

ONLY IMITATIVE ART.

Very Few New Great Creative Works at the Paris Exposition.

AN ABUNDANCE OF LANDSCAPES.

The Influence of the Paris School to be Seen Everywhere.

MYTHOLOGY LEFT TO THE SCULPTORS

PARIS, May 31.—A few observations may be added to what I cabled you last Saturday about the art department of the Exposition.

How positively these so-called historical scenic compositions dominate the entire exhibit may be conjectured from the fact that there are nearly half of the whole number of works exhibited.

Many of the works primarily designed only for the decoration of public edifices are wholly above this censure and have not been, probably cannot be, surpassed in the accomplishment of their end.

They never melt the soul nor bend the knee. Even when a Hezner paints a crucifixion he hangs upon the cross a flaccid, common-place figure.

The religious themes are painted exactly in the same way as the profane themes, exclusively from an objective point of view.

Mythology still holds captive the sculptors, but the painters have preferred to lodge their muse in modern life.

CLASICS AT A DISCOUNT. Mythology still holds captive the sculptors, but the painters have preferred to lodge their muse in modern life.

LOTS OF LANDSCAPES. The landscapes are the most numerous after the scenic compositions.

THEIR FEATURES. Passivity, beautiful in difference of sentiment, stillness without repose or action.

Next in uniformity of excellence, as well as in preserved individualism, comes the art of Holland.

PARIS PARAMOUNT. Scandinavian art shows something of this struggle also, but the influence of Paris is paramount.

"SECURUS JUDICAT ORBIS TERRARUM." Apollinaris "THE QUEEN OF TABLE WATERS."

The filling of the Apollinaris Spring in Rhenish Prussia, amounted to 11,894,000 bottles in 1887, and 12,720,000 bottles in 1888.

Beware of! Beware of! Beware of!

A DECADE IN THE PEN.

The Four Men Convicted of Burglaring Christian Yoder's House Sent Up for Ten Years Each—A Charge of Murder Still Hangs Over Them.

SOMERSET, May 31.—Marshall and Jackson Sullivan, Tasker and Charles J. Lewis, convicted yesterday of burglary and larceny at the home of Christian Yoder, were brought into court this morning and each sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and the costs, and to each undergo ten years separate and solitary confinement at hard labor in the Western Penitentiary.

Christian Yoder, the Old Amish Victim of Robbery and Torture.

Before pronouncing sentence, Judge Barr overruled the motion of the prisoners' counsel for a new trial.

When asked by the Court, before pronouncing sentence, if they had anything to say, Lewis said: "Two of us were not prepared for the trial because the case was hurried so."

Mr. Holbert, counsel for the defendants, made a special plea for vacation of the sentence of the case of Marshall Sullivan, but without success.

The Court ruled that the charge against the prisoners of assault and battery with intent to kill would not be tried, but would be held until the men completed their terms of imprisonment.

W. J. McGargle Fleeds Galley in Open Court, and is Fined $1,000.

CHICAGO, May 31.—W. J. McGargle, ex-Warden of the Cook County Hospital, who has been a fugitive from justice, under indictment as one of the "boodlers" in the county ring, living for some time in Banff, British Columbia, walked into Judge Bennett's courtroom shortly before noon today and gave himself up.

At the same time the State's Attorney dismissed the case against Ed. McDonald, engineer of the asylum, who was convicted of being concerned in the crookedness with McGargle.
