ONE PROLIFIC TEXT.

Several Preachers Take Up the Work of the Wind in Pittsburg,

DRAWING ITS DIVERSE LESSONS.

Dr. Holland on the Whirlwind of Bible Times and What It Was Like.

OTHER SERMONS IN A SIMILAR VEIN

The recent disaster in Diamond and Wood streets furnished an interesting text for several sermons yesterday. Among them none was more instructive than the one preached at the Bellefield Presbyterian Church last evening by Rev. Dr. W. J. Holland, whose text was: "Behold the whirlwind of the Lord; even his fury is gone forth, a sweeping tempest," from Jeremiah xxx, 23. On this subject he discoursed, in substance, as follows:

In the scriptures of the Old Testament the whirlwind is frequently mentioned as a messenger of violent and sweeping destruction. Palestine is subject to fierce winds, sweeping from the east and southeast, and charged with great power of destruction. The meteoric conditions are such as to favor greatly the productions of cyclonic movements in the air. The hot, arid wastes of the Arabian deserts lying to the east and south, the cold tablelands and snowy mountain tops of Asia Minor to the north; the one region engendering hot currents of air, which, meeting the cooler currents blowing from the opposite direction, produce rotary storms of more or less severity.

Of the power resident in the air when in motion as a storm, we have had impressive illustrations during the past week. Two of the cities of this Commonwealth, our own one of them, are full of mourning to-night, because of the ruin and death wrought by the winds in their might.

A FEARFUL POWER.

"As thin as air," we say, and imagine that it is impossible to conceive anything thinner and less substantial, and therefore devoid of power. But this fluid which we call air, made up of about one part of oxygen to four of nitrogen, when set in motion by cosmic forces has a fearful power. The gale which blew down that building in our city, and wrecked a great manufactory in Reading and swept away a suspension bridge at Niagara Falls, was a severe one, no doubt, and made memorable because there lay in its path structures which had not strength enough to resist its fury, carrying down to their death a great number of men, women and children and destroying a vast amount of invested capital. But it furnished no comparison with other gales which have blown even recently; it was not the terrible air motion which the ruin wrought would suggest that it was. It was not a whirlwind or a cyclone in the strict sense of the words. Had it been a cyclone, such as sweep across the Western prairies, the ruin and wreck would have doubtless been greater.

It is almost impossible to convey in words a scene of the awful grandeur and destroying power which resides in the true cyclone. At the time the village of Irving, Kan., was swept away, such was the force of the wind that shingles were driven through boards by the blast as bullets are driven into wood by the discharge of a gun.

It is this destroying and deathdealing power of the whirlwind, which causes it to be employed by the prophets and psalmists as a type and emblem of the anger of God against sin. It is the prevalent doctrine of the scriptures that God is angry against sin, and pitted with a hot indignation against iniquity. God is not indifferent to violations of His most holy laws. Men often sink into carelessness because punishment is delayed; but, sooner or later, they are doomed from their dream of carnal security. They cannot violate God's will with impunity; neither the physical laws of His universe nor His moral laws. The Bible likens the vengeance of God against sin to the whirlwind.

Are you to infer from what I have said that the awful calamity which has befallen some of our fellow-citizens is a revelation of God's anger against those who have suffered because of the iniquity found in them? By no means! That was the folly of the Jews who came to Pilate; who told him of the Galileans who mingled blood with their sacrifices. Christ rebuked them, saying that they were not sinners above all the Galileans because they suffered such things, and added the words, "Except ye repent, ye shall all yet be punished."

The Doctor concluded by urging upon his hearers the necessity of repentance and faith.

ONE ABSOLUTE INDEMNITY,

And That Pertains Alone to the Soul in an Eternity Without Accidents.

Rev. W. H. Pearce, pastor of the Butler Street Methodist Episcopal Church, preached last evening on "The Calamity and its Lessons." The reverend gentleman, after referring to the sad accident of last Wednesday, said:

Some very unwise and morbid people are saying that this is one of God's judgments, but I don't believe it. There are some important lessons which we should give heed to: There is no absolute indemnity from the destructive forces of nature. They are oftentimes mightier than human invention, and so irresistible that nothing that man's hands ever erected can stand against them. Then there is no absolute indemnity against the loss of property. A wind, flood, fire, a bad bargain, an unwise or rascally partner, or bad habits would sweep all away and leave one penniless. There is likewise no absolute indemnity from physical danger. Every step taken puts us in physical peril.

My friends, look back at the deaths of those 15 men who lost their lives and those who were injured in the awful crash of Wednesday. When they went out in the morning they had no more thought of accident than you or I have at this moment.

There is, however, positive indemnity from the ultimate loss of the soul, and, moreover, we learn the power and depth of human sympathy by this dread calamity. Still further, here we learn of a land without accident or death.

A collection amounting to between $40 and $50 was taken up for the benefit of the sufferers.

THE DANGER SIGNAL.

An Interesting Sermon Delivered by Rev. T. J. Leak Last Night.

The North Avenue M. E. Church in Allegheny was crammed last evening when Dr. T. J. Leak preached a sermon on "The Danger Signal." His text was Ezekiel, xxxiii.: 7, 8 and 9. The substance of which is: "I have set a watchman unto the house of Israel; if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand."

Dr. Leak spoke of the danger signals from ancient times to the present day, and concluded his sermon by referring to the Wood street disaster. He did not attach any blame to the contractor of the Willey building, as the text might indicate, but advised his hearers to be prepared for death at all times.

THE MORAL SIDE OF IT.

The Divine Lessons Covered to Man in Sudden Calamities.

"Sudden Calamities" was the timely topic discussed by the Rev. David Jones, of the First M. P. Church, Fifth avenue. He said:

Pagan beings were, and, to a certain extent, civilized beings are, always in danger from sudden calamity. The latter must build bridges, railroads, and even attempt to bridge the sea. Calamities are here for moral ends and moral purposes; a part of God and His divine government.

At first glance it appears harsh, but closer inspection will develop its goodness. He is not a mere spectator, but is in all events, and calamities renew our sense of earthly insecurity and teach us responsibility to ourselves and to God.

NOT A PUNISHMENT FOR SIN.

Rev. Dr. J. M. Fulton Preaches a Sermon on the Great Disaster.

Rev. James M. Fulton, of the Fourth U. P. Church, Allegheny, also preached on the great disaster, taking his text from Ecclesiastes ix.:1-2, the substance of which is that the righteous and the wise and their works are in the hands of God; that all things come alike to all—to the wicked, to the good and to the clean.

Dr. Fulton did not believe that God intended the disaster as a punishment for sins committed by the victims. The accident showed the sympathy which is in the human heart, as was indicated by the labors of the people, who worked day and night to alleviate the sufferings of the injured and of many others who contributed money for the assistance of the families of the dead.

MANY LESSONS DRAWN.

Rev. Litchliter Delivers a Sermon on the Wood Street Accident.

Rev. M. D. Litchliter, of the Liberty Street M. E. Church, delivered an address last evening on the subject of "Failing Walls, or Mistaken Ideas of Providence." He chose as the text for his address the falling of the tower in Siloam. He stated that he wished to correct the impression that a great loss of life is a special judgment of God, visited upon the victims for their wickedness. We are not to infer from a calamity that the sufferers are guilty above all others. If God was seeking for the most guilty in Pittsburg, he would not have destroyed the lives of honest workingmen and gentlemanly clerks, but would have stricken down those who are too indolent to work. Continuing, the reverend gentleman said:

This world is not a place of retribution. God extends mercy now, but will impose punishment in the future, if we reject the mercy extended. The first lesson to be drawn is that there is a God. Men give a scientific analysis of the accident; but, after all, above and around it is God. Men need to be impressed with this fact.

The second lesson to be drawn is what God can do and what He has done, when people are disobedient. Men laugh at religion, yet it is the good people in this world that are saving it from destruction. This was illustrated before the destruction of Sodom.

Another lesson is the recklessness and carelessness with which lives as well as other structures are built. Men build on sand, and not on the solid rock. They build on sunshine, so that when the storm comes the house is destroyed.

Mistaken ideas of Divine Providence are held. There are two things that the speaker cannot understand. One is the doctrine that whatever is directed will happen, and the other is, "whatever is is right." The Divine law and the human law will work together in harmony, but whenever the latter opposes the former confusion will result.

The concluding lesson was the uncertainty of life. It was not only the old, but the young, who were suddenly cut off by this accident.

FOUND A LONG-LOST FATHER.

After a Separation of Over Thirty Years They Will Meet Again.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, January 13.—A gentleman who is a well-known resident of this city and a practicing attorney before the several departments of the Government, called upon the chief of the army and navy survivors' division of the pension bureau, Friday last, and asked that the records might be searched for the postoffice address of his father, who had served during the war, first in the Third Ohio volunteers, afterward in the Thirty-third Ohio volunteers. The father and son had met last in 1857, but had kept up a correspondence until 1864, when the father was taken sick and sent to the hospital.

The son, upon application to the War Department, learned that his father had been mustered out with his regiment in 1865. After listening to his statement the chief of the division, Major Butts, sent for the files of the Thirty-third Ohio volunteers and found not only the full record of the father's service, but, to the great joy of the son, his present postoffice address, which is Warm Springs, Ark. It is to be hoped that a pleasant meeting between father and son will soon take place.

THE NEW BISHOPS.

Southern Ohio Episcopalians Anxious to Greet Rev. Dr. Boyd Vincent.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

COLUMBUS, O., January 13.—Friday next, at Trinity Church, this city, Rev. Dr. J. M. Kendrick will be consecrated Episcopal Bishop of Arizona and New Mexico. Right Rev. Bishop Tuttle, of Missouri, will be the consecrating Bishop, and Right Rev. Nelson S. Rulison, of Central Pennsylvania, will preach the sermon.

Friday of next week, at St. Paul's Church, Cincinnati, Rev. Dr. Boyd Vincent, of Pittsburg, will be consecrated assistant Bishop of this Episcopal diocese. The Episcopal people of Southern Ohio are greatly interested in the coming of their new Bishop. Bishop Jaggar has been ill so long that the need of a permanent head of the church has been sadly felt in this field.

THE BRICKLAYERS' CONVENTION.

Delegates Arriving at Cleveland, Where They Will be Welcomed by the Mayor.

CLEVELAND, O., January 13.—The twenty-third annual convention of the Bricklayers and Masons' International Union of America will begin to-morrow morning. Two hundred and fifty delegates are expected, and 150 have already arrived.

Mayor Babcock, at the opening of the convention, will welcome the bricklayers to the city, and his address will be responded to by President Darragh. A banquet will be given to the delegates at Germania Hall on Friday evening, and among the speakers engaged for the occasion is Congressman T. E. Burton.

DETERMINED TO KILL.

An Ex-Sheriff Shot, Stabbed and Thrown Into a Burning Barn.

CLEVELAND, O., January 13.—Ex-Sheriff Hobensack, of Union county, who lives near Mount Hickory, had a terrible experience with two robbers last night. Hearing a noise in his barn, he went out to investigate. There two men set upon him, shooting him twice and inflicting seven wounds with a knife. They threw the wounded man into a manger and set fire to the barn, which was destroyed after Hobensack had been rescued by members of his family. The injured man will probably die. Suspicion rests upon two colored men.

Insurance Company's Banquet.

The annual banquet of the Allegheny Fire Insurance Company will be held at the Monongahela House to-day. The banquet will be given by the directors of the company to their employes. About 50 covers will be laid.

Impure Blood

Is the cause of Boils, Carbuncles, Pimples, Eczema, and cutaneous eruptions of all kinds. There can be no permanent cure for these complaints until the poison is eliminated from the system. To do this thoroughly, the safest and most effective medicine is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Give it a trial.

"For the past twenty-five years I have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In my opinion, the best remedial agencies for the cure of all diseases arising from impurities of the blood are contained in this medicine."—G. C. Brock, Druggist, Lowell, Mass.

"My wife was for a long time a sufferer from tumors on the neck. Nothing did her any good until she tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which made a complete cure."—W. S. Martin, Burning Springs, W. Va.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommend it when asked to name the best blood-purifier."—W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Price $1; six bottles, $5. Worth $5 a bottle.

RAILROADS AND LAWYERS

Interested in a Case That Has Been Decided Against the State.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

TITUSVILLE, January 13.—In speaking of the Pittsburg, Shenango and Lake Erie case, mention of which has been briefly made in THE DISPATCH, the Herald to-morrow will say:

The case of the Commonwealth against the Pittsburg, Shenango and Lake Erie Railroad Company, involving the legality of the reorganization of the Shenango and Allegheny Railroad and its consolidation and merger with the Erie, Shenango and Pittsburg Railway Company and the Northeastern Ohio Railroad Company, and the issue of bonds and stocks in accordance with the terms of the reorganization and consolidation agreement, to restrain which a preliminary injunction was granted by the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin county, at the request of the Attorney General, three weeks ago, came on for hearing before an examiner at Harrisburg on Thursday last. The Commonwealth was represented by Attorney General Kilpatrick, assisted by Lyman Gilbert and Robert Snodgrass, Deputy Attorney Generals. The railroad company was represented by Hon. Franklin B. Gowan, of Philadelphia, and Edward S. Tempieton and Colonel Lewis Walker, attorneys. The evidence submitted showed conclusively that the company had complied with all the requirements of the law, except the formal filing of a certificate, and that the value of the property acquired by reorganization and several consolidations was greatly in excess of the proposed issue of bonds and stock, and that no fictitious issue of either stock or bonds had been made, intended nor contemplated.

The testimony was so conclusive on the part of the company that the Attorney General stated to the court that he was thoroughly satisfied from the evidence that the company had fully complied with all the requirements of law and asked the court to dissolve the preliminary injunctions and to dismiss the case, which the court at once ordered. A. H. Steele, President, and P. E. McCray, Secretary, at once filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth the formal certificate of the capitalization under the reorganization and consolidation agreements, in addition to the agreements themselves, which were filed at the date of the several meetings, which counsel deemed as full compliance with the acts of consolidation and laws of the States of Pennsylvania and Ohio.

This case attracted much attention in railroad and legal circles, as it involved constructions of lines about which eminent counsel differed, and its result would apply to and affect many other roads reorganized since the passage of the act of May 7, 1877. It is understood that this action affirms the right of the reorganized company to issue bonds and stock only to the extent of the indebtedness of its predecessors and the necessary legal expenses of reorganization, and that the actual value for railroad purposes, as ascertained by competent, disinterested persons, is the proper measure for the issue of bonds and stock for property acquired under the provisions of the new Constitution and existing laws.

A CLEVELAND CONFLAGRATION.

The Central Power Block Damaged to the Extent of $37,200.

CLEVELAND, O., January 13.—Fire in the Central Power Block, corner of Michigan and Seneca streets, this morning, caused a loss of $37,200, divided as follows: Striebinger Bros., owners of the building, $8,000; Perkins Specialty Lock Co., $20,000; Wilson Bros., cigar box manufacturers, $5,000; Enterprise Egg Crate Co., $1,200; Clifford Architectural Iron Co., $1,500; Barge & Holl, lumber, $1,500. The insurance is considerably less than the loss.
