THE PEN BOARD CONVENES.

Harrisburg Honorables Deny They Are Here to Investigate,

BUT THEY WILL AWAIT THE ISSUE.

The Board of Inspectors Adjourn Without Giving a Decision.

MAHARNEKE'S FATE DECIDED TO-NIGHT

The long expected, and perhaps to some people, long threatened legislative visit is being made here, and queerly enough, the solemn body of honorables descended upon this devoted city the same evening the Prison Inspection Board met and wrestled with the Maharneke problem.

The gentlemen registered at the Anderson are Messrs. Thompson, Billingsley, Baldwin, Fow and Marshall, representing a subcommittee of the State Appropriation Com-

The gentlemen were found in their rooms last night, and Mr. Thompson, Chairman, and for the nonce, spokesman of the party, said they were here solely for the purpose of examining and reporting on the affairs of the Mercy Hospital, Pittsburg and Allegheny Home for Friendless, Children's Aid Society, Home for Colored Children, Pittsburg Hospital for Children, Pittsburg Free Dispensary, Home for Aged Colored Women, Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, and last and most important, the Western Penitentiary.

"What is the exact purpose of your ONLY A COMMITTEE OF INQUIRY.

"Well," said Mr. Thompson, "all of these institutions have asked for appropriations from the State, and we are merely here to investigate, or rather inquire into these institutions, and will make our report and recommendations upon them to the whole committee when we return to Harrisburg next week."

"Is this visit anything unusual?" "No, not at all. The only difference is that this year the work is so widespread that the committee has been divided up into various sub-committees in order to facilitate the work."

"You are probably aware, gentlemen." ventured the questioner, "that the affairs of The Three Alleged St. Clair Shooters the Western Penitentiary are just now of peculiar interest to the people of this city?" A significant glance all around indicated that the pending investigation was of interest not alone to the people of the two cities, but perhaps to certain gentlemen from Harrisburg. Otherwise not one of the clever men present showed the least interest in the suggestion.

"The Inspection Board is now deliberating on the fate of Maharneke" continued the remorseless interviewer, but no symptom news, and in fact that the gentlemen knew all about it, and could give him a pointer

ABOUT THAT GROUND PURCHASE. "Well." continued the Chairman, "as far as the Western Penitentiary is concerned, we are merely here to ascertain the purpose of their appropriations asked, and to report upon the advisability of voting them an additional $40,000 for the purpose of purchasing 21 lots lying about the place, which they wish to buy in order that the owners may not erect buildings on them that would it teriere with the pen; also, I believe, for the purpose of utilizing the land."

"Has your visit any bearing on the recent investigation?

We have nothing whatever to do with Maharneke. Of course we have read with interest the reports of the doctor's trial, as the charges were very serious. "What about the resolution to investigate the penitentiary?"

"Really we prefer not to talk of the matter, though we can say that the resolution is in the committee's hands. Nothing will be done and no suggestions will be made until the result of the investigation is known. It is in their hands now, and we

As the gentlemen above named have the politicians' beautiful knack of not being interviewed when they don't want to be, and of eleverly evading all leading questions, the subject was dropped, perforce, and the WHERE MAHARNEKE'S PATE LIES.

Meanwhile, the other end of the string was fully as interesting, but even more se-cret. The full Board of Inspectors gath-ered in the handsome rooms of President George A. Kelly, on Western avenue, and armed with the printed testimony, immedi-

There were present Chairman Kelly and Messrs. Reed, McCutcheon, Trimble and Slugle; also Messrs. Scott and Sawyer, representing the State Board of Charities who were present by invitation of the chair man, who said as they had seen the begin-ning they might as well be in at the finish. This rule did not seem to apply to the ladies of the Visiting Board, Mrs. Mair, Mrs. Swift and Mrs. Holden, who had bravely stood the hardships of the midnight sessions of the trial. Mr. B. C. Christy, counsel for the ladies, by request, was also forcotten in the invitation

By Mr. Christy's orders, however, a third copy of the testimony had been made for the visiting Board on carbon paper, and he was to go over the evidence with the ladies They were then to present a minority report to the Legislature, and Mr. Christy said last night, "There will be no uncertain ring

It is stated on the authority of a well-known lawver, that no provisions or appropriations are made for such inquiries as these, and the interesting question arises as to who will foot the bill.

The bill of Stenographer E. J. Donnelly alone is $710, largely due, he said, to the barbarous hours kept by the inquiry, with a consequent loss of sleep and other work, besides the hiring of extra bands, as at one time be had nine persons engaged in turn-ing out the evidence. Besides this, legal fees must be paid. The board convened at about 8:30 or 9 o'clock, and at 10 Chairman Kelly came from the star chamber to say that a decision could not possibly be reached that night as they had barely begun the re-couning of the evidence, and as they were taking the charges separately, a great deal of time would necessarily be taken up in sorting

The board will meet again to-night at 8 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. Slagle, And a Warrant Out for the Arrest of in Allegheny, and confidently expects to reach a decision to-night.

MORE LEGISLATIVE INQUIRERS. The Sub-Committee on Normal Schools

Also in the City. The Legislative sub-Committee on Normal Schools is also at the Anderson Hotel, with the exception of Mr. Clay, who is ill. Messrs. Fruit and Brown visited the school at California yesterday, and the one at Clarion has already been examined.

Mr. Fruit said last night that the California school was entitled to the State ap propriation. The Clarion school wants $30, 000 to pay off an old debt, and the new in-stitution at Slippery Rock asks for as much to found a library. Mr. Fruit remarked that this school was not at all backward in asking, but whether it would get it is an-To-day the committee will visit the school

Messrs, Thompson and Marshall, of the sub-Appropriation Committee, yesterday visited Mercy Hospital and the Home for Aged Colored Women. Mr. Thompson stated that he was very much pleased with the hospital. At the last session of the Legislature this institution was refused an appropriation on the ground that it was sectarian. Mr. Thompson said that they deny that the hospital is in any sense sectarian, and they ask for State aid with the other hospitals of the city.

This morning a committee will meet a delegation of ladies from the Children's Aid Society. Then they will examine the Pittsburg and Allegheny Home for the Friendless, the Home for Colored Children, and in the afternoon the Western Penitentiary will be looked into.

To-morrow the Free Dispensary, Pittsburg Hospital for Children and the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children will be visited. This will finish the work of the sub-committee in the two cities.

A SAD CASE.

A Pursuit of Robbers Ends in a Young Man's Death in This City. The body of George W. Johnston, died at the Homeopathic Hospital Tuesday night, was sent to his home in Fayette county vesterday. Johnston was but 22 years of age, and coal miner by occupation. Being unmarried he lived with his father and mother, who were dependent upon him for support. On last Monday night he was awakened by hearing somebody in his house, and discov-ered two men jumping out of a window. They had taken with them a suit of clothes onging to him, two revolvers and $30 in money. He dressed hurriedly and started after them. He found they had gone down the railroad track, and as a freight train was passing he jumped aboard. He attempted to get off while the train was in motion, and was thrown under the wheels, which cut off his iegs and otherwise bruised him. He was brought to the hospital about 6 o'clock, but could not survive the shock.

Acquitted Yesterday.

Charles Mitchael, John Wilson and Samuel R. Rowe, charged with burglary and complicity in the St. Clair shooting, in Wilkinsburg had a hearing before 'Squire Creelman, of Wilkinsburg, yesterday afternoon and were acquitted and discharged, the evidence not being strong enough to hold them, each proving an alibi. The officers, however, think they will soon bring the right parties to bay.

Mr. L. K. St. Clair, the man that was shot while detending his store, is improved in a mazing stateof surprise following this amazing stateing and his physician has strong hopes of his recovery. A Happy Presentation to a Clergyman Down at Cornopolis.

Rev. John C. Shrodes was last evening presented by the Presbyterian Church of Coraopolis with a gold watch in order that he might not miss the trains when going to and from the Theological Seminary in Allegheny.

The presentation speech was made by C. E. Cornelius, Esq. During the winter Mr. Shrodes has delivered a series of lectures to the congregation on the life of St. Paul, and the church, by its action, wished to testify to Mr. Shrodes that it considered that he, like Paul, had made a good fight and taken good care of Paul's character in the discussion of his strong points. There was music, and a generally good

William Walls Says He Was Not Beaten, and Will Wage a Contest.

Mr. William Walls, Democratic candidate for Select Council from the Twentyseventh ward, called at THE DISPATCH office yesterday and said that the majority of his opponent, D. P. Evans, according to the official count, was only 3 instead of 214, as stated in the morning papers. Continuing, Mr. Wall said:

"In addition to this, I think Mr. Evans cannot take his seat, as I believe he spent money, and the best legal talent will be used to contest the election on the grounds of bribery. I shall also sue Messrs. Wallace, Evans, Silliman and others for circu lating a circular to the effect that I voted for the $3,000,000 water works job.

COAL OPERATOR DEWEES WANTED

For an Alleged Embezzlement of $500 by the Sale of a Lease,

There's a pretty peck of trouble on hands for the Osceola Coal Company to get rid of -if it can. There are dissensions, distrust, and, if some of the sworn allegations are true, dishonesty enough in the concern to wreck many a larger and more famous coal mining firm. It is an interesting little contest, too. The Osceola coal mines lie partly in Allegheny county and partly in West-larger, though all deliveries of coal from the mines are made from the Allegheny county In the fight that has been forced within the past few weeks between Jesse H. Dewees and John Shields, the only remaining members of the company (and one of them, it is alleged, doesn't remain to any perceptible extent), the Sheriff, first of Westmoreland, and then of Allegheny county, has been selling the mines. To-day the Allegheny county functionary will "take his trick at the wheel," so to speak. Meanwhile there is a warrant out for a missing member of the firm, Jesse H. Dewees, of McKeesport. He is charged by his remaining partner, John Shields, of Osceola, with embezzlement, and the warrant is drawn to correspond with the following information on file at Alderman Gripp's office in this city:

THE SWORN ALLEGATIONS.

Personally appeared before me, John Gripp, Alderman for the city of Pittsburg, John Shields, who doth depose that on the 18th day of January, 1889, Jesse H. Dewees and affiant being then and there copartners, doing business as the Osceola Coal Company, said Jesse H. Dewees proposed to said affiant that they should exchange a certain lease of coal in Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, which he and affiant held from and under R. S. Robeson. with the Westmoreland Coal Company, for a lease from it of certain other coal underlying lands of Henry Meyers, and requested affiant to sign a transfer of said lease so that he (Jesse H. Dewees) might take it to Philadelphia to in order to effect said exchange and transfer. and affiant signed as requested, and thereupon Jesse H. Dewees took the lease so assigned by affiant, went to Philadelphia and sold the said Robeson lease to the Westmoreland Coal Company for the sum of $500, a sum large-Coap Company for the sum of soot, a sum targe-ly below its value, and kept and appropriated said money to his own tise, without the knowl-edge or consent of the affiant, but, on the con-trary, told the affiant that he had made the contemplated exchange and had the other lease, which was untrue, and said Robeson lease was the property of the Osceola Goal Company Company.

took charge of the remainder of the coal company to sell it out.

The judgment note in question, for $10,-600, was drawn January 24, and, as Mr. Shields says, was indersed by his brother on representations that this had to be done to afford a double security for a loan of $5,000 which Jesse had found it advisable to negotiate for the immediate wants of the firm. But alas, the Sheriff, etc., etc. The note has been adjudged to be a legal one, and the little alleged embezzlement of $500 appears to be the only immediate ground the prosecutor, J. Scott Ferguson, Esq., has to go on, in his pursuit of the missing Jesse. Mr. Ferguson, as prosecuting lawyer in the case, was asked if there were anything the Dewees affair, and answered "Nothing new, except that Dewees has skipped. He has gone out West somewhere, to Colorado or Montana, or somewhere. Anyhow, the case goes on in the morning without a defendant. I suppose a wraugle will follow over a division of the

This petition will be presented to the Legislature, and it ought to have some weight. The poor people who have used butterine for years will feel the loss of it if its sale is prohibited. It is increasing in membership rapidly, in fact better than I expected. I have attended the meetings of a number of locals during the month, and at each meeting new members were received. We now have 39 locals in our district, which is more than N. T. A. 135 has in Ohio and Pennsylvania combined. The membership in the locals is large, one local having 250 members, and the smallest local has 32 members. We are in excellent shape and will continue the work of organization.

CARRIAGE AXLES.

The Trade is Dull, but Makers Meet and Advance Prices 10 Per Cent. The Carriage and Wagon Axle Trust of the United States met at the Monongahela House yesterday to discuss trade and advance prices. So far trust methods have proved defective in making the business President Smith said the trade was awfully dull, and unless something turned up real soon he didn't know what would become of the unfortunate axle maker. There was a full representation present, but he declined to state the object of the meeting.

From another source it was gathered that a new scale of prices had been arranged on a basis by which they will be put up 10 per cent. Having done this much they left for

The Americus Club Banquet Must be Held Without Him-Mr. Keech's Return From Indianapolis-A Busy Man.

Mr. W. H. Keech, a member of the Exscutive Board of the Americus Club, returned from Indianapolis yesterday moraing, where he had been to see the Presidentelect and invite him to the next banquet of the club, on April 27. General Harrison, however, positively refused to be present for many reasons.

The President of the Americus Club and the Chairman of the Banquet committee appointed Mr. Keech for that important mission, after they had received a letter from Indianapolis which stated that the President-elect would accord the representatives of the club an interview on February 19, between 2 and 3 o'clock in the after-

When the emissary from Pittsburg arrived, however, on Tuesday, it appeared almost impossible to get into the presence of the next Chief Executive, because imperative orders had been issued that no one should be admitted this week. But, when General Harrison was informed who his would-be visitor was, and whence he came, the Americus Club representative was at once ushered into his private office. In answer to the invitation General Harrison then said: While I am deeply gratified at the honor the Americus Ciub affords me in wishing me to be their guest, I must, nevertheless, refuse. I am sorry that I am obliged to do this, because I still retain pleasant recollections of last year's banquet, and of everything I saw in Pittsburg at that time. But it is impossible for me to be there again this year; first, because it is to occur so soon after my entrance into office, and I shall be so example of the same of the be so overwhelmed with business of one kind and another, which will demand my constant attention. Apart from that, however, I do not think that I could then come to Pittsburg, because it would form a precedent according to which I would be obliged to attend so many banquets that my official duties would have to suffer.
