RAIDS PLANNED FOR CHICKEN FIGHTS.

The first appeal ever taken, in a case wherein the Humane Society was the prosecutor, will be heard by Judge Magee Saturday morning.

Wilson Wall, a prominent and wealthy farmer, living near East Elizabeth, purchased from John Guffey the well-known resident of that place, and father of Frank H. Guffey, the attorney of this city, one 3-year-old colt, for which he paid $140.

The purchaser took the pony to his farm, "and there proceeded to 'break her in.' He hitched the colt to a very heavy sled, with heavy plow harness, and put a tight crupper under her tail.

On June 12, the colt, in trying to draw the sled, fell down a number of times, and was badly cut about the legs.

The hearing lasted from 9 o'clock in the afternoon until 11 o'clock in the morning, and was the greatest event that occurred in the town for a long time.

Agent O'Brien made the pony placed in Mrs. Wall's hands, and the question has arisen what will the society do with her.

There has not been such a favorable season for cherries and strawberries around this part of the country for many years as the present one, and from all present indications the crop of fruit will be unusually abundant.

There is only one thing to harm the crop, and that is a frost. It has been chilly enough for the last few days to create fears for a frosty snap, but I think it is about over and the fruit saved.

CAUGHT AT LAST.

The Chicago Customs Fraud is Finally in the Tolls—He Was Known as "Willie Tascotti" Among the Officials—A Long Chase.

CHICAGO, May 28.—The man who has been giving the Chicago customs officials a vast amount of trouble for months and victimizing numerous honest taxpayers, including the daughter of Chief Justice Fuller, of the United States Supreme Court, was finally arrested to-day.

The fellow was known as "Willie Tascotti," because he always managed to elude the vigilant detectives, although he was heard from every day. When arrested he gave the name of Morris Fleckenger, and stoutly maintained his innocence.

The treasury officials were not sure they had the right man until Policeman Hanley came and identified him as a man who had served one year in the Maryland penitentiary under the name of James Lee, and who had been in the Milwaukee jail under the name of John Cartright.

A score of devices were tried to capture the "Willie Tascotti," but none proved successful. Finally Treasury Agent James McHale informed the railroad detectives at the various depots to look out for him, for he had been in the suburbs to perpetrate his swindles.

He was recognized from the description by the officers at the Rock Island depot to-day, and was sent to the Custom House in New York. He was not one of his many victims, who were for immediately identified by Mrs. Goldsmith.

Fleckenger laid the plan for his swindling operations while he was an employee of the Custom House in New York. He was discharged some years ago, and at once began swindling the people of Baltimore, for which he served one year in the penitentiary.

He was very successful in his operations, and he has been successful for about nine months. In that time he has swindled about 100 persons out of money to the amount of $100,000.

His plan was to go to a residence and say that a package had been just received from Europe on which the duties must be paid, and if paid at once, about $100,000 would be saved.

He always approached the woman of the house, and they rarely failed to fall into the trap.

COLD-BLOODED MURDER.

A Young Lawyer Shot Down by His Wife's Step-Father—The Murderer Refuses to Give His Reasons for the Killing.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 28.—The particulars of the murder of the promising young lawyer, D. L. Mabry, in Abbeville on Saturday last, has just reached here. John J. Lyon, the murderer, is the step-father of Mrs. Mabry, and is over 60 years old.

The murdered man had been practicing law for five years and was 26 years old. Lyon and Mabry had been close friends as the difference in their ages would permit.

They had a serious quarrel on Friday night and on Saturday Lyon armed himself with a shotgun and stationed himself before a schoolhouse, where he could command a view of the path which Mabry always took from the office.

Mabry was late and Lyon waited for him for two hours. At last he appeared and Lyon walked from behind the house and said: "Do you want to fight this morning?"

Mabry replied: "Not in that kind of way. I am not armed, and if you shoot you are a murderer." Lyon immediately fired and Mabry fell mortally wounded and said: "Don't shoot again, I am killed now," but Lyon fired the shot into his prostate fire, killing him outright.

Both parties belong to the best families and are connected with all of the prominent people of the county. Mabry was a graduate of the University of Virginia, and was a very bright young man. He leaves a wife and two small children. Mr. Lyon is in jail, and has no regrets as to his action.

Public sentiment is against him. He will be defended by a half dozen of the best lawyers in the county, and it will probably be at the trial before the true reasons for the murder are made known.

On Saturday next, June 1, between $615,000 and $616,000. Elder Henry Day, of this city, a prominent ecclesiastical lawyer, made an address in which he declared that he was connected with many wealthy trust corporations, and the officers met three times a week to discuss the affairs of the company.

It is needless to say that Dr. Crosby did not sit down patiently under the impudence of the Rev. Dr. Devereux, and he was obliged to leave the assembly on the subject of prohibition.

Dr. Crosby, who had given Dr. Devereux the black eye on Monday night, seconded the motion and it was passed unanimously.

After considerable debate a special committee was appointed to study the details of the case, and the special committee, was appointed to consider and report at the next General Assembly whether it is advisable to adopt a practical method to increase the supply of the church.

BUNKOED AN ELDER.

One of Gotham's Smart Swindlers Gets the Best of a Curchman.

HIS HAUL IS ONLY $40, THOUGH.

Dr. Crosby is Well Pleased That the Commissioner Was a Layman.

NEW YORK, May 28.—It is necessary in the interests of truth to record the fact that an elder in the Presbyterian church, in attendance as commissioner in the General Assembly of the church in the United States, in Dr. Crosby's Fourth Avenue Presbyterian Church, met the accomplished bunko stealer of New York City the other day, and was induced to part with $40 in good cash.

This came out on the last day of the thirteenth session of the General Assembly, in the course of a debate.

The Rev. Dr. Worrell, of the Thirtieth Street Presbyterian Church, and reported that the committee fund for the benefit of disabled and aged ministers would be on Saturday next, June 1, between $615,000 and $616,000.

SCHORR'S SUICIDE.

The Woman That He Loved Calls Him a Coward—His Rash Deed Calls the Leading Topics of Conversation.

BALETHORE, May 28.—On the street, in the club, everywhere, the one topic of conversation has been the case of Rev. Henry Greenfield Schorr's Sunday morning suicide, as published in an out-of-town paper, to which he had sent both his correspondence and the woman he loved.

As well as her name. Schorr evidently was a peculiar man, taking his meals at an expensive hotel and having comfortable rooms at the St. Paul's parish house. A favorite with the fashionable congregation of St. Paul's, where he was assistant rector, he constantly refused to talk about his parents, who lived in a humble way in an obscure part of town.

He had borrowed the money from the Rev. Dr. Devereux, and he was very much ashamed of them. He gave many false reasons for his periodical gloom. First, a friend had committed suicide because he had never married him. I think he was a mythical story was seriously told in Brooklyn, etc. Schorr was buried to-day.

A reporter called this evening at the luxurious home of Margaret S. Smith, at No. 1219 North Charles street, the woman whom Schorr said he loved. Her appearance betrayed the fact that she is tall and slender and has very dark expressive eyes and black hair. She looked to be about 40 years of age.

The letters as published were true," she said, "but Mr. Schorr's action in sending the love letters was the act of a coward, and was done because I will never marry him. I had never married him. I think he was a mythical story was seriously told in Brooklyn, etc. Schorr was buried to-day.

TO ABATE A NUISANCE.

A New Ordinance to Regulate the Distribution of Handbills.

It Recalls a Whole Batch of Dead-Letter Municipal Laws.

WHICH COULD ALL BE MADE USEFUL.

The ordinance offered by Councilman Keating in Councils on Monday for the regulation of the distribution of handbills, dodgers, etc., provides that "it shall not be lawful for any person, or persons, to distribute by throwing any handbills, dodgers or other advertising devices from wagons or in any other manner so that they shall litter the street. According to the original draft of Mr. Keating's ordinance, the intention was to prohibit the distribution of this kind of literature altogether among pedestrians.

The ordinance of more importance than that people would learn a lesson. Not only are the streets made unsightly by the litter caused by such distribution, but when the wind is blowing these papers fly about in the air and are a nuisance to the public. It is a nuisance to the public to have these papers scattered about the streets, and it is a nuisance to the public to have these papers scattered about the streets.
