An Important Match Between Local Trotting Horses.

ASSOCIATION CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

A Legal Opinion About the Poolselling Law.

GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

There are always lots of amusing features in a contest to those who know they have a picnic. Yesterday's game between the Torontos and the ball players that we own was one of those one-sided affairs that make people uninterested. This is not stated to mean anything disparagingly to the representatives of Her Majesty's dominions, but, as a matter of fact, it means that small people have no business here when we are in playing humor. Of course the good people from Canada may have many harsh things to say about Umpire Aborgast, He not, and in fact did not, may satisfy Serad, but probably that was Serad's fault. Whether or not Serad pitched a good game is not the important question. Harry Staley was in the box for the local fellows, and he gave the visitors to understand that they can be fooled as far as pitching goes. Staley was extremely speedy and at times wild. He, however, according to the umpire, kept the ball so near the plate that strikes were called. In the majority of cases the Toronto people struck at the ball and, after missing, really kicked because they struck at "such a rotten attempt to get a ball over the plate."

"STALEY WAS IN LINE.

However, Staley pitched a ball yesterday that would have fooled many people, but defeated contestants have always the right to complain. Staley pitched better than he did any time last year, and President Nimick, who watched him, was proud of his effort. His delivery at times was speedier than it was when he pitched winning games on the home grounds against big people last year. He looks and really is stronger than he was last year. However, he can become a steadier man as a pitcher

Little Nichols looked and acted every inch a ball player, and it is safe to say that he will be with the local team for a long time. Good judges think that he will become a jewel. He batted and ran ba-es yesterday like a youth who knows his business. He is an active little fellow. He had no chances offered in the field, but doubtless if he had he would have made good of all opportunities.

The game really was one that would interest the few people who were there, so far as the efforts of the local players were con-cerned. It is safe to say that the few speccerned. It is safe to say that the few spec-tators present were only interested in seeing how the local people were moving. The crowd was slim, indeed, and only goes to show that these exhibition games are to a great extent worthless. Dunlap made one or two brilliant plays, and by his judgment and activity only showed how ridiculous are the claims of those second basemen who aspire to be his superiors.

THE GENIAL FRED opening the championship season team is still in the ring and he now and again game is postponed until to-morrow. THE GENIAL FRED

LOUISVILLE, April 17.-The opening game of the American Association here was between Louisville and Kansas City. The visitors won Louisville and Kansas City. The risitors won on Swartz's pitching and weak fielding by the home team Ewing pitched well, but let in a run on a wild pitch, and errors by Tomney and Shannon also added to Kansas City's runs. It was the seventh inning before the home team got onto Swartz's delivery, and then they pounded out four runs rapidly. Attendance 2,000. Score:

That Seems to be the Motto of Colonel Allen Regarding the Purchase of Dock No. 7-Testimony for Him. The Board of Viewers appointed to take testimony and report in relation to the damages of Lock No. 7, met yesterday afternoon in the office of United States District Attorney Allen. Attorneys George Shiras and R. B. Carnahan represented the Navigation Company. Mr. Bakewell, Treasurer of the company, was recalled and asked about some extras that were charged up in the bill for construction that were not specified in the con-tract. He made a full explanation of them all.

Colonel Allen read from the reports of the company, showing that the coal and coke shipments through the lock in 1881 were 90,000,000 bushels, while in 1885 they were only $5,000,000; the amount of classified freight was 6,000,000 pounds less in 1885 than in 1881, and the amount of lumber and timber was 13,000,000 feet less in 1885 than in 1881. Mr. Bakewell said that in 1888 the company had done a larger business than in

They were for amounts rang-ing from $200 to $600. He testified that they all related to lock No. 7. W. G. Wilkins and George H. Brown, both experienced civil engineers, were called. They had made a visit to the lock last Monday, at the request of Colonel Rob-erts. Their testimony in the main was to Jacob Friday, a masonry contractor, who built the piers and abutments of the Smith built the piers and abutments of the Smith-field strete bridge, has also examined the lock recently, and agreed with the former witnesses that it was in a good condition. Allen has his figures for the price of the dam ready; but, as he intends to make an argueady; but, as he intends to make an apo ment in the case, he thought it not good policy to disclose the amount for the present. There will not be much of a dispute on that point; but they elaim in addition that, since the dam has stood the test of floods, stc., it is worth from 20 to 40 per cent more than it cost. The law recognizes no such mult in estimating damages. The Govern-ment claims that the lock is damaged, and must be either totally or partially reconstructed. Of these, about one-third are to fill existing vacancies, another third are ap-pointed in the places of postmasters removed for cause, and the other third succeed post-masters who have served about four years. While fourth-class postmasters are commis-sioned to serve during the pleasure of the Post-master General it is believed by the Postoffice Department officials that good service does not demand the retention of a postmaster, save in exceptional cases, beyond the four years period.

About 12 o'clock he called to her to stop reading and come to bed. She replied that she would shortly. This angered him and a war of words followed, which was kept up until he arose from the bed and commonced abusing her by striking ber in the face. He soon had her face almost hammered to a jelly, when, in self defense, she went to the bureau and picked up a revolver which was lying upon it and told him to keep back or she would shoot. Fields, however, advanded, and as he was about to strike her again she fired, the bell passing through his lungs. As he felt to the floor she turned to her little girl and said: "Birdie, will I shoot myself now?" She then fainted.

WILD SU would fear to tread. Dunlap will not lose P ittsburg the pennant if it comes down to a question of his individual effort.

The Torontos played tolerably fair. Swift made two flagrant mistakes, but McLaugh-lin did excellent work. The Canucks, how-ever, were outplayed, and if each club was to play on its merits for the balance of the year Toronto would not win a game between now and Christmas if the two teams were to play every day. The contrast is great. To tell the story of the run getting would be somewhat tedious. The local men made five runs in the fifth. There were ten men at bat and six hits were made, including Beckley's double. Serad seemed to be pul-verized. He settled down again, however, until the eighth inning when he was touched up for a single and a double by Kuchne. These hits, combined with two errors and an out, netted two more runs. The old Cincinnati pitcher kicked against the umpire like a steer.

Toronto made their only run in the seventh inning on two hits and a wild throw by Dunlap. The full score follows:

This is in recognition of the silence of the Savior during His passion, and to express the silent mourning of the church at His death. The sacrament is carried to a side altar so that the devotion of the passion at the main alter may not be interrupted. After the procession the alter is stripped of its apparel and ornaments to signify the
