Diamond Street Improvement. MILLIONS IN EARLY FRUITS.

Value of the Exposition as an Educator of

PETSOLEUM CONTINUES TO TUMBLE

Whenever an individual, a municipality or a corporation have more irons in the fire than he or they can well handle some of them are sure to be burned. With one street widening scheme in view and almost worked up to the sticking point, it is folly to lug in several others, and have them all dragging along at once. That is putting too many irons in the fire, and will kill off the whole batch. The importance of improving Diamond street is no longer a question; it is admitted by everybody. It is only the adjustment of the cost that remains open. But not so with Fifth avenue, which is a very good street, even if strangers do laugh at it. It has served the demands of travel and traffic for many years, and it is capable of serving them for many years to come. To widen it would cost more money than the people or the city are in a condition to disburse. The talk about improving Virgin alley is of the same sort. To make a street of it would involve far more money than the improvement would be worth to the city at present. But if, after further consideration, these works should be deemed necessary, they can be attended to later on. Both of these schemes, the original of which dates back several years, have doubtless been revived at this juncture to involve the Diamond street project in fresh difficulties and create a feeling against it. But its importance, its necessity, which every wide-awake citizen recognizes, will outweigh in the public estimation all the objections that have been urged by its opponents. Its improvement would remove the pressure from Fifth avenue and open up a ne-business district in the heart of the city,

A ruralist who is engaged extensively in gar lening and fruit growing a few miles from th city, said yesterday that the prospect was fav orable for full crops of cherries, peaches plums, grapes and other small fruits that are cultivated in the vicinity of Pittsburg. He had he said, made a careful examination of th ouds and found that they were sound an healthy. Unless nipped by a late frost, he added, we will have a large yield.

"What is the fruit and berry production of

"I have not made a careful estimate of it he replied, "but I think it safe to put it at beween $1,600,000 and $2,000,000."

Novelties will never cease. Here is one by a Berlin inventor, that may interest Pittsburg builders. It is a simple and mexpensive ele-vator for private dwellings to take the place of the ordinary stairway. It is on the principle of the inclined railway, and the motive power is furnished by the city water, which is applied in the cellar; each flight has its separate chair, so that, for example, one person can ascend from the first to the second story while another is on its way from the second to the third, or still another is descending from the fifth to the fourth.

The chair, being only of the width of the human body, requires but little space, and still eaves a free passage for any who wish to walk up and down, instead of riding. It is set in notion by a simple pressure of one of its arms, while after it has been used it slides back to the bottom step, its descent being regulated in such a manner that the carrying of a passenger is a matter of entire safety. Its cheapness is one of its best recommendations.

"Now that the Exposition is assured, I think it well enough to state that the principal advantage to be derived from it has been over-looked or kept in the background," remarked a prominent business man yesterday. "While it will do doubt draw large crowds to the city and fill the coffers of our merchants, it will be an educator of the masses by familiarizing them with all kinds of machinery and textile fabrics, of which they could acquire correct ideas in no other way. This will be especially valuable to young men and boys, giving them ideas and impulses that will influence them in after life. This is worth all the Exposition will cost, and more too. I would be glad to see it made a permanent institution, open all the

Merchant and Manufacturers Finding More

Use for Banking Capital. Business in the local money market yester-day was fairly active, but no new features were developed, A moderate discount business was transacted at the usual rates, and checking and depositing were slightly above the aver and depositing were signify above the aver-age. Small notes were scarce. The Clearing House report was again favorable, the ex-changes being $2,392,014 32 and the balances $478,327 34. While there is nothing noteworthy in the financial situation, it may be remarked that, as the season progresses, merchants and manufacturers are daily finding more use for

CAUTIOUS TRADERS.

They Close Out Old Contracts for Fear of a Hollday Crash-Most of the Active Stocks Higher at the Finish.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Before the holiday there is no disposition to enter into new con-tracts, and most of the traders closed out their

the main, the first thing being the reduction of the Bank of England's rate of discount from 3 to 2½ per cent. This was followed by the defeat of the bill before the Legislature of Minnesota to reduce the rates on grain in that State, and the covering of shorts by the traders gave the market a firm tone. The opening figures were in most cases from ½ to ½ per cent higher than last evening's closing prices, and although the business done was confined to a smaller number of stocks than usual, almost everything traded in moved up small fractions further in the early trading.

The decision of Judge Gresham, making the injunction against the Wagner Company perpetual, was felt in Pullman again, and it opened up 4½ per cent, at 150, and moved up 1 per cent further, but could not hold the gain and reacted to 188. The opening of the Territory of Oklahoma is expected to be of great benefit to Atchison, and that stock was fractionally higher, and the influence reached Missouri Pacific, although the latter was helped by the report of increasing earnings. Dullness became the great feature, however, and fluctuations were reduced to the smallest limits. The failure of the Housatonic road to secure permission to issue bonds for an extension to the Sound, which was supposed to be made in the interest of New England, acted upon that stock, and it scored a loss of 1½ per cent.

The movement extended to the rest of the list, but the reaction was slight, and before 2 p. M. the upward movement was resumed. The Milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western stocks, and especially the common, made rapid progress at this time, and later Chicago Gas became very active and strong and succeeded in crossing 50 with a large fraction to spare. Chattanooga also displayed marked strength, and advanced over 2 per cent in the afternoon. The Oregon stocks were strong, although very little attention was paid them, while Philadelphia Gas was a weak spot in the list. There was considerable pressure again upon Reading, but its fluctuation for the day was only ½ pe 1183年 1170 元 117 Apples are moving out freely at better prices. Onious and cabbage are also in more active demand than they have been for months past. Potatoes are slow as ever. There is an improved demand for fall cheese, but no change in prices, Eggs have not been as low for many years in Passion Week as now. The outside price for job lots is Ilc, and even at this low figure they move slowly. Produce trade in general shows a healthier tone this week, and, under the influence of bright skies, stuff moves out freely. Last season's products are being pushed on to markets at what they will bring, and soon all things will become new.

corn is the strong factor of grain markets. Choice hay is steady. Barley has advanced in the West, but the rise makes no impression here. Very little bariey is handled by Pittsburg dealers of latz. Many think that the fear of prohibition has a depressing influence on the trade. The Wheat Market Tame and Prices on Lower Level-Corn Quiet and Oats Weak-The Hog Products

Are Irregular. CHICAGO—About all that could be said of the market to-day is that it was dull and feature-less. Trading was almost wholly local, and had it not been for the operations of one or two large traders there would have been next to nothing doing. The opening was stronger, and prices were advanced %c above yesterday's closing, but operators were of the opinion that the advance was artificial, and for the purpose of selling on. Prices then declined 1/4c, recovered slightly, and closed 1/4c lower than yesteridea of the crops suffering for lack of moisture. Some long wheat was closed out to-day, the parties evidently having tired of holding with the present outlook of the market.

Corn was quiet and inactive the entire session. Trading was limited and fluctuations narrow. The feeling developed was comparatively steady, and values did not vary from yesterday. Oats were active but weak and unsettled. May was the weakest, and most of the day sold at a slight discount. June and July, while selling at lower prices, were relatively stronger than May. The opening was fractionally lower, advanced 100% on fair buying, chiefly hy shorts, became weaker and declined 100%, rallied slightly, closing at a shade lower than yesterday.

Trading was fairly active in mess pork and prices ruled irregular. Early the feeling was rather weak and prices declined 10@123/c.
Later the market showed more atrength and prices rallied 16@173/c. Outside figures were not maintained and the market closed quietly.

THE OIL FLURRY.

Another Bustling Day on 'Change, With Yesterday was another active day in the oil market, but the excitement at no time reached fever heat, as it did the day before. One of the longs was frozen out, but it was said he would be able to fix up things so as to come out all right. Lima oil was a lively topic of discussion, but dealers generally were of the opinion that it had very little to do with the break, sion, but dealers generally were of the opinion that it had very little to do with the break, which was due principally to heavy realizing by those who had lost faith in the market. The difference in prices between Pittsburg, New York and Oil City gave the scalpers a fine opportunity to get in their work, and they improved the opportunity. There was good trading all along the line.

The market opened at 84%. After selling down to 84% once or twice it rallied a fraction or two, touching 85, but finally, just before the finish, it slumped off again with sales at 85%, which was the lowest and closing price, with a prospect, according to one of the shrewdest operators, of vibrating between that figure and 87 for some time. Refined was off 10 points. Field news was to the effect that McKeown No. 18 was not flowing; that McKeown No. 8 was doing 17 barrels an hour; that Knox No. 2 was doing 22 barrels an hour; that the Buffallo Oil Company's No. 7 was at the top of the sand, and that there was no change at Turkeyfoot.

old ones, which served to make the business for the day up to the average of late. The news of the day, however, was quite favorable in the main, the first thing being the reduction of the Bank of England's rate of discount from 3 considerable pressure again upon Reading, but its fluctuation for the day was only % per cent, and its final loss insignificant.

Among the unlisted shares there was a further drop in Sugar Trusts, but the others were quiet and Brunswick closed at 21. The Central list reacted again slightly in the last hour, but the close was firm, while duil and generally at the best prices reached. Most of active stocks are higher. Pullman is up 34; Oregon Improvement. 134; Milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western. 136 milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western. 136 milwaukee, Lake Shore and Onicago Gas, 136, while Philadelphia Gas iost 2 per cent.

Railroad bonds again showed a moderate degrée of animation, and the sales of all issues reached $1,500,000, out of which the Milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western convertibles furnished $123,000. Those bonds were the feature of the day and were strong all the way out, while the femper of the remainder was somewhat nixed and final changes are irregular. The advances include Louisville and Nashville, Cecilian Branch, 434 to 112; and Peoria, Decatur and Evansville firsts, 3 to 1973.

MEAT ON THE HOOF. Prime Heavy Cattle Being Withheld

LARGE PROFITS FOR EXPORTERS. Views of a Montana Ranchman on the Cat-

for Better Markets.

tle Situation. WEEK RETURNS AT LIBERTY YARDS

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, THURSDAY, April 18, 1889. With returns for the week all in, it appears that local cattle receipts were but 30 head more than last week. Small as the excess has been, it has made a slight impression on markets, but no change in rates. The only difference between the markets of last week and this is that the former were more active. Every thing then was cleared up, while this week a few loads were shipped out in search of buyers. There were no prime heavy cattle in this week's supplies. The heaviest that could be hunted down did not exceed 1,400 pounds in weight, and for these the outside price was 434c.

An interview with one of our leading cattlemen, who, in addition to being a heavy dealer, is the owner of an extensive ranch in Montana, developed some facts on the cattle situation, which are here given: Exporters of cattle have had a harvest for the past six months, owing to the extremely low prices they have been required to pay for stock. While there has been little or no stock. While there has been little or no change of rates paid on foreign shores since ast fall, there has been a drop here of fully 2c per pound. If cattle could be exported last fall at a profit, when 6% and 7c were sometimes paid, there must be a land office business in exporting of late when the rates have been do to 4%c. Already the cattle steamers are engaged for four months ahead, and the shipping interests are said to be under the control principally of one man, Goldsmith by name. It is little wonder that our vessels are to be crowded with live stock for the coming four months, when ft is remembered that there is a profit to the shipper of $1.00 to $2.00 per 100 above what he could have realized last fall and for many previous seasons.

and for many previous seasons. Effect of an Open Winter. The receipts of cattle the past winter at Chieago have been larger than ever before, reaching about 50,000 weekly, giving evidence of the abuudance of corn in the land. The very open winter, together with the large corn crop, has added in weight to every steer sufficient to make an extra beeve in every 20 head. On account of abundant corn crop all over the land count of abundant corn crop all over the land farmers have been feeding more than their usual number of stock. Regular feeders have been holding back their cattle on account of low prices and abundance of corn. With plenty of corn those in the regular line of cattle raising prefer to hold back their stock, being assured that better prices are coming. At the Montana ramch referred to above cattle are still held to await better prices. And their name is legion who are doing likewise. Hence, notwithstanding the heavy run of cattle all this season to live stock centers and to see ports, there are still multitudes to nd to sea ports, there are still multitudes to soon as markets will justify, we follow. So soon as markets will justify, we may expect heavy receipts of prime heavy cattle, which are now being held back by regular feeders. Light weights and low grades have been drawn to markets on late low prices. The tide has already turned toward better rates and a better quality of cattle will be coming forward from now on. Sheep and Lambs. Markets show a slightly improved tone over the past few days. A few bunches sold this morning at $4 30 which is better than they would have brought any day this week. From Chicago comes the report that mar-kets have improved. Texas wool sheep sold there yesterday at $4.50 to $4.60. New York markets are still very slow. Hogs are fully 10c botter at Liberty than yesterday. A double deck of heavy hogs were sold this morning at $5 30. The outside price yesterday was $5 05. Following are full returns of the week's transactions at the East Liberty yards:

Drygoods Market. NEW YORK, April 18.-There was a better feeling in view of the near approach of another season, the advance in cotton, the favorable aspect of the wheat crop and an increased inquiry for fall goods, Business with jobbers and agents continued on a conservative scale in seasonable fabrics, with some activity in new articles brought out, while stocks are low all round and prices unusually steady for this
