To the Attentive Audience Which Crowds the Third U. P. Church.

THE DIRECTORS' ANNUAL MEETING

The annual directors' meeting of the Allegheny Theological Seminary was held yesterday afternoon, Vice President Ralph presiding. The reports of the various officers were read, showing that over $3,000 was in the treasury and at the disposal of the Board. The young men's fund amounts to $6,400, and the financial agent reported that $30,000 had been added to the endowment fund during the last few months, swelling it to $140,000. The current expense fund amounts to $14,-076 92, and the fund of public scholarship to $650. The general condition of the seminary was found to be flourishing, there be ing 52 students in attendance this year. After the election of Dr. Thos. Balph as President, Dr. W. R. McKee as Vice President, and Dr. W. J. Robinson as Secretary, the meeting was adjourned until this morning, when the question of filling the vacant chair of church history will come up. The commencement exercises of the eminary were taken up last night at the Third U. P. Church, on Diamond street, Pittsburg. The graduating class number afteen, seven of whom delivered papers on religious topics. After prayer President Alex. Young, D. D., Mr. W. A. Monks read a paper on the formation of the New Testament Canon, in which he traced its authenticity from apostolic times down to the modern day. He was followed by J. C. Kistler, who spoke on church government. He presented the various church governments very clearly and compared the advantages of the Presbyterian system to those of other methods, and concluded by pointing to Presbyterianism as the great rallying ground to which all Christian sects were tending.

Mr. F. E. Holliday next presented a paper on "Textual Criticism," in which he very ably set forth the different methods of arriving at the correct Biblical versions of disputed passages. A paper on the "Life of Christ," by Mr. E. M. Giffen, came next, The speaker compared the average life of the Christian to a water course. through which flowed a stream that, originally pure, was contaminated by the soil of the water ourse.

An interesting paper on the "Reasons for Believing the Bible" was presented, which put forth that the Bible was to be believed, as every one of the prophecies it contained were fulfilled, citing those which were made in regard to the downfall of Egypt and Jerusalem and the coming of Christ.

The "Martyr Reformation" was the subject of T. F. Cummings' discourse. The speaker referred mainly to the persecution of the Hugnenots, in which he descried the policy of the Roman Church then, and saying "Rome is tolerant to-day because she must." The closing discourse was held by H. H. Beil, and his subject was "The Field is the World." In it he sooke of the whole world being a field for the sowing of the gospel, and that this had been the motto of Christ. He closed by giving some interesting figures and statements in resome interesting figures and statements in re-gard to modern missionary work.

The benediction by the Rev. Alex Young
