A SLAPPING SERMON

Rev. J. K. Melhorn, of Grace Church, Hits Back at Enemies.

HIS PARTING SHOT SENSATIONAL.

The Score of Alleged Emissaries of the Adversary Catch it All.

PROBABILITY OF A NEW CONGREGATION

Rev. J. K. Melhorn, pastor of the Grace Evangelical Church. South Twenty-seventh. preached his farewell sermon yesterday morning, or as he put it, not his farewell sermon, but his last as pastor of the church. In the sermon he made several references to the trouble in the church. He said:

"The wicked cannot bear the light. Holiness, zeal for God, 'well doing,' are detested by the carnal mind. And, if they can do no more, they will traduce the character of the righteous and if possible cripple their usefulness." Suddenly stopping, the speaker said: "I want that to have time to soak in."

Following the sermon, Rev. Mr. Melhorn read a copy of the call issued by the church to him in 1882, and then read the following explanation of his situation:

"As in every congregation, there were a few in this one, who seemed never to be satisfied, except when they were doing the work of the great Adversary. The congregation was never in a more prosperous condition, up to the last communion on Easter.

THE LARGEST NUMBER

amuned on that day that ever communed in this church at any one time. And 17 new members were added. While many of the faithful ones were here at that time, engaged in the solemn service of commemorating the passion of our dear Lord, the emissaries of the or our dear Lord, the emissaries of the wicked one were gluttoning the passions by sowing the seeds of discord and schism, alien-ating the membership and rending the body of Christ by nightly traveling the hills and valleys, sowing tares among the wheat; and, judging from the amount of 'blowing' they have done, and the disgrace they have entailed on the congression, by misrepresentation to on the congregation, by misrepresentation to reporters of papers, the brethren would sup-pose that they had secured at least one-half of the names of the membership on the paper the names of the membership on the paper they were circulating.

"But what is the fact? Out of a membership now on the record of 304 they prevailed on 46 to sign their paper, two of whom have declared that their names must be taken off. One name was put on while the lady was in bed asleep, and without her knowledge and consent, leaving them 38 names, counting drones and all; for at least 30 of their signers are not entitled to a vote in the church. They have one-eighth of the entire membership so diagusted at their disorderly and unchristian conduct that they feel that they cannot affiliate or worship with them any more.

ALL BROKEN UP.

"Fifty-three of the members have applied for their letters of standing in the congregation during the last week, with a view at no far distant day to hand them in elsewhere. I have urged them to stick to the enurch and not allow themselves to be pushed out by the enereward their and punish the ungodly for their ingodly deeds, for He has said, 'Vengeance is ungodly deeds, for He has said, vengeance is mine; I will repay."

"Shall that one-eighth rule of ruin? For my part I can't stay to fight the case; it is the congregation's duty. Their conduct has driven from the Sunday school six of the teachers, and largely of their classes, reducing the number of schools to a small fraction.

"The people in the congregation I left vacant 18 years ago last spring, when I accepted the call here, took step at once toward giving me a call to be their pastor again. Accordingly on call here, took steps at once toward giving me a call to be their pastor again. Accordingly on last Lord's Day, they held meetings in the Freeport parsonage, and at once took a vote and extended me a pressing call. I have not considered it yet, but may accept.

"This closes my services with you as pastor, I expect to be in the pastor's house week days until fall, or at least till next week. If called upon, I have never refused, and will not refuse my friends here. Farewell! God bless you all."

AFTER THE SERMON

number of the congregation flocked ound Rev. Mr. Melhorn and many more deared their allegiance to him. It was proposed Mr. Melhorn was asked if he would stay with them; but he gave no promise. A meeting of the congregation, to take action in the matter, will probably be called in a few days. On the other hand, the members of the fac-tion opposed still persist in their action, and say that they may form another congregation. All in all, still more startling things may be ex-pected from the schism in the little church.

How often are we yet to be told that whis-ky kills? Arsenic kills, opium kills, and so do hundreds of other good remedies kill if abused instead of used. But ask the question "Will whisky cure?" "Yes" is the positive reply of the positive reply of the the positive reply of the most eminent physicians of all the land. Disease steals into your system like a sneak thief into your house, and often by the neglecting a bad cold we end our days in lingering and wishing for health, when, indeed, one bottle of pure whisky or brandy would have cured the cold. Such goods may be scarce but they can be tound at Max Klein's, 82 Federal street, Allegheny. His "Silver Age" is the only whisky indorsed by physicians. Notice to Housewives.

Every housewife who is looking for furniture with which to decorate or furnish a home for all seasons, should call at our rehome for all seasons, should call at our retail rooms and view the largest and best assortment of foreign and home-made goods, and satisfy themselves that our prices, like the goods, are all we claim for them. Our rooms are exceedingly well lighted, which enables us to show the beautiful colors of upholstery to a greater advantage than any of our competitors. It is worth the while of all who contemplate buying turniture, and even those who do not, to come and see our goods.

Description of the ladies are widows of mature age, and were selected by Chief Brown from a large number of applicants.

Mrs. Sadie Earley, widow of the late William Earley, a bricklayer who died about two years ago, is the day matron, and Mrs. Runie Brennen, widow of the late Policeman Pierce Brennen, and mother of the present policeman of that name, is the night matron. Their turns will alternate each month, night and day, the same as the station house sergeants. Their duties will consist of controlling and caring for female prisoners, searching them when brought in, and attending them when sick. They will also be expected to make the beds and keep the rooms tidy of the emergency police.

What the Public Likes.

Whitmyre & Co. are meeting with an amount of success that daily increases in their efforts to legitimately introduce and advertise the "Iron City Brand" of flour. The large amount now sold shows, beyond a doubt, that the best-selling brands carry their advertisement with their use. "Iron City Brand" has come to stay and the pub lie takes kindly to that class of goods which shows for itself what it is made of and how a trial brings out its excellencies.

THE COLD WATER MEETINGS.

Temperance People Talk Both of Flood Sufferers and of Drinkers.

The prohibition amendment meeting held last night in the Opera House was well at tended. Captain J. K. Barbour presided. The collection taken up, amounting to about $25, will go to the Johnstown sufferers. The announcement was made that no word had yet been received about ex-Attorney General Brad-ford, of Kansas, who was to have addressed the meeting, and who, it is feared, has been lost in the disaster.

The meeting was opened with a short speech from Captain Barbour. He detailed the terrible results of drink, portraying his own experience, and beseeching the young men to turn aside from liquor before it is too late.

Mr. Thomas Cowan, of Cleveland, followed with an address in behalf of the amendment. The speaker said that he was an American, though of foreign birth. He was an American, though of foreign birth. He was an American by choice, because he liked America, and was proud of her. He added: "And I would say to any foreign born, if they don't like the customs and usages of this country, let them go back home." He concluded with an earnest appeal to vote for home against the devil on June 18.

in Interesting Time at One of the Oldest M. E. Churches of the Monongabela Valley. An event of no little interest transpired yes-terday at the Taylor M. E. The quaint old stone building has been from a time beyond the memory of the oldest inhabi-tant one of the landmarks between Washingtant one of the landmarks between Washington and Brownsville.

Some claim that it is the oldest Methodist Church west of the mountains, though Uniontown was probably ahead. Bishop Asbury preached within the walls of the old Stone Church well nigh a century ago.

The centennial services yesterday were in charge of Dr. Charles W. Smith, of the Christian Advocate, and Dr. A. H. Norcross, of the Pittsburg Female College. The former's sermon was in the main historical.

Large numbers of Monongahela Valley Methodists from this section to the headwaters were present. The Stone Church had been refitted and renovated for the occasion, and bids fair to outlast a few generations more.

Inter-State Law. CHICAGO, June 2-Five railroad officials were indicted yesterday under the inter-State commerce law. The offense charged is illegal discrimination, and the indictments are the discrimination, and the indictments are the first of the kind since the passage of the statue. It is all a sequel to the disclosures last winter that the Michigan Central was manipulating grain rates in the interest of Counselman & Co., and probably others.

The officers indicted are Alexander Mackey, general freight agent of the road; Arthur W. Street, formerly assistant general freight agent; E. L. Somers, agent of the Bue line; Austin P. Griswold, contracting freight agent and Fred C. Nicholas, local freight agent. If convicted they will be fined $5,000 apice. The prosecution is at the instance of the Chicago Board of Trade.

RUN OVER BY A CAR.

A Boy Collides With a Mortar Box With

Disastrous Results. About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon a 15year-old boy named James Butler was sit-ting on the front steps of a Birmingham street car. When near the corner of Tenth street a mortar box on the street, dangerously clore to the car tracks, struck the boy, knocking him off the steps. The car passed over the boy's leg, smashing it from the knee to the foot. He was taken into Brewster's drug store, where the injury was dressed, and afterward removed to his home, on Twenty-seventh street, in the patrol wagon.

COVENANTERS

To Vote for the Constitutional Amendment When the Time Comes.

THEIR VERY SINGULAR POSITION They Dissent From the Constitution for

One Important Reason. THE REV. D. M'ALLISTER, D.D., EXPLAINS

The question, which has been raised among religious circles, whether the Cove-nanters would vote for the Constitutional amendment, has at last been answered by Rev. David McAllister, D. D., the pastor of the Eighth Street Reformed Presbyterian

The reverend gentleman was asked for nformation regarding the question Saturday. He stated: "I think I may positively state that the majority of the members of our church will vote on the Constitutional amendment and vote for it. Of course you must know that our position in regard to voting is somewhat different from that of any member of other churches. It is simply this:

"The historical position of the Reformed Presbyterian Church has always been that of political dissent from the written compact of the United States Constitution. The who administer the Government under it to do so without placing or giving any preferance to Christianity in administrating acts over any other religion at the same time, > the fights in the army. No church sent a larger proportion into the field than the Reformed Presbyterian Church. Our members may serve as school trustees when an oath to the Constitution is not required. We have also voted on amendments to the Constitution because we consider voting on an amendment different from voting for an officer to administer the Constitution with a wrong provision in it."

"What is this wrong provision?"
"The equal consideration of all religious beliefs. We centend that the religion of Christianity ought to have been mentioned in the Constitution in preference and in distinction from any other belief and hence we dissent from it. But when it comes to the vote for an amendment we feel at liberty to do so ecause we can apply the law of Christianity CHRISTIANITY SUPREME. "The Constitution can never be the law of its own amendment. Therefore the question whether an amendment is right or wrong can be decided by the voter in his own application of

"This being the position we take, I feel safe in saying, that we will vote and work On next Wednesday the highest of our church in this land, the Synod, will meet at Belle Center, O., and if the question come up there, which it most likely will, a resolution will undoubtedly be passed indorsing the objects of the Constitutional amendment, and requesting everybody to mark for it?"

THAT GENEVA COLLEGE ROW.

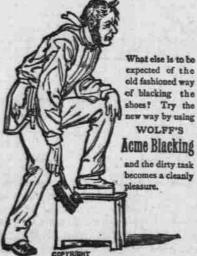

Dr. McAllister Talks About It at Bis Church -A Full Explanation-Some Interesting

Rev. Dr. McAllister, in place of his usual Sunday afternoon sermon, devoted the time to an explanation of the difficulties Geneva College. He began by saying that he felt it due both to himself and his church that a full statement of the case be given. This because a great many incorrect reports were affoat and because his church had always been one of the most liberal patrons of the college. Two members of his church had given $5,000 each, another $10,000, another a large donation of rare and valuable books. Rooms in the college had been furnished by different members of the Eighth street congregation.

The doctor had himself been a member of the Geneva faculty, and within the past year the Geneva faculty, and within the past year had, at great sacrifice, given $500 to the college. This he felt was a sufficient reply to the charge of littleness in refusing to pay the diploma fee of $12 exacted by the faculty. The faculty had made the demand in a "discourteous threatening, domineering way" first by letter and again through their treasurer in person on commencement week when he and his wife had gone to witness the graduation of their son and daughter. The manner of making the demand was such that he could not in self-respect accede to it. When he received the ugly note he looked on it as a game of bluff and concluded to let it pass, but to have the dose repeated in person, when he was on the ground to enjoy the educational feast and partake of the hospitalities of the true and tried friends, was a little too much, and so he refused to respond to a domineering, discourteous threat.

The doctor then proceeded to say that this Sweat-Groan-Growl.

LACK OF LIFE.

When the puise beats feebly: when the energy is gone; when the appetite is weak and sleep uncertain, then the body is in a condition of actual "low life." No matter what the causes may have been Nature has given way, and unless her strength is restored, disease is certain to take possession of the body. The first thing any doctor does in such a case is to assist Nature. Here are some instances:

Prof. Austin Flint, of Bellevue (New York) College, says: "The judicious use of alcoholic stimulants is one of the striking characteristics of progress in the practice of medicine during the last half century."

The celebrated Dr. J. M. Carnwall says: "I am most happy to say, after a very thorough test, that for persons suffering with nervous and general debility or any wasting disease, or for delicate persons or invalids, Duffy's Pure mait Whiskey is the best tonic and purest stimulant with which I am acquainted."

There are no higher scientific authorities than these, and they speak volumes. Beware of all bottled whiskies which may be offered you, except Duffy's. It has aloud the test of time and is absolutely pure. When the pulse beats feebly: when the ener-was but one of many similar instances of discourtesy; that while there were exceptions in the faculty of Geneva College as a body, they had repeatedly shown a want of tact and gentleness, a fatal defect in such as have the molding and shaping of youthful character.

He made no charge of anything immoral, but simply gross errors of judgment and a want of tact and refinement, which was working mischief to the institution.

The result of this, it was claimed, appears in the fact that the college is dwindling down to the condition of an academy, and has been shorn of the power it ought to wield, and would under right management. The defects of the institution would, in all probability, be brought before the synod at its approaching meeting, as petitions were already in circulation with that aim, and the doctor was ready then and there to give his testimony in full. In conclusion he expressed the hope that Geneva College would come up higher and do great work for Christ and the nation by sending forth ladies and gentlemen, who would be as polished stones fashioned after the similitude of a palace.

Curious Prices.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertising prices, without clear information of what for, is one of the plagues of the clothing business. There are more apostrophes and adjectives, often over a comparatively valueless quality at a cheap price, than would do for a proclamation of martial

Never hear a word from Wanamaker's about prices, do you?

We'll do anything we can to help you to a fair judgment about clothing, and get you coming to our store, but how advertising our prices will do that is, we confess, a mystery.

They tell you about qua ity no more than dashing chunk of cold iron into wat discovers its temper.

There's one common-sen: way of understanding prices and that's with the goods in hand, the quality stated, and an examination of the fit and workmanship.

We'll submit our goods, with perfect confidence, to that way of finding which is 2,000 yards Silk Warp Bengalines at 75c a yard: cheapest. Nobody can beat us on prices for reliable clothing,
