge Henry Quigley.

The ownership of the land is a story in itself since it is the residue of a tract of land purchased in 1906. The Quigley heirs were traced to ascertain ownership. Fifty acres of the tract are the property of J. J. Laban. The Quigley heirs include Hugh M. Quigley of Bellefonte, Miss Henrietta Quigley of New York City, and Mrs. W. Fred Reynolds, Jr., of East Orange, N. J.

In addition, drilling for natural gas is expected to start in 30 days on acreage covering 12 farms between Boolsburg and Potters Mills. Several thousand acres of land have been leased for oil and gas rights by Wesson & Company of Pennsylvania, oil and gas producers with operations also in Ohio.

Herman B. Rogovy, president; Ray E. Wertz, vice president and general manager, and Guy P. McCracken of the company's New Castle office, were in Centre County this week to stake the location of the first well.

They reported that two geologists have surveyed and inspected the land, certifying the supply.

Mr. Rogovy said there are indications that the area should be a good producer of gas, but we have no way of telling how much success the venture will have, until we have our first well down.

Well-drilling machinery will be moved to the site in about a month. The company expects to go down about 6,000 or 7,000 feet in one of the largest ventures it has ever attempted.

Federal approval of the project, necessary to obtain pipe, and approval of the State's securities commission, have been given, the officers reported.

Actual drilling will probably last three or four months before the company will hit the gas pocket it is seeking.

Mr. Rogovy said a vast area of potential gas in the natural gas fields and indicated several industries and concerns already have expressed interest in purchasing any gas found in the new field.

Mr. Yocum explained the drilling process involves more time in this section due to the hills and hazardous rock formations.

The lease agreements with land owners call for a one-eighth return on the production of the wells.

19 Defendants—

(Continued From Page One) jury, was honored by the court in an opinion filed yesterday. Samuel Jubelirer, of Hollidaysburg, attorney for the defendant, requested the bill so that his client could have "a fair trial". District Attorney F. L. Willard was directed to file the bill.

Local Airport—

(Continued From Page One) of this nature is for the township to tender a bond to secure payment of damages and if the same has been accepted, or if it is refused and the bond is filed in and approved by the court, the township has the right to immediate possession.

As of yesterday, records at the court house did not show that the bond was filed in or approved by the court.

When the bond is filed or accepted and if the parties cannot agree on the value of the same, viewers would be appointed by the court to assess damages and benefits due to the taking of private land. The viewers would file a report in court fixing the damages. The township would then have to pay the amount.

Bystanders are those who can do the job better.

(Continued From Page One) tee, reported members of the committee are being appointed when acceptances are received. The committee will have a meeting with the borough solicitor and tax collectors at a latter date.

John S. Dubbs resigned as faculty advisor to LaBelle, the student yearbook, and the resignation was accepted. Mr. Dubbs also is advisor to the Red and White News.

The Board granted salary increases of $20 monthly to members of the secretarial staff and $30 monthly to the school custodians.

Is Candidate—

(Continued From Page One) W. High street where he worked for almost nine years. Following employment at Sutton Engineering Co. and later as a guard at Rockview Penitentiary for five years, he went to work for the Pennsylvania Department of Highways. In 1942 he accepted a position in the fire department at the Susquehanna Ordnance Depot at Williamsport and continued in that work until 1946.

He was an equipment operator for the highway department from then until last November when he became employed at the Bellefonte Elks Club. In March he became a parts inspector at Titan Metal Company.

An active member of the Logan Fire Company for 30 years, Mr. Love served as chief of the company in 1946 and 1950. He is also the county vice-chairman of the State Volunteer Firemen's Association. He is a member of Bellefonte Lodge, No. 1094, BPOE. He is also a member of St. John's Episcopal church here.

Mr. Love is married to the former Elizabeth L. Griffith of Halsion, Pa. They have a son, Cuyler, aged nine. Mr. Love is interested in all sports and is an ardent fisherman.

In announcing his candidacy, he said: "If nominated and elected to the office of Sheriff of Centre county, I shall endeavor to serve the county faithfully and efficiently in the conduct of that important office. My love, vote and support will be greatly appreciated."

Flames which started in a woodshed and threatened to destroy a farm home caused approximately $1,000 damage on the Ellsworth C. Dunkle farm near Meeck's church in Ferguson township, Sunday afternoon.

Motorists passing the home warned the family and then helped form bucket brigades to protect the home until the Alpha firemen arrived from State College.

The fire destroyed the woodshed and leveled another small building adjoining the house. The roof and side of a wing extending from the house were damaged.

During the fire, several large paint cans stored in the building next to the house exploded. Several small pieces of machinery in the same building were removed and when the flames reached the house, some furniture was carried out.

Several of the persons who were helping fight the fire had their clothes damaged and received slight burns.

Hospital Work—

On the smaller jobs, workmen on Monday poured concrete for what will form the roof of the main entrance, a one story wing. Some bricklayers were already assigned the job of laying up the walls for this portion of the structure.

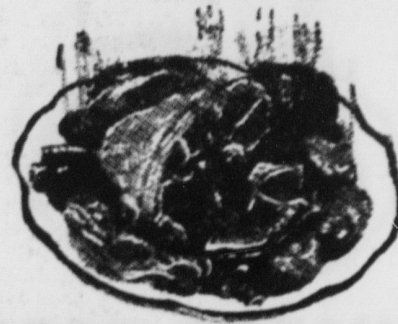

Down inside, plumbers and heating contractors continued their duties. All pipes and heating conduits from the three boilers form a maze in the basement. Much of the pipe for laundry facilities has been set in place.

The laundry will be located in the rear extension on a low level and the kitchen will occupy the corresponding space above.

The time to start saving for your old age is today; you will never at some time in the future.
