INCREASED SUPPLY OF CATTLE

Weaker Markets---Stockers and Feeders in Active Demand.

HOGS FIRM, SHEEP AND LAMBS SLOW

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, WEDNESDAY, April 8, 1889. The run of cattle this week was about 80 previous weeks. The majority were from and feeders, the bulk of which were common ades. For stockers buyers were plenty, from Grades were not quite up to the standard, but that were on hand sold freely. There has en a demand for a high quality of stockers t Liberty fer some weeks past that has not been met. Many more than were to be had would have found ready buyers this week. The range of prices for stockers was $3 00 to lower figure. High grades would have brought Cattle supplies were in the main of lighter Cattle supplies were in the main of lighter weights, from 1,100 to 1,200 pounds. There is little demand of late for prime heavy cattle, competition with dress beef having spoiled the trade in this line. The heaviest cattle received this week were not above 1,450 pounds, and very few reached this figure. Markets were 5 to 10 cents off from prices of last week on all grades excepting stockers. Notwithstanding increased run, stock was well cleaned up e-rly in the week. The run of calves was little short of 700 head. Dealers report that they were agreeably disappointed over the activity of markets for calves. Though supply was large, demand kept pace with supply. semand kept pace with supply.

Said one dealer: "We all looked to see prices Said one dealer: "We all looked to see prices off, on account of big run, and were agreeably surprised to see everything taken at last week's prices." On Monday as high as 5c was paid for a few extra calves. The range of prices to-day Sheep and Lumbs. Receipts on Monday were 20 loads, Tuesday 12 additional, and this morning 2 loads. Last week on very light run, not above one-half this week's supply, markets advanced. This advance has not been maintained, owing to the heavy run. "Shadow and shine is life," and a feast or famine appear to alternate at Liberty ards. Last week we had too much shortage. This week supplies are in excess of demand and markets drag. The range of prices was $4 25 to $5 10, the last figure being for a few ex-24 25 to $5 10, the last figure being for a few ex-tras weighing 180 pounds.

The range of lambs was 5½ to 6½c. One little bunch brought 6½c, but was hardly a cri-terion to markets, as it was bought for New York parties to fill up a load.

A few lot of clipped sheep were among the supplies, but buyers were disposed to fight shy of this class in view of the uncertainties of weather.

The run has been light all the week and everything taken up as fast as it appeared. Prices at Chicago are the same as a week ago, with $4 90 for tops. At East Liberty the range has been $5 (6 to $5 15 for a day or two past, and to-day the latter figure was paid for all that appeared. The difference between prices of heavy and light hors is now reduced to a minimum. Heavy weights find much readier sale than they did through the winter. Said one of the large operators: "We have no one of the large operators: "We have no trouble selling everything that comes this week at outside quotaflons."

Wheat Weak All Along the Line, With Sweeping Drop in the May Future-Corn Higher-Oats Stendy-Hog Products Unsettled.

CHICAGO-The feeling was unsettled to-day in wheat, and a surprise was in store for hold ers of May in the shape of a material decline, with the more deferred futures sharing in the weakness some. Only a fair business was transacted, and influences governing the mar-ket were principally local. May opened 150 to 134c lower than Monday's closing, and declined 3c more, fluctuated some, and closed 456c lower. July opened 1/81/3c lower and declined more, then advanced le, and closed about the same as Monday.

The May future is clouded with mystery, and operators are entirely at sea, though it is the openion that the decline to-day has forced a large holder out. The buying, too, was credited mainly to parties who are supposed to be interested with the "bull" side in the May future,

A moderate trade was reported in corn, and the feeling developed was relatively firm. There were no new outside features of importance, and prices were governed entirely by local influences. The market opened at Monday's closing prices, fluctuated within 148%c, closing at 148%c higher than Monday.

Oats were weaker and lower, but the volume of business was only fair. Buyers were scarce, and the liberal offerings caused a decline of 368%c, May being the weakest. The break brought in a few buyers, and a reaction of 148% (c followed, but the close was quiet at nearly inside figures.

BAD COUNTRY ROADS

Their Wretched Condition No Credit to the State of Allegheny.

MONEY SEEKING INVESTMENT Pittsburg Business Men Letting the Southern Trade Go by Default.

THE STREET OPENERS GAINING GROUND

The wretched condition of the country roads is a serious obstacle to local business. It is almost impossible for farmers in many parts of the country to bring their produce to the city. The sight of horses and wagons sticking in the mud is a familiar one to the This embargo costs Pittsburg thousands of dollars every year. Any scheme to remedy this great and growing evil and place the granger on a solid footing would be thankfully accepted by the suffering public. It is no credit to the opulent "State of Allegheny" that it contains the worst roads in the State.

"There is more money seeking investment this season than ever before within my recol-lection," said a Fourth avenue real estate dealer yesterday evening. "Every day men with from $500 to $10,000 come to me for something in which to invest it. They can't get bank stocks at what they consider a paying price, and they won't look at speculative shares nor oil. The result is that they buy real estate as offering the best and surest return for their money. I have placed a large amount of cash this way in the past three months. I am glad of this. It not only helps business directly, but has consequential importance. It keeps money at home and gives others confidence in the permanency of re... "tate values."

Mr. W. A. Broom, who is in the city in the terest of the Southern Lumberman, published at Nashville, Tenn., and who is familiar with business in the South, says Pittsburg is falling behind other northern cities in the race for the trade of that section. He attributes this entirely to the apathy of our business men. There is no good reason, he thinks, why Pittsburg, with her immense natural advantages, r magnificent rallway and water communica sons, touching almost every Southern State, and her great manufacturing plants, producing everything needed in the way of machinery, should not go in and possess the land. He is fully persuaded that a little more energy and enterprise in placing Pittsburg products promi-nently before the Southern people would re-turn a large profit on the investment.

Another piece of Diamond street property changed hands yesterday, but particulars of the sale were withheld. It is situated below Wood street, and the price realized was said to be pretty steep. It is understood the purchaser is in favor of widening the street. From other sources it was learned that this project is neeting with better success than was anticipated from the stormy opposition raised against it at first. Signatures in favor of it are both numerous and influential. It is understood that Mr. Craig is heartily in favor of the scheme, and that Mr. Gregg's opposition is likely to be overcome. All admit that the improvement would be a great public benefit, and that this is a good time to carry it into execution. A gentleman from Detroit was in the city yesterday, and visited several real estate agents in quest of a building in which to establish a clothing store. He wanted it in the business center—between Smithfield and Market, Sixth and Fourth. As there is not an empty business house in the prescribed territory, of course he was unable to accomplish his wish, and left for Cincinnati, hoping to meet with better luck there. He was well pleased with the evidence of activity that he witnessed on every hand during his brief sojourn, and greatly regretted Wilkinsburg is enjoying a church boom. Father Lambing had ground broken yesterday for the building to take the place of the one destroyed by fire a few months ago. It will occupy the same site, but will be larger, having a school room in the basement. It will cost about $18,000. The Methodists will soon lay the foundations for their new church on what is known as the Howard property, but which was purchased by the congregation last fall. The building will be of stone and cost about $25,000. The United Presbyterians and the Episco-palians are also talking of building, their mempership having outgrown the capacity of their

Capt. Barbour Encounters an Unruly Crowd -A Drop in Electric.

Captain Barbour, the autocrat of the Stock Exchange, had an unruly and noisy audience yesterday afternoon. Since the removal of the blackboard and the Captain's throne a few days ago, to the southeast corner of the room, the jam in front of the board has been so great as to shut out those in the rear ranks from a view of the proceedings in front. To remedy this evil the Floor Committee drew a line, beyond which it was not lawful to stand. Yesterday which it was not tawken to statut. I esterday everybody seemed possessed of a disposition to ignore this limitation, and crowded the reserved space in such numbers as to cause considerable confusion and some augry talk on the part of two or three members. It is probable a railing will be put up around the space sought to be reserved. This would effectually accomplish the end in view—especially if barbed wire were

It was a good day for the bears. There were no transactions in Electric. At the first call 55 and 56 were bid and 57 asked; in the afternoon there were bids of 55%, with offers at 56. The brokers who had orders for the stuff remeon there were bids of 55%, with offers at 56. The brokers who had orders for the stuff regarded the drop with compiacency and smiled at the prospect of raking it in at still lower prices. The rumor of a reduction of the force employed in the Allegheny plant, although denied by the company, doubtless contributed to the depression. A bull on the stock said yesterday evening, "Electric is all right. The bears think they have put it in a hole, but they will soon find they are mistaken. I want a lot of it, but I want it as cheap as possible. There are large orders here for it. As soon as an attempt is made to fill them there will be another boom. The business of the company is constantly increasing. I think the stock is the cheapest on the market, considering its possibilities. It will ultimately be as valuable as Airbraka."

Philadelphia Gas was stronger, going at 30½ in the forenoon and at 38% in the afternoon. It was not pressed for sale. La Noria was the most active of the stocks dealt in. It onened at $2, at which 100 shares changed hands. After that it became weaker and sold freely at 13½ Just before the close it rallied on a good demand and finished at the opening figure. A CRISIS IN OIL. The Market Sustained by Fenrs of a Shortage-A Broker's Views. The oil market yesterday would doubtless have closed lower but for apprehension of a shortage. The same influence caused a strong feeling at the opening, which was 91%c. This was followed by a spurt to 91%c, after which a less confident feeling prevailed and the price declined, with little doing, to 91c. Later there was a slight rally, which stiffened the market a little. The final figures were 91%c. Carrying here was flat. A broker saig: "I think there will be a stronger market in the morning unless there should be important field news meantime, after which I would not be gurprised to see a slump. There must be a radical change of some kind before long. I am afraid it will be in the direction of a lower level."

Eggs again show drooping tendencies. . The best price that could be had for job lots to-day was 11½0. Nearby stock in small lots sell at 110:3 sugar-cured breakfast bacon, 10½0; sugar 120, which is the outside price. The Elgin Butter Board advanced prices of creamery %c at the Monday meeting. As there was a drop of % last week, prices are now the same as two weeks ago. We do not change our quotations on this small rise, as we made no change on last week's drop. Ohio creamery is in good demand and moving out freely. The tropical fruit trade is picking up. Domestic fruits do not follow suit. In general produce lines there are no signs of improvement, but the reverse. Farmers are kicking hard against returns re-ceived for products consigned to commission merchants. Our commission men have their own trials and tribulations this season in the effort to satisfy shippers. There is a growing demand for poplar wood for inside finish. Walnut appears to be recovering its lost prestige, and bids fair to become popular again, as in years gone by. Yard quotations of lumber have not changed, but there is a stiffening tendency in markets. Jobbing rates are higher than last spring, and retail quotations are not unlikely to advance when the season is fully on.
