GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY.

Probably there is no subject of a sporting kind concerning which there is so much diversity of opinion as training. There seems to have been almost as many different methods as there have been trainers. This variety is found in all branches of sport, but perhaps there have been more theories advanced in relation to training pugilists than in anything else.

THE AMERICAN SIDE

Of the Samoan Affair Narrated by Correspondent Klein.

THE GERMANS FIRED FIRST

And Shelled Villages Without Consulting Consuls of Treaty Powers.

OUTRAGES BY BRUTAL SAILORS.

Insolent and Haughty Conduct of Bismarck's Backless Representative.

Correspondent Klein's story of the late slaughter in Samoa differs materially from that furnished by the German Consul.

The brutal conduct of drunken German sailors precipitated the affray, according to his narrative.

The haughty conduct of the Imperial Consul and the ill-treatment of Americans is also dispassionately discussed.

New York, January 27.—John C. Klein, the newspaper correspondent who, the Consul says, led the Samoan against the German sailors in the last battle, sends the following narrative from Apia, under date of January 5.

Mr. Klein's account of the affair differs materially from that furnished by the German Consul. He says:

Never in the history of Samoa has the situation been so alarming as at the present time, not alone for the natives themselves, but for the American and English residents also.

Since my last letter as the result of the continued tyrannical action of the Imperial German Consul, Dr. Knapp, two sailors from the three German ships now in the harbor have been killed.

Two American and English houses have been burned, together with the flags of these nations, American citizens taken prisoners by armed German men-of-war boats, the occupants of which forced them to submit at the muzzle of their rifles, and the Captain and First Lieutenant of an English man-of-war were nearly shot by German sailors from one of the war vessels.

All this has happened within four days. The trouble has only just commenced. Tamasese's loss in killed alone up to the present time has been about 90.

AN ANARCHIST BARRAGE.

Sacriligious Scenes at a Celebration by Alleged Turner Societies—Example of the Haymarket Martyrs to be Followed—No Police Present.

CHICAGO, January 27.—Three thousand persons attended a festival and ball given this afternoon and evening at West Twelfth street Turner Hall, by an alleged combination of 21 so-called singing and Turner societies for the benefit of the families of the executed and imprisoned leaders of the Haymarket massacre.

The walls were crowded with caricatures, one representing a policeman being blown up by a dynamite ball, while on either side were allegorical figures representing Christianity and Judaism falling dead.

Other pictures were of a revolting type, the subject being the Bible, the milk and honey, and the Ten Commandments.

German immigrants at Castle Garden were portrayed as being tyrannical Irish, searched for bombs, while troops of Irish, Scotch and Slavs, "imported by contract," are allowed unimpeded to land.

Another canvas had a terrorized looking female figure labeled "The Mother of the Nation," and another of the "Arbeiter Zeitung," delivered an eulogy on the "Heroes"—the "sacred martyrs" who were sleeping the dreamless sleep in West.

CONSEQUENCES OF THE DISPATCH.

PORTLAND, ME., January 26.—If you get a drink in a Maine city you can get it without trouble.

In Portland, Bangor and other places I have seen hotel guests order wine with their meals and it was served to them with as little fuss as if they had ordered coffee.
