a Close Prisoner for Years

Piteous Cries and Moans of the Fair Victim

Give Rise to Tales of

GHOSTS AND HAUNTED HOUSES.

Both the Girl and Her Intended Husband Still Constan columns, the cries and noises that caused a house to gain the reputation of being imprisoned. The heroine now says that her mother kept her in confinement to prevent her from marrying the man of her choice. She has been locked up since 1885.

BROOKLYN, March 29 .- Since the publication several days ago of mysterious occurrences in a house in Berkley Place, in this city, an account of which was given in THE DISPATCH at the time, great interest has been taken in the story and its maiden heroine. But the young lady has steadily remained in seclusion, and the crowds that have flocked to Berkley Place to gase at the house in which she is imprisoned, have not

When reporters were first admitted to the house, searching all the rooms and half expecting at every turn to hear agonizing shricks, they found nothing tragic or romantic, and all the stories told by the neighbors were denied by the mistress of the house. But it could not be that the neighbors-several families of them, and scarcely acquainted with each other-could have been mistaken entirely, and that the cries of disappointment, sorrow and anger which they thought they heard were only the effect of imagination. But the mystery has at last been solved, and the tale about ghosts and spirits is proven to have been founded on a romantic love story, with a sad sequel.

THE HAUNTED BOARDING HOUSE.

Early in the winter of 1885 a lady and her retty, fair-haired daughter of 20 began boarding at a house in Thirty-seventh street, a few doors off Sixth avenue, the two occupying a front room. Soon a man, who proved to be a brother of the elder woman, ecame a boarder at the same house. The new-comers were pleasant people, quiet and well bred in company, and appeared desirable boarders. Many times during the day, however, and sometimes far in the night, evidences were heard of terrible quarrels in the room occupied by the mother and daughter. The voice of the girl could be heard screaming and crying as if in anger.

Then she would beg piteously for something and declare she would not and could not stand such treatment. Her cry most fre-

THE IMPRISONED MAIDEN.

Sometimes the cries would continue a never went out without having first locked her daughter in the room. The girl finally ceased coming downstairs to the table, her meals being ordered by her mother to her

Several men in the house were about to insist upon knowing more of the matter, when the two ladies and their relative left the house and took up board in another house in the vicinity. The two women were and the man was Thomas Bryan.

Mrs. Mary Pitcher and her daughter Helen,

At the new boarding house the same trouble continued between mother and daughter. The girl's cries were of the same order, although she seemed to have become more resigned to her fate. After a year's stay here they went to Brooklyn and took apartments in the St. George Hotel, where they remained about a month. The next they remained about a month.

trouble?"
"It is, and I am surprised that I have not feeling well.

within cried out:

been gratified by the sight of her face.

to Plighted Vows.

HE FAVORS CARDIFF, peared on London waters, and has created a highly favorable impression. A close race is expected this year between the two university crews.

Pittsburg Phil Talks About President Herrite Says Ward Will Play the Great Pugilists.

JACKSON NOT FIRST-CLASS

His Forfelt.

Mike Daly's Backer Takes Down

SOME LOCAL BASEBALL GOSSIP. Sammy Day, the Pedestrian, Arrives in the City.

GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

"Pittsburg Phil" arrived in the city yesterday from San Francisco. Phil was "full" of news regarding the boxers and the horses. His stav in the West has evidently developed a taste in him for the fistic art. He saw the fight between Carroll and Blakelock and has seen Jackson with the gloves on several times. Altogether "Phil" has had a good experience among the boxers out West. Speaking of Jackson he said: "Jackson is considered a great man in 'Frisco. He is comparatively well built, but I'm satisfied that if Cardiff can fight any at all JACKSON WILL BE BEATEN. "Jackson may or may not be a fighter. I don't has very big feet, and when stripped looks muscular, but I really don't think he is built in a way that a champion would be put up. Alto-gether I think that Cardiff, if he can fight anywhere near the standard he is alleged to be at, will defeat Jackson. Certainly there will be a large quantity of money bet on the result, and good judges fancy Cardiff.

"The battle between Blakelock and Carroll was a surprise. I saw the fight and I really think that Blakelock is a good fighten. He lost because he had no heart to fight. He could have done much better than he did, but he had few friends there and was not in an ex-tra good condition. Blakelock is really a good fighter, and if he meets any man of his weight his opponent will know it if both of them are

LIVELY IN 'FRISCO. orts in 'Frisco are booming, and there is any amount of honest contests there. Of course the athletic clubs have done everything course the athletic clubs have done everything possible to get the champions there, but the "business" idea keeps them all from going out. I am convinced that any two first-class men who want to test conclusions can get a good engagement at Frisco—that is, if the contestants want to fight a squarebattle."

Speaking about the runners, Phil said that the prospects of the season were bright. He said: "The running meetings in all parts give indications of big affairs. There have been stories affoat to the effect that Murphy had signed with Haggin for $10,000. This is not true, because Haggin will pay no such price. I think he has offered Murphy $7,000, and he will not pay I cent more. That is a good salary and I think Murphy will accept it. Of course he may not, and if he does not Mr. Haggin will secure another man."

THE FIRST OF THE SEASON.

Philadelphia Bents the Baltimeres in Well-Played Game at Baltimore. BPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1
BALTIMORE, March 29.—About 8,000 people llowed a brisk wind to have all the fun it | wanted while they watched the opening game of the season between the Baltimore Association and the Philadelphia League Clubs. Though the Phillies won in a well-played game, the spectators were well pleased with the showing made by the home team, especially the new battery, which shows good promise. The hree-base hits-Glean.n. irst base on errors-Baltimore, 1; Philadelplila, 2.

Bases on balls—Baltimore, 2; Philadelphia, 1.

Left on bases—Baltimore, 2; Philadelphia, 6.

Struck out—By Foreman, 6; Gienson, 9.

Bases from being hit—Saunders, 2.

Double plays—Mulvey, Thompson and Irwin, Stolen bases—Baltimore, 5; Philadelphia, 2.

Time of game—Two hours,

Umpire—Holland.

THE ONLY SAMMY. England's Famous Pedestrian Arrives Here and Talks a Little.

Sammy Day, the genial and good-looking Sammy from England, arrived in the city yesterday. He comes here to start in the approaching six-day pedestrian contest. He is ooking well, and expects to be among the winlooking well, and expects to be among the winners. His principal attendant will be George Smith, the local sprinter. Sam will run about 20 miles per day on the London Theater track between now and the big contest.

Day thinks that some of the best pedestrians in the world will be in the race. Of course Herty has resolved to come, and Day thinks he will have a very hard task in hand to get one, two, three. Day states defiantly that he is here to win.

TOOK DOWN THE FORFEIT. Mike Daly's Backer Declines to Accom

New York, March 29.—Richard K. Fox, stakeholder in the McAuliffe-Daly match, re-ceived a telegram to-day from Captain A. W. Cooke, of Boston, stating that Captain Wm. Daly, Jr., backer, of Mike Daly, called on him Daly, Jr., backer, of Mike Daly, called on him on the 25th inst in relation to McAuliffe's refusal to fight for a less sum than $5,000.

Captain Daly suggested that it seemed useless to keep a forfeit up longer, as he could not make a match for more than $2,000 and said if he could raise the money for a $6,000 match there was nothing to hinder McAuliffe's refusing to fight for less than $10,000. Captain Daly's $250 was returned to him. Captain Cooke asks Mr. Fox to return him the $250 in his hands.

The Welr-Murphy Fight. to fight 20 rounds at Wheeling within a few Chicago, March 29.—It is quite likely that days. Murray is well known and is in good before the sun shines on Chicago Sunday morning the Weir-Murphy fight will be a thing of the past. Captain Daly gave out the information that Murphy would leave Beloit at 3 o'clock this afternoon and arrive here at 7 o'clock this evening. The Parson, however, is as mum as a clam. When the time for de-parture is but three hours off, he will notify parture is but three hours off, he will notify those entitled to be present, and will give out nothing except that "everything's all right." Weir still remains the favorite in point of betting, although Captain Daly expresses complete confidence in the ability of Murphy to demonstrate that he (Daly) was warranted in backing him to win. The fight is destined to be a most interesting one, whichever one wins. Weir will endeavor to do up his antagonist by cutting him, and Murphy will watch his opportunity to knock the Spider out. Weir's backers count a great deal on his beholding Murphy by his gymnastic evolutions in the ring, but to this the Murphy men reply that Murphy's nature is too phiegmatic to be worried by such tactics, and that he will walt that Murphy's nature is too phiegmatic to be worried by such tactics, and that he will wait his opportunity and then get in his work.

They Shy the Caster. The Nat C. Goodwin Baseball nine has reorganized for the season, and would be pleased to hear from all clubs under 15. Following are hear from all clups unner 15. Following are the players: F. Kavansugh, catcher; J. Murphy, pitcher; J. Goodwin, second base; J. McKeever, third hase; A. Edgar, shortstop; P. Goodwin, first base; I. Alpern, center field; F. Campbell, right field; D. Hemengray, left field. Address all challe sges to P. Goodwin, Captain, No. 200 Third avenue.

NEW ORLEANS, March 28.—There was a large attendance at to-day's races. The weather was fine and track fast. First race, five furiougs -Skobeloff won in 1:03%." Pat Sheedy second, Golightly third.
Second race, three-quarters of a mile-Stuart woo in 1:16, Macauley second, Little Beat third.
Third race, one mile-Quotation won in 1:8, Kermene second, Kirkman third.
Fourth race, three-eighthus of a mile-Millie Willlams won in 384, Wrestler second, Hildegarde third.

Oxford and Cambridge. LOWDON, March 22.—The Oxford race crew is working hard, but it is considerably embar-rassed by the present high state of the river.

THEY WILL GET WARD. With the Washington Club.

INPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 WASHINGTON, March 28.—President John B. Day was among the passengers on the north-bound train from Florida which arrived here this evening. He was met at the depot by President Hewitt, of the Washington ciub, and the two gentlemen left on the midnight train for New York.

"Ward came to me last fall," said Mr. Day, and requested that he should be released from ward came to me last rail. Said sail Day, and requested that he should be released from the Giants, stating that he desired to go to Washington or Boston if satisfactory arrangements could be made. Subsequently he left to make the trip around the world and further negotiations were world and further negotiations were left to make the trip around the world and further negotiations were suspended so far as he was concerned. Mr. Hewitt made what I considered a good offer for Ward's services whereupen I authorized President Young to execute the necessary papers for his release, and that is the condition of affairs to-day. Under no circumstances will he be released to Boston, primarily, because such action cannot be taken without the consent of Mr. Hewitt. If Ward declines to go to Washington he will stay in New York and may not get beyond the players' bench. It is nonsense to talk of any deal by which Wise or Morrill would be exchanged with the Washingtons for Ward, and if I had entertained any such a thought he would never have been released to Mr. Hewitt. The publication in local papers as to what might be expected of Ward may have had a tendency to scare him a trific as to the responsibilities of his position, but he will not be left in doubt any longer. With Ward as manager, and with a capital behind him, the Washingtons cannot fail to be benefited, and although the result may not be apparent this season by keeping him at the helm, President Hewitt will show his wisdom and silence all croaking. Mr. Hewitt and myself will see Ward in New York together, and it is not likely that he will remain unsigned another 24 hours."

President Hewitt interrupted the conversa-

President Hewitt interrupted the conversa-tion at this point to say that he would endeavor to bring Ward back with him, as he desired his services on Monday in opening the season between the Washingtons and Baltimores. "The question of salary was mentioned to Ward," said Mr. Hewitt. "When I talked with Ward," said Mr. Hewitt. "When I talked with him a few days ago, upon his return from abroad, he declined to fix a figure, saying that he preferred to wait and have a talk with Mr. Day before taking such a step. We will not fall out, however, on that score, and I am more hopeful than ever of a successful result from my trip to New York at this time."

LUCKY BALDWIN, THE BREEDER. sons Turiman Will Really Retire

After the Coming Senson. SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—The dispatch from Los Angeles announcing that Lucky Baldwin would, at the end of the present racing season, hid adien to the turf and devote his attention to breeding, caused a finiter among lovers of thoroughbreed racers in California, but was received with a grain of doubt by many who have known him for years. Mr. Baldwin, on his return to this city to-day, was seen by a reporter and said:

"Yes, I have concluded to retire from the turf at the conclusion of the present racing season. I will not retire without regretting the step, for I take great pleasure in the raising and racing of theoroughbreds, but my business enterprises in California will for the next few years engross my entire attention. During the past season I was in the East the greater part of my time, and the result was that my business was conducted in anything but a satisfactory manner. I will continue as a breeder."

"What will you do with your stables of horses?" was asked.

"I will race them until the close of the season, when I shall dispose of the yearlings and 3-year-olfs, numbering 17, at anction. The balance of my horses I will send to Santa Anita, to do service in the stud. I will continue in the breeding of race horses, and will hold a yearly sale. I have five stallions and i5 brood mares, and will this year breed Sister Annie, Clara D., Santa Anita, Jennie B., Experiment, Glonita, Hermonia, and Miss Ford, to Grimstead. Emperor of Notfolk will serve Mary Stuart, Fallen Leaf, Maricona, Santa Anita, Belle Anita, Savannah and Grizettete. Volante has apparently recovered his lameness, and will be prepared for this season's Easter racing. Before being actively put in training he will serve Dollie L. Josie C and Maggie Emerson. Gray Anne and Freda are booked to Rutherford, and Mollie McGurn, Gloretta and Estralia to Guano." (SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.-The dispatch

TEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. SAN FRANCISCO March 20 -The fight be tralia, billed for to-night at the California of $100 to $70 were offered on Meadows at the beginning of the fight. In opening Duffy forced the fighting, and succeeded in getting one or two hot ones on Meadow's wind. The Australian, however, displayed superior science, getting away from several terrible swings. When the twelfth round was called, Meadows was freshest and pressing Duffy.

The Chess Tournament. NEW YORK, March 29.-All the native players who contested at the chess tournament to-day met with defeat. Gossip and Showalter met in a brilliant game, and Gossip sacrificed his queen and mated in three moves. His vicins queen and mated in three moves. His vic-tory was loudly applauded. Gunsburg won from Judd: Welss won from D. G. Baird; Blackburn defeated Mason; Honam won from McLeod: Burn defeated J. W. Baird; Tachig-orin won from Martinez; Taubenhauer won from Delmar; Bird won from Pollock, and Leipschutz won from Burrille.

Lord Dunraven Wants That Cup. ISPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCH. New York, March 29.—Lord Dunraven's challenge to sail this season for the American Cup, arrived to-day, and the New York Yacht Cup, arrived to-day, and the New York Yacht.
Cipb will hold a meeting at once to consider it.
It is supposed that the Titavia will be selected to sail against the new English boat, as she is the nearest to her measurement. Mr. Payne, of Boston, declares that he will not sail the Volunteer, nor will be build a yacht to meet Dunraven's challenge.

The local club, that is the Pittsburgs and the East End Athletics, will play at Recreation Park to-day, weather permitting. It is proba-ble that three batteries will be in for the Pitts-burgs. The inclement weather prevented much practice yesterday. Galvin and Staley, however, were on hand displaying remarkable

Marray and Shay. Jimmy Murray and Bert Shay have arranged

AFTER MANY YEARS.

Capture of a Man Sentenced to be Hanged

in 1876. INPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 WESTON, W. VA., March 29 .- In 1875 Richard Dowell, a farmer, while under the Richard Dowell, a farmer, while under the influence of liquor, murdered John R. West and his son Edmund, both residents of Lewis county, He was indicted, found guilty and sentenced to be hanged on the 9th day of October, 1876, but a few days before that time he succeeded in making his escape from the jail, and has since evaded the vigilance of law. A reward of $400 was offered for his apprehension.

apprehension.

This week Prosecuting Attorney McGary was notified by the Chief of Police at Grand Forks, Dak., that Dowell was under arrest at that place. Mr. McGary obtained a requisition from the Governor of this State, and will have him brought here, where he Forks, Dak., that Dowell was under arrest at that place. Mr. McGary obtained a requisition from the Governor of this State, and will have him brought here, where he will be executed.

Welfley Not Out of the Woods.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—During the exciting session of the Senate to-day a motion was entered by Senator Plumb to reconsider the vote by which the nomination of Lewis Wolfley to be Governor of Arizons was confirmed. It is said that additional charges have been preferred against tional charges have been preferred against him relating to his actions while a revenue officer on the Mississippi river, some years officer on the Mississippi river, some years the had been engaged to Miss Pitcher and the had been engaged to Miss Pitcher and the weatest girls in the CHASING CHEVENNES and fighting the Far Western plains, together with the Custer massure and incidents of cavalry life are described in a realistic manner by Capitain Charles King in to-morrow's DISPATCH.

For additional telegraphic news, see tenth

JAMES H. AIKEN & Co.'s display of men's fine neckwear, 100 Fifth ave.

VERY BOLD BRIBERY.

LOVE BEHIND LOCKS Continued from First Page. A Cruel Mother Holds Her Daughter

said:
"I don't know anything about it, and the only interest I have in the Chairmanship fight is that I have several hundred dollars (about $1,000) bet on the result." TO KEEP HER FROM MARRYING.

Mr. Parke was seen late in the evening and said he had not heard of the attempted bribery. "I want to distinctly state," said he, "that I discountenance anything of the kind, and will refuse to be a candidate if votes must be secured in that way. I don't believe that any person interested in my canvass would be guilty of such a thing. The only way I can account for the matter is that some persons who have money bet on the result are endcavoring to secure my The sequel to a Brooklyn ghost story election and win their bets in that way. do not think my cause should suffer by this, turns out to be more romantic than the original tale. As already told in these

GRADUALLY GETTING THERE.

haunted, were made by a young lady there | Another Lengthy List of Faithful Repub cans That Are Rewarded. WASHINGTON, March 29.-The President sent the following nominations to the Senate to-day:

Senate to-day:

Bobert Adams, Jr., of Pennsylvania, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotens tiary of the United States to Brazil.

Lansing B. Mizener, of California, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to the Central American States.

William L. Scruggs, of Georgia, to be Envoy can States.

William L. Scruggs, of Georgia, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to Venezuela.

William O. Bradley, of Kentnexy, to be Minister Resident and Consul General of the United States to Corea.

George B. Ferguson, of Maine, to be Collector of Customs for the District of Belfast, Maine.

George Chandler, of Kansas, to be First Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

George L. Sharp, of Idaho, to be Governor of Idaho.

Edward J. Curtis, of Idaho, to be Secretary Edward J. Curtis, of Idaho, to be Secretary

b V. Admire, of Kansas, to be Receiver blic Moneys at Kingfisher stage station, Indian Territory.

Jacob C. Robberta of Nebraska, to be Register of the Land Office at Kingfisher stage station, Indian Territory.

Sion A. Darnell, of Georgia, to be United States Attorney for the Northern district of Georgia.

William S. Tipton, of Tennessee, to be United States Marshal for the Eastern district of Ten-Charles Henry Tilghman Lowndes, of Mary-land, to be an assistant surgeon in the navy. The following are short sketches of today's principal appointees:

The following are short sketches of today's principal appointees:

William L. Scruggs was born in Tennessee, but afterward removed to Georgia. He has had considerable experience in diplomacy, having been appointed United States Consul to Canton, China, in 1850, from which post he was promoted to be Minister to Begota in 1884. Mr.
Scruggs held this position until relieved by the last Democratio administration.

Mr. Lansing Mixener is a well-to-do resident of Benicia, Cal. He is an extensive land owner in that place, and is reputed to have accumulated a fortune through investments in real estate which advanced in value with the growth of San Francisco.

Mr. Sharp, the nominee for Governor of Idaho, is one of the oldest and best-known residents of that Territory. He is a large cattle dealer, the owner of several general merchandise stores, and also runs more stage lines. He is a man of considerable wealth.

Robert Adams is a gentleman of culture and attainments, living in Philadelphia. He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, an ex-State Senator, a member of the Governor's staff, and of the Philadelphia City Troop. He has never held any public office except that of State Senator. He is quite wealthy.

William O. Bradley, of Kentucky, is a promineut Southern Republican. During the war he was a Union man. He has been the candidate of the Kentucky Republicans for Governor and United State Senator, and made a good race against Governor Buckner for the former place. At the Chicago Convention Kentucky urged him for Vice President, and hereceived a number of votes from Southern delegates. He is a fine lawyer, with a large and lucrative practice, and it is said that he will not accept the office, and that he informed the President that he did not desire any appositument whatever.

stand such treatment. Her cry most frequently heard was: "If you keep me here any longer I will kill myself!" Another was, "My God, I will die if you keep this up." The quarreling and the girl's cries at night often aroused the other boarders. One night a gentleman ventured to knock at the door and ask what was the matter. The lady replied simply that her daughter was lady replied simply that her daughter was BRECKINRIDG'ES VINDICATION.

He is Ready to Run Once More in His Old long during the day that the ladies board-LITTLE ROCK, March 29 .- Hon. Clifton ing there would crowd around the door, listening and knocking in vain for admit-R. Breckinridge, Congressman from the Second district, was up from Pine Bluff for tance. They became very much frightened about the affair, but the mother would never a few hours to-day. The object of his visit to the capital city, as learned from a conanswer any questions. A peculiar fact was that the girl's voice was always low, and sometimes she even reduced it to a whiaper. versation, was to request the members of the Legislature not to pass the bill redistricting The only exclamation heard coming from her during the entire stay was: "You shall not have him!" the State in its present shape. The bill proposes such changes as will make the First and Second districts more strongly The boarders became alarmed and de-termined to sift the mystery to the bottom. Democratic, the bill to take effect at once. Mr. Breckinridge's reasons were stated One of the bolder ladies rapped on the door one afternoon when the elder of the strange frankly in the interview. In the first place, he does not doubt that the Second district is reliably Democratic, but should the changes be made, desires that they do not go into ef-fect until some remote day, say about coarders had gone out. A voice from "Mother has locked me in!"
Such was, indeed, the case. The woman fect until some remote day, say about August, 1890.

He has no doubt in the world of his election, but should Congress decide that he was not elected, and a new election become necessary by reason of the death of contestant, J. M. Clayton, he would prefer to make the race in the old district so that his reelection would be a vindication against charges of fraud, so that the cry couldn't be raised for political purposes that the disraised for political purposes that the dis-trict had been changed for the occasion. It is not likely that the bill will be reached this session on account of the short time re-maining, but should it come up, Mr. Breck-inridge's request would have considerable inridge's request would have considerable weight in the action upon it.

YOUNGSTOWN KICKING.

The County Commissioners Call a Halt in the Damage Suits.

they remained about a month. The next move was to go to housekeeping, when Mrs. Pitcher secured the house No. 158 Berkeley Place, and furnished it handsomely throughout. What has happened since their removal to 158 has been fully told. The cries have still been heard, except at longer intervals. A reporter who called at the house found Miss Helen Pitcher alone. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. Youngstown, Morch 29 .- The County Commissioners have petitioned the Legislature for authority to levy an additional longer intervals. A reporter who called at the house found Miss Helen Pitcher alone. Engaging her in conversation on ordinary topics, he finally drew from her, little by little, the following statement:

"Several years ago, while my mother and I were boarding in Brooklyn, I was frequently visited by John G. Douglass, a wealthy grain broker in New York. We became engaged, and while our happiness was at its height, my mother took a sudden dislike to Mr. Douglass and broke off the match. Since then you do not know what I have borne."

LOVE'S LABOR LOST.

Then she put her hands to her face to brush away the fast falling tears.

"I loved him more than tongue could tell," the story went on, "and the separation almost killed me. I sald I would leave home for him, and my mother, thinking that I might carry out my threat, moved to New York, where we boarded in the neighborhood of Thirty-seventh street."

"Then this is the entire cause of all the mill for general purposes to replenish the county treasury, which is nearly depleted. Then she put her hands to her face to brush away the fast falling tears.
"I loved him more than tongue could tell," the story went on, "and the separation almost killed me. I said I would leave home for him, and my mother, thinking that I might carry out my threat, moved to New York, where we boarded in the neighborhood of Thirty-seventh street."
"Then this is the entire cause of all the trouble?"

GROVER WENT FISHING.

Ex-President Cleveland at His Old Amuse ment in Florida. JACKSCAVILLE, March 29,-A special train bearing ex-President Cleveland's party spent the night at Lake Alfred. This morning some of the party went fishing and returned with a string of 75 beautiful trout for breakfast, Arriving at Orlando, a carriage drive was taken around the city. The train reached Sanford at about 1 o'clock. A short stop was made there and at Winter Park, where large crowds visited the car and were presented to the ex-President and others.

The party reached Titusville at 4 o'clock and were escorted on board the steamer St. Lucie, which will convey them to Jupiter inlet. The cabin and stateroom were fairly lined with flowers, the offering of the people of Titusville. They will fish three days at Jupiter, and then accept the hospitalities of Jackson ville for a day or two. he had been engaged to Miss Pitcher and thought her one of the sweetest girls in the world. He knew the breaking off of the match had broken her heart, as they had been very much attached to each other. He says he does not know why Mrs. Pitcher broke the match, unless on account of his failure in business in 1882. He claimed to have been defrauded out of $25,000 by his partners at that time. Mr. Douglass is a handsome man, about 35 years old. He has never been married, and was never engaged to any lady except Miss Pitcher.

THE GRAND OLD MAN

and did not seem to be at all surprised. He Eulogizes John Bright in an Eloquent Address in the House.

IRELAND JOINS IN THE REFRAIN.

All Pay Tribute to the Genius and Worth of the Great Commoner.

BISMARCK IS NOT READY TO DIE YET.

al Boulanger Will be Presecuted by the French

Last evening in the House of Commons was devoted to the eulogy of John Bright. Mr. Gladstone made an eloquent address. Speeches were made by several other members. Bismarek says it is a mistake to consider that he is dying. He has work yet to do. The French Government has decided to prosecute General Boulanger for plotting against the State.

LONDON, March 29 .- The session of the House of Commons this evening was de-voted to eulogies of the late John Bright. When the Right Hon. William Henry Smith, who was the first speaker, rose to address the House, all the members deffed their hats. Mr. Smith, in a short speech, described Mr. Bright as a man of thorough ionesty of purpose and great energy of

If there was any defect in his character, it was the intensity of his advocacy of the principles that he had adopted. Although warmly attached to the Liberal party, he could not sacrifice his personal convictions for any of those considerations which have great weight with most men. If for a time parted from his old associates, under a trong sense of duty, there was no trace of inger or of personal animosity left. His memory would live long in the hearts f men. He would go down to the grave followed by the affection and sorrow of the country. Mr. Gladstone, upon rising was received with cheers. He said: GLADSTONE'S EULOGY. Mr. Bright has been, to a very remarkable de-gree, happy in the moment of his removal from among us. He lived to see the triumph of al-most every great cause to which he specially devoted his heart and mind. He has established a special claim to the admiration of those from whom he differed through his long those from whom he differed through his long political life by marked concurrence with them upon the prominent and dominant question of the hour. ["Hear, hear."]

While he has in that way opened the minds and hearts of those with whom he differed to appreciation of his merits, he has lest nothing by that concord with them on the particular subject. Though Mr. Bright came to be separated from the great bulk of the Liberals on the Irish question, on no single occasion has there been any word of disparagement. I acknowledge that I have not through my whole political life fully embraced the character of Mr. Bright and the value of that character to the country.

Mr. Bright and the value of that character to the country.

I say this because it was at the particular epoch of the Crimean war that I came more to understand than before the position held by him and some of his friends and the held they had upon the confidence of the people. I was one of those who did not agree with the particular views he took of the Crimean contest, but felt profoundly and never ceased to think what must have been the moral elevation of men who, nurtured all their lives in the temple of popular approval, could at a moment's notice consent to part with the whole of that favor they enjoyed, which opponents might think the very breath of their nostrils. ["Hear hear."]

FOR OPINION'S SAKE. They accepted undoubted unpopularity, for that war commanded the enormous approval of the people. It was at that time that, allearned more. We had known of his great mental gifts, his courage, his consistency and his splendid eloquence. We had not known how high was the moral tone of those popular leaders, and what splendid examples they could set their contemporaries.

Among other gifts, Mr. Bright was delighted to be one of the chief guardians of the purity of the English tongue. ["Hear, hear."] He knew how the character of a nation is associated with its language. He was enabled, as an Englishman profoundly attached to his country, the tongue of the people being to the end almost an object of worship, to preserve the purity of the language of Shakespeare and Milton. [Cheers.] Another circumstance of his career is better known to me than to any other person present. learned more. We had known of his great his career is better known to me than to any other person present.

Everybody is aware that office had no attractions for him. But few can be aware what extra efforts were required to induce him to become a servant of the crown. In the crisis of 1868, when the fate of the Irish church hung in the balance, it was my duty to propose to Mr. Bright that he become a Minister. I never undertook so difficult a task. From Il o'clock at night until I o'clock in the morning we steadily debated the subject. It was only at the last moment that he found it possible to set aside the reougnance he felt at doing anything that might in the eyes of anyone, even of the more ignorant classes of his countrymen, appear to detract in the slightest degree from that lefty independence of character which I have mentioned, and which never, throughout his career, was held in doubt.

MORAL LESSONS.

MORAL LESSONS.

his career, was held in doubt.

MORAL LESSONS.

It was a happy lot to unite so many attractive qualities. If I had to dwell upon them alone I should present a dazziling picture to the world. It was a happier lot to teach moral lessons by simplicity, consistency, unfailing courage and constancy of life, thus presenting a combination of qualities that carried us to a higher atmosphere. [Hear, hear.] His sympathies were not strong only, but active; not sympathies awaiting calls to be made upon them, but sympathies of a man seeking objects upon which to bestow the inestimable advantages of eloquence and courage.

In Ireland, when support of the Irish cause was rare; in India when support of the native cause was rare; still; in America, at the time when Mr. Bright, forseeing the ultimate issue of the great struggle of 1801, stood as the representative of an exceedingly small portion of the educated community of the country, although undoubtly representing a large part of the national sentiment ("Hearl hear!"]—in all these cases Mr. Bright went far outside the necessities of his calling. Whatever touched him, as a man of the great Anglo-Saxon race, whatever touched him as a subject, obtained, unasked, his sincere, carnest and enthusiastic leadership. ("Hearl hear!"]—All causes having his powerful advocacy made a distinct advance in the estimation of the world, and distinct progress toward triumphant success.

Thus it has come about that he is entitled to a higher sulogy than is due to success. Of more success, indeed, he was a conspicuous example. In intellect, deeper than eloquence, deeper than intellect, deeper than decounce in the standard than it had ever reached. He has bequeathed to his country a character that cannot only be made a subject for admiration and ratifule, but—and f do not exaggerate when I say it—that can be deer than laying that can be described or that can be even upon the surface. The supreme eulogy that is his due to made a subject for admiration and ratifule, but—and f do not exaggerate when

A UNITED ACCLAIM. In the encomiums that come from every quarter there is a not note of dissonance. I do not know of any statesman of my time who had the happisess of receiving on removal from this passing world the honor of approval at once so enthusiastic, so universal and so unbroken. ["Hear, hear."] Yet none could better dispense with the tributes of the moment, because the triumphs of his life were triumphs recorded in the advance of his country and of its people. His name is indellibly written on the annals of time and on the bearts of the great and overspreading race to which he beforged, whose wide extension he rejoiced to see and whose power and prominence he believed to be full of promise and glory for the best interests of mankind.

Mr. Gladstone resumed his seat amid much subdued cheering. Lord Hartington referred to the noble words of Gladstone as fully expressive of the veneration of the country for the memory of Mr. Bright, Justice McCarthy, who, in the absence of Mr. Parnell, spoke for the Irish party, associated their sentiments with those expressed in the noble speech of Mr. Gladstone. He said that the memory of the Irish party, associated their sentiments with those expressed in the noble speech of Mr. Gladstone. He said that the memory of the Irish party, associated their sentiments with those expressed in the noble speech of Mr. Gladstone. He said that the memory of the Irish people endured, and it carried them back to that time when Mr. Bright championed their cause. He therefore claimed the right of Ireland to lay an immortelle upon the great Englishman's grave. [Cheers.]

Mr. Chamberlain spoke of his acquaintance with Mr. Bright for 30 years. He said for the money.

Botton His post. He asserted that he had reasigned, but his past and after waiting a reasonable time, an officer was sent in pursuit, but filled to meet him.

About three weeks ago Bateman was recorded as a deserter, and efforts to find him ceased. It was supposed at the War Department, upon recorded as a deserter, and efforts to find him feel In the encomiums that come from every quarter there is a not note of dissonance. I do not that throughout his political life Mr. Bright's relations toward his electors were those of entire independence, Mr. Bright holding that his services conferred an obligation when the constitutions gation upon the constituency.

BOULANGER TO BE ARRESTED.

The French Government Decides to Prosecute the Bold General. PARIS, March 29 .- The Senate to-day, b a vote of 207 to 63, passed the bill consti-tuting itself a high Court of Justice in cases of plots against the State. The bill will come up in the Chamber of Deputies to-morrow. The Government intend, upon the passage of the measure, to apply it to General Boulanger.

Proceedings against General Boulanger will be instituted without delay. It is probable that the first steps will be taken to-

General Boulanger, in an interview, de General Boulanger, in an interview, de-clared the Government was insane, other-wise it would see that its action would only frustrate the end it had in view. He had never committed an illegal act; he had done everything openly. Therefore, prosecution would only result in sympathy for the martyr. Had he committed the slightest illegality he claims that his case would be made, but he defis all the lawyers in the world to find anything against him. There-fore, the rumored action against him would only mean a further triumph for the Nation-al party.

BISMARCK NOT DYING.

The German Statesman Says Some People Ave Mistakon. BERLIN, March 29.-During a debate in the Reichstag to-day, on the aged workthe Reichstag to-day, on the aged workmen's insurance bill, Herr von Boetticher, Minister of the Interior, described as offensive the insinuation that Prince Bismarck attached no importance to the measure.

The Chancellor, interrupting, said he was only prevented by other State business from attending the sittings of the committee having the bill in charge, and added: "Those who consider that I am dying make a mistake.",

IRELAND GAINING GROUND.

Even the Tories Are Proposing Meas Future Relief. LONDON, March 29 .- The Cabinet has decided to propose at the next session of Parliament's land purchase scheme for Ireland. The measure will be similar to the plan proposed by Mr. Chamberlain.

The Ministry has also resolved to introduce, in 1891, an Irish local government bill. The measure provides for extensive changes in the management of internal affairs in Ireland.

Fainting of an Irish Prisoner. DUBLIN, March 29 .- The trial of Father MacFadden, the arrest of whom for offenses under the crimes act led to the killing of Police Inspector Martin at Gwedore, was begun to-day. While the case was in prog-ress Father MacFadden fainted, and the court was at once adjourned.

MURDERED A PEDDLER.

A Horrible Tale of Crime from Southe New Jersey.

PHILADELPHIA, March 29 .- What will robably prove to be one of the most atrocious murders ever committed in Southern cious murders ever committed in Southern New Jersey, was brought to light late Wednesday afternoon by the discovery of the remains of a man floating on the surface of a pond near Turnerville, a small village in Gloucester county. His nose had been broken and his head was covered with frightful gashes. One gash on the right side of the head was ten inches long. Another deep gash was found on the neck which partly severed the spinal column.

The body was very much decomposed, and had evidently been in the water for some time. The body was soon recognized some time. The body was soon recognized as that of a peddler who visited that section of the country once a month regularly, until about three months ago, when he was missed from his rounds. As he had always stopped with Joseph Hillman, a young married man living in Turnerville, suspicion was directed toward him, and this afternoon Coroner Beall ordered his arrest, and he was placed in custody.

About the time the peddler was due on another round Hillman moved to another another round Hillman moved to another house and soon astonished everybody in the house and soon astonished everybody in the vicinity by starting out with a peddler's pack. He seemed to have lots of money, and this fact was more astonishing, as he was usually known to be without money. The theory is that the unfortunate peddler was murdered while saleep. When found the body had a rope tied around the waist, which had evidently been used to drag the remains to the pond.

ARMES SAYS BEAVER'S ANOTHER. To Insists That He Did Pull the Gaberna torini Noss.

WASHINGTON, March 29. — Colonel George A. Armes has furnished for publication a card in reference to his recent trouble with Governor Beaver. He says: "I was surprised to read the published re-ports of interviews with Governor Beaver. They contain misstatements, false representations, and untruths." He then says sentations, and untruths." He then says that he had known Governor Beaver personally for several years; that he met him in the Riggs House, and after exchanging friendly salutations with him, referred to the way he had been treated on inauguration day. Governor Beaver declined to state in writing that he had not ordered his removal from the procession, and started to move off, whereupon Colonel Armes says he took the Governor's nose in his fingers, and gently pulling it, said: "Take that!" He had no intention to injure him, and was moving no intention to injure him, and was moving away when the officer came up. The card closes as follows:

"I have nothing to say touching my record in the army and my character and capacity as a citizen. Seven wounds received in action illustrate the former, and those who know and have had business relations with me can testify to the latter. I esteem my bonor and good name too highly to submit to insult and injury without resenting it.

BATEMAN WAS A DESERTER. The Young Man Who Didn't Suicide Wanted

by the War Department. WASHINGTON, March 29 .- Lieutens Harry C. Bateman, who was supposed to have been killed on the railroad track near Muncie, Ind., yesterday, has been in trouble for some time past. He had overdrawn his pay accounts several times, and had been guilty of other loose practices which threatened to involve him in serious difficulty with the War Department. Finally he disappeared from his post. He asserted that he had resigned, but his resignation never turned up at the department, and after waiting a reasonable time, an officer was sent in pursuit, but failed to meet him.

About three weeks ago Bateman was recorded as a deserter, and efforts to find him ceased. It was supposed at the War Department, upon receipt of news of his death, yesterday, that he had committed suicide in a fit of desperation at his evil fortune. Muncie, Ind., yesterday, has been in trouble

MURDEROUS ATTACK

Made by a Band of Moonshiners in the Mountains of Kentucky

ON A REVENUE OFFICER'S POSSE. After a Desperate Battle, Five Men Fight-

POPULAR DEPUTY IS PATALLY SHOT,

ing a Dozen Desperadoes, ne of His Men Severely Injured and Several of the Deputy United States Marshal Russell Wireman, of Magoffin county, Ky., and his posse were attacked by a band of moonshiners in Knott county, in that State, and a hot battle ensued. Wireman was killed and one of his men severely wounded. It is supposed that some of the moonshiners were also shot fatally. Three prisoners, who were in the officer's charge, effected their escape.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) LOUISVILLE, March 29 .- A terrible battle occurred Tuesday in Knott county, Ky., between United States revenue officers and moonshiners. United States Marshal Gross, whose office is in this city, this afternoon received a letter from R. S. Friend, United States Commissioner, stationed at Preston-burg, Floyd county, giving full details of the affray. The letter was dated March 27. Tom Hollifield, W. H. Creech, Dock Fields and D. B. Sally, all revenue officers, came into Prestonburg on the night of the 27th. They brought the news of the battle of the morning before.

On the evening of the 25th Deputy Marshal Russell Wireman and these men had gone into Hindman, after a big raid on the illicit still houses in Perry and Leslie counties. They had ten mountaineers in charge as prisoners. These they lodged safely in the Hindman jail, where they are still in enstody. On the morning of the next day, the 26th, the revenue officers, headed by Wireman, struck out into the hills around Hindman to make further arrests. They were all well armed.

ATTACKED BY 12 DESPERATE MEN. They rode to the mouth of Smith's creek, a little stream which empties its water into Carr's Fork of the Kentucky river. The ereek's mouth is 13 miles to the southwest of Hindman. They had succeeded in arresting J. Draughn, Jesse Adams and Jesse Combs. While they were riding through the woods with their prisoners they were ambushed and fired upon by a party of 10 to 12 moonshiners at a point not far from the mouth of Smith's creek. Wireman was shot and the state of th early in the action, and dropped from his horse into the road, dead. The rest of the revenue party returned the fire of the moon-shiners, who were all armed with repeating Winchester rifles. The officers were out-

Winchester rifles. The officers were outnumbered, and finally retreated. It is supposed that one or two of the moonshiners were killed or wounded.

The officers struck out for Prestonburg and managed to reach there the day after the battle, though one of them was badly wounded. The three prisoners whom the officers had in charge just before the fight escaped. J. Draughn, one of them, is one of the most desperate men in the mountains, and formerly figured prominently in the bloody Knox county feud. The moonshiners who did the fighting are as lawless and dangerous a set of men as revenue offiand dangerous a set of men as revenue officers ever hunted.

WHERE MOONSHINERS ABOUND. They are the same crowd who shot Marshal J. T. Greer last February. They wounded him seriously but not dangerously. All of the crowd were indicted at the February term of court here in Louisvillo. The Knox county hills around Hindman are swarming with moonshiners. The crowd who did the killing all live near the mouth of Smith's creek. They operate five stills in that immediate neighborhood. They occupy a large house together and They occupy a large house together and keep men constantly on the watch against the revenue agents. There are 12 stills within ten miles of the mouth of Smith's ereek. There are other stills on Ball's Fork, Mace's, Lost and Onton's creek. All Fork, Mace's, Lost and Onton's creek. All the moonahiners are armed to the teeth. This last killing will probably make them more desperate and more determined to resist arrest. Immediate efforts will be made to bring the desperadoes to justice.

Mr. Wireman was one of Captain Gross' most efficient and popular deputies. He was absolutely fearless, and was a general favorite about the office and among his associates. He was gentlemanly, but firm in all his transactions, and the Marshal regarded him very highly. He lived at Saleraville, Magoffin county, where he has two interesting little daughters. His wife is dead. Heretofore he has had SEVERAL NARROW ESCAPES from the outlaws in the mountain country, and only two months ago his guard, Bill Steins, was killed by some unknown party in that region while Mr. Wireman was enin that region while Mr. Wireman was enforcing a warrant. Captain Gross' deputies have, during his term, met with a number of serious difficulties, and frequently they have been shot at and wounded, but the death of Deputy Wireman is the most deplorable casualty that has happened since he has been in office.

Three years ago Captain Gross' deputy, Hugh Rogers, was shot at Harian Court House, and lay at the point of death for several weeks. He recovered, however, and since that time the Marshal's deputies have been very fortunate. It is altogether likely that the Marshal and his assistants will receive instructions from Washington to ceive instructions from Washington to bring the lawless men who have committed this crime to speedy instice, and no expense will be spared in hunting down the assassing of Deputy Wireman.

United States Marshal Gross this after-

General to send a posse to the scene of the killing. It is probable that several deputies will be sent out this evening, but this, of course, depends on the order from Washington. Several deputies are in readiness HIGHWAYMEN AT ERIR. The Town is Afflicted With an Epidemic of Robbers.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPASSIN . ERIE, March 29.-Erie is under the ban of thieves, footpads and house burglars again. They seem to have struck the city again. They seem to have struck the city with the coming of spring. Last night Mr. Albert Smith left his home to take a late train, and had his saichel in his hand and considerable money on his person. He was waylaid and robbed, and while the highwaymen were going through him he indiscreetly called one of the party by name.

At this his assailants set upon him with the intention of murdering him. His cries brought help, and Smith's life was saved. This morning four of the party were arrested on a charge of highway robbery and assault with intent to kill. Smith's injurles are serious.

Pinkerton Released but Sued. CHICAGO, March 29 .- William A. Pin-CHICAGO, March 29.—William A. Pjn-kerton, after securing a change of venue, was discharged to-day from the case growing out of his participation in a court room scrimmage yesterday. Edward Zeisler, the alleged bond swindler, whom the Pinkertons illegally arrested, brought suit this afterneon for $10,000 damages on the ground of false imprisonment.

OUR VICE PRESIDENTS.