

ALL HOPE IN CARNOT.

Conservative, Sensible Frenchmen Have No Other Way to Turn.

BOULANGER ON THE TOP WAVE.

Almost Humorous Orders for Court Mourning for Prince Rudolf.

EDITOR STAAD HAVING LOTS OF FUN.

The Bismarcks Paying No Attention to the Stories Told About Them.

Conservative Frenchmen are basing all their hopes of a stable government on President Carnot's good sense. They dare say nothing, for Boulanger's popularity just now is too great throughout France. Precise and almost humorous orders to court mourning for the death of Prince Rudolf have been issued. The Queen's wedding anniversary, approaching, will be the usual solemn, cheerless affair. Rubenstein and Von Bulow are making sarcastic comments on the length of each other's hair and ears.

DISCORD AMONG MUSICIANS.

Rubenstein and Von Bulow Discuss the Rights of Each Other's Hair and Ears.

London, February 2.—The condition of things in France remains practically what it was on Sunday night, when Boulanger was declared elected. The Cabinet have shown their determination to stand as long as Paris does not turn them out by force and they have a majority, however small, in the Chamber of Deputies to support them. The Boulangerists are quiet and Boulanger is invisible and wisely says very little, wanting to see popular feeling do anything more for him.

HAVING LOTS OF FUN.

Editor Stead's Great Opportunity to Pay His Debts.

London, February 2.—It is amusing to note how fiercely the British mind continues to theorize over the authorship of the anti-Bismarck article in the Contemporary Review. That article, as telegraphed you some time ago, was written by Mr. Stead, the editor of the Pall Mall Gazette, the alleged news which it contained being supplied partly by himself and partly by more distinguished personages, but that fact has not yet got back here, the Pall Mall Gazette takes the lead in booming the mystery which surrounds the article, and which is being rapidly and with the aid of the editor, it prints interviews with the editor of the Contemporary Review, who solemnly refuses to divulge Stead's name, and reproduces columns from other papers, containing various theories as to the authorship.

PRECISE MOURNING ORDERS.

Almost Humorous Minutness of the Programme for the Court.

London, February 2.—The death of the Crown Prince of Austria has sent the court into mourning, but not in the young women who are getting ready to go to their drawing rooms, the mourning will be brief, and will terminate on the 14th, so that they will be able to appear in the gowns which they have meditated and planned for long months back.

THE BISMARCKS UNRUFFLED.

Numerous Attempts to Injure Their Reputations Having Little Effect.

London, February 2.—The attack on Bismarck, which has created so much interest, has called forth numerous minor attempts to injure the reputation of the Bismarck family. Lots of little 3-penny writers of society news are relating how Herbert Bismarck, when he was here, made it a point to get drunk and be carried home when he went to balls, how he only came for good society because among the better classes the morals are worse, etc.

A SOLEMN, CHEERLESS AFFAIR.

Federal Preparations for the Queen's Wedding Anniversary Contrived.

London, February 2.—The Queen is to celebrate in a few days the forty-ninth anniversary of her wedding, which falls on Sunday, the 10th inst. Like all the other functions which recall the Prince Consort, this is solemn, cheerless and uninteresting. The Queen's health is drunk by all the household, who are expected to look very solemn and mournful, as though they could see the commonplace features of Prince Albert before them, and the memory of the Queen's dead husband is honored in silence, which means that everybody stands, and says and does nothing.

A HUNT FOR OLD BIBLES.

Imprecations From Overlooking Their Libraries for Old Bibles.

London, February 2.—Lord Hopton recently discovered accidentally, in the library of his country mansion, a copy of the famous Masorah Bible, which he has since sold for nearly £4,000. All the impious poets in this kingdom are now overhauling their libraries, in the hope of making a equally valuable find.

CHALLENGED FOR IMPOLITENESS.

The Duke of Marlborough Cannot Join in the Hunt, as he sold the Blenheim Library Long since, as well as the ancestral pictures.

PARIS, FEBRUARY 2.—M. Laguerre, the prominent Boulangerist Deputy, has challenged Deputy La Croix to fight a duel.

WILLIAM MILLER HAS BEEN ARRESTED ON A CHARGE OF STEALING AN OVERCOAT, A WATCH AND THREE SUIT CASES.

Mrs. Mary Baker, who was arrested in Fishman's store on Friday on the charge of shop lifting, gave bail for a hearing next Tuesday. She says she can easily clear herself. Mrs. Baker was committed to spend the night in Central station.

THE OFFICIAL AUTOPTIC.

Physicians Declare That the Crown Prince Was Sincerely Insane.

Vienna, February 2.—The court surgeons, in their official report on the death of Crown Prince Rudolf, say that they found a peculiar flattening of the skull internally, a depression of the cerebral folds, and an enlargement of the ventricle of the brain. These abnormal conditions, the surgeons say, justify the belief that the Crown Prince was insane. A few persons were permitted to view the remains to-day.

DISCORD AMONG MUSICIANS.

Rubenstein and Von Bulow Discuss the Rights of Each Other's Hair and Ears.

London, February 2.—Dr. Hans von Bulow is engaged in a quarrel quite as lively as any of the many in which he has previously figured. Anton Rubenstein, the great Russian composer, is anxious to produce in Berlin one of his symphonies, and von Bulow's assistance in such matters is considered absolutely necessary in the German capital, application was made to him to act as director, and no one supposed he would refuse, because he has hitherto been known as an ardent admirer of the great Russian, and upon one occasion even went so far as to kiss Rubenstein's hand and bid him "adieu."

SALISBURY OUT OF SHAPE.

The Sackville Incident Only One of Many That Prey on His Mind.

London, February 2.—Lord Salisbury's health is bad, his family are worried and he is going to the Continent. The Sackville incident, it is said, preys on his mind. He is supposed to worry a great deal about foreign governments, and is troubled with insomnia.

PROTESTS AGAINST COERCION.

A Constable Resigns and Lord Mayor Sexton Sends Dublin Castles.

Dublin, February 2.—Father Merriman, of Castle Connell, was sentenced to five weeks' imprisonment for an offense under the crimes act. Constable Clifton of Kildyart, was fined as a protest against the harsh treatment of Mr. O'Brien by the prison officials at Clonmel.

THE STRIKE WILL FAIL.

New York Cars Are Beginning to Resume Practical Operations.

New York, February 2.—The fifty-day of the surface street car strike has abundant evidence that the spirit, if not the backbone of the movement, is broken. A very great number of the strikers are looking for work at the stables, and those who still insist on their strike appear to be only half-hearted in their resistance. At the hour for starting cars on the several lines that were running yesterday scarcely a striker was to be seen.

POOR BOARD AND POLITICS.

A Prospect for a Lively Fight in That Line at Ulsterstown.

Ulsterstown, February 2.—A bomb exploded in the Republican ranks to-day, and is causing considerable comment as it becomes known. Last Friday the Poor Directors elected W. F. Jackson, of Ohio City, Steward of the County Home, after several days of contest with Capt. Murphy, Sheriff, and John D. Carr, present Steward, also being candidates. The Board of Directors stands two Republicans and one Democrat. Carr was the choice of the Republican leaders, and was supported by Carothers, Republican, but could not get the support of Shipley, the other Republican.

VALUABLE COAL LAND PURCHASED.

J. W. Moore & Co. yesterday purchased 200 acres of valuable coal lands near the Mammoth works. This is the last tract of coal land in the Sewickley valley. The price paid for the property could not be learned.

DROPPED DEAD AT WHITEHILL.

A married man named Jacob Gillan dropped dead at Whitehill, Brownville road, last evening, at 6 o'clock.

FLESHMAN'S STORE ON FRIDAY ON THE CHARGE OF SHOP LIFTING, GAVE BAIL FOR A HEARING NEXT TUESDAY.

She says she can easily clear herself. Mrs. Baker was committed to spend the night in Central station.

BISMARCK ON TIME.

He Didn't Fail to Hear From Secretary Bayard Before Ordering Backward Steps Taken in Samoa.

Washington, February 2.—Secretary Bayard said this afternoon that he had not yet received the proposition from Prince Bismarck for a conference in regard to Samoa affairs, but thought it would arrive in a few days. It would, of course, be forwarded through the German Minister here.

A BABOON PUT ALMOST TO SLEEP.

And None of Them Took Kindly to the Hooks of Inquiring Scientists.

Experiments were made yesterday at the Barnum winter quarters in Bridgeport upon a number of animals to witness the effect of electricity, and the results were amusing as well as instructive. Some of the animals seemed to have their wildest instincts spurred up, while others were almost put to sleep. One poor dog exhibited signs of hydrophobia and had to be killed.

MONKEYS MADE TO ACT LIKE LITTLE CHILDREN.

And None of Them Took Kindly to the Hooks of Inquiring Scientists.

The small monkeys acted very much like little children. The moment they felt the current they screamed and seemed to be in agony. The battery was removed and they looked puzzled, and three of them took up the electrodes as if to study them. A large blue monkey was so interested that when released he seized the large sponge of the battery and tried to eat it. The resistance of the monkeys varied from 5,100 to 7,000 ohms.

THE TAME SEAL GETS MAD.

A tame seal was the next subject. It came from his cage at the keeper's call, and entered the circle around which the electricians were seated. He attempted to fasten one roll of copper wire around his neck and a second around its tail.

WORK FOR 6,000 MEN.

The Moonshine Silver Mines to Start Tomorrow.

The river mines will be put in operation tomorrow and the 3-cent rate of wages will be continued. There was no strike of the miners, as was stated, as the pits were closed because there was no demand for coal, in fact there is no demand now, but the operators desire to load boats for the New Orleans trade. All work will be given in operation on Monday and work will be given to about 6,000 men who have been idle for two months.

THE FUTURE FIRST LADY.

She is About Through With Her Shopping in the Metropolis.

New York, February 2.—Russell Harrison did not arrive in the city to-day, but his mother is counting on seeing him tomorrow. That will be Mrs. Harrison's last day at the Gilsey House. She will give up her rooms to-morrow evening, and spend the next two or three days with friends, starting for Indianapolis on Tuesday or Wednesday with her daughter.

THE MACHINERY CONTRACTORS' MEETING.

The Elba Iron Works, on Second avenue, have a reputation for the best work of the firm. The firm is trying to secure the contract of the Continental Tube Works, and if they can accomplish this object they will resume operations at the rolling mill.

WARM FIGHT FOR ALDERMAN.

A warm contest is expected in the Twelfth ward for the position of Alderman. The Democrats are J. O'Shea, Frank Stamik, Thomas Rafferty and James Driscoll. The Republicans are J. H. Nobbs and Roger Lowe. For Select Council the Democrats are Patrick Donnelly and John Blaney, and the Republicans are James Clark and Reuben Smith. The primaries will be held Thursday evening.

BIG CARPET REMNANTS.

Enough to Cover Any Ordinary Room.

We have grouped the short lengths of all grades of carpets on our second floor. They will all go this week at the prices we bring out on them. If you have a carpet, or will need one this spring, come as early in the week as possible for one of these short lengths. The rush will begin when people learn that we will close our bill out at this price.

THESE 85 OVERCOATS.

Saturday was busy times at our store. We advertised it as the last day of our great $8 sale, and had more than we could attend to; so we have decided to continue this sale for one day longer. To-morrow (Monday) will positively be the last day these bargains will be offered, and it's the last chance you will have of taking choice of all our elegant leopards, tigers, and other animal overcoats, many of them silk and satin lined, and worth from $25 to $35, for $8. Cape coats and ulsters also included in this sale.

IT WILL NOT BE GENERAL.

The Proposed Strike of Coal Workers Will Likely Prove a Failure—A List of the Works Now Idle.

The proposed strike in the Connellsville coke region, as announced in this paper yesterday, will not become general. At a number of works the men have come out, but the operators seem to be making a suspension of operations in different parts of the region. They claim that the production is greater than the demand, which has necessitated operating the ovens only five days a week, and some of them only four days. This has been the cause of some trouble, as the men who only received four days' work claimed that they were being imposed upon.

THE MUSIC WORLD.

An Event That Will Interest the Musically Inclined Hereabout.

SKETCH OF MORIZ ROSENTHAL.

Who Delighted List When a Lad and Has Grown to be a Great Pianist.

A YOUNG VIOLINIST WITH A FUTURE.

Interesting Events and Group of the Past Week in Local Musical Circles.

Judging by the printed opinions of the foremost Eastern critics and by private reports of the utmost reliability, it can be said that the appearance of Moriz Rosenthal this week will stand in local annals among the two or three signal events of the current musical season. Unless the coming Monday or Tuesday should chance to be one of those "off-nights" which Rosenthal, like all artists, occasionally has, he will, in all probability, make a great mistake in not making an attempt at playing as much upon the fabled ignorance of his audience as upon the piano, intending auditors may fairly expect to hear a performance that will stand out prominently among the musical reminiscences of a lifetime. In the Eastern cities Rosenthal has been pre-eminently the musical sensation of the season, a little Josie Hofmann was last year, not only winning unanimous encomiums from the critics (at least for his technique; his intellectual ability being a matter of course), but also drawing extraordinary audiences all the while since his American debut last November.

A WONDERFUL CHILD.

Moriz Rosenthal was born December 18, 1862, at Lemberg, in the Province of Galicia, Austria. His father was a local school teacher. When he was 8 years old he began his musical studies with Charles Mikul, a pupil of Chopin's. Two years later he made his first public appearance at Lemberg, and soon afterwards he completed his musical education. There he studied with Josef for three years (1874-77), coming under the influence of the latter's programme that included Beethoven's great "Diabelli" variations, Chopin's F minor concerto. Ambitious for a great and successful career, he left Lemberg in October of the same year. Little Moriz played for List, who had the making of a great pianist in him. This encouraged him to take up the study of the piano, and he was named court pianist to the Queen of Roumania, and even attracted the attention of Liszt, who, in a friendly way, however, he soon gave up concerting, and devoted himself to the study of the piano. He was accepted as a pupil by Liszt, with whom he remained a year or more, divided between Weidmann's school and the great Abbe and in company with such fellow students as Friedheim, Sauer and Liszt, formed the nucleus of the conditions of the development of the young pianist's ability, and by December, 1878, he had progressed far enough to tell him to go to Paris and try his wings. His Parisian success was followed by a visit at Frankfurt, Wiesbaden and St. Petersburg.

MADE A MAN OF HIMSELF.

At this point in his brilliantly budding career, Moriz Rosenthal had the rare good sense to give up music for the time and devote his energies to the study of the law. He had completed his musical education, too few musical folk nowadays realize that, as Weber put it, "to be a true artist one must be a man of the world." Young Rosenthal went back to Vienna to make his final examination in 1883 at the notary's office. He entered the classical gymnasium, worked hard, and in the summer of 1884 he passed his final examination in 1883 at the notary's office. WANT ITS COMB CUT.

The State Board of Charities Says the Lunacy Commission is Exercising Too Much Power.

EVERYBODY TO HAVE A BOOK ON BIRDS.

The State to Furnish Free Text Books to the Public Schools.

THE INDIANAPOLIS DEFENDER WAS AN EXCEEDINGLY SMART SCOUNDREL.

Indianapolis, February 2.—Joseph A. Moore, the predecessor of John F. Sullivan in his flight to Canada, has undoubtedly been located in Montreal by the Canadian police. The insurance company, so far as can be learned, has done nothing toward recovering the "lost" money. The company has opened communication with the Montreal police or detectives.

EXERCISING GREAT POWER.

There is no power to stop them—not even the judgment of the local officials of the asylums, who are said to have on different occasions protested against receiving patients of an idiotic character. The overcrowded institutions, and thus necessary at most times into the immediate company of the violently insane. The commission probably acts in this matter with the very best intentions, and it is necessary that the State asylums and hospital are much better arranged from a sanitary point of view; that the food will be better and the medical attendance much superior. The overcrowded conditions of the asylums has nullified all of these advantages.

THE PEOPLE'S MONEY.

The State Treasurer's Statement of Custodians of the Public Funds.

Harrisburg, February 2.—According to the monthly statement of State Treasurer Hart and Auditor General McCamant there are in the general fund of the treasury $1,490,287 46, of which $287,889 19 is deposited in the Allegheny National Bank. The Economy Savings Bank for the year closes up with the sum of $100,000, which have been in the institution since Quays became Treasurer. Over $600,000 of the amount in the general fund are deposited in the Farmers and Mechanics' Bank and People's Bank of Philadelphia. The Commonwealth's guarantee fund, and Safe Deposit Company, of this city, of which State Treasurer Hart is cashier, is credited with having $17,000 on deposit, and two other banks of this city have $83,000 of the State funds. The firm of Dismeyer & Co. is favored with a deposit of $75,000.

FREE BIRD BOOKS.

The State to Publish 10,000 Copies at a Cost of $80,000.

Harrisburg, February 2.—A bill has passed the Senate and is now before the House providing for the printing of 10,000 more bird books, revised and improved. The cost will be about $80,000, including the plates, and many members feel that the State should hereafter furnish textbooks to the schools free of charge.

ELECTRIC LIGHT LEGISLATION.

Harrisburg, February 2.—Dr. McCullough, of Tarentum, will introduce a bill on Monday night extending the corporation act of 1874 to electric light and heat companies, and a bill to repeal the special supervisors' law of West Deer township, Allegheny county.
