JAPAN'S EXHIBIT A REAL SURPRISE.

PARIS, June 9.—The educational exhibit in the Paris Exposition demonstrates clearly that a new era is firmly established in the thought of the world concerning the means, methods and objects of schooling.

As it has proceeded the standards have been subjected to a revolution, complete and without doubt permanent. The models of the academies of Greece, with their abstract, unpractical, and uninteresting methods, reflecting mankind until the invention of printing.

The industry of secluded students and the zeal of enthusiastic copyists preserved the models which contained the little area of education in the highest social place, toward the majority in the lowest social plane.

As it has proceeded the standards have been subjected to a revolution, complete and without doubt permanent. The models of the academies of Greece, with their abstract, unpractical, and uninteresting methods, reflecting mankind until the invention of printing.

The total effacement of the antiquated and exclusive privilege of higher education shown in every portion of the Exposition. Higher instruction there, preserving the monumental works of earlier genius in literature, but the new epoch, while cherishing the traditions of the past, is developing intelligence.

It is resolved that creation shall accompany reflection. It is not merely literary; it is industrial. It is not solely for the refinement of the minority; it is for the benefit of the entire people. Its most beneficent quality is its devotion to beauty and truth.

This may be the noblest idea of culture. It is doubtless more sublime to write a great poem than to discover a new principle in chemistry, to construct a perfect machine or to furnish textile manufacturers with more distinguished colors and richer designs.

The question of the time is not how to immortalize rare and precious talents, but to be happier, more reflecting and more virtuous for the great body of people, to whom the arts and trades are as indispensable in modern ages as the meditation of the ancients.

A GREAT EXHIBIT. In addition to a representation of the entire school system of Paris 70 of the 87 departments of the Republic have respective places in the educational building. The exhibit is under the management of the French educational exhibit presents this revolution in education with remarkable comprehensiveness.

What the Public Likes. Whitmyre & Co. are meeting with an amount of success that daily increases in their efforts to legitimately introduce and advertise the "Anchor Brand" of flour.

Kid Glove Bargains. 8-button glove mosquitoes, $1; real French kid 4-b, best quality, only 89c, worth $1.45, at Rosenbaum & Co's.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER. This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kind, and cannot be sold at a competition with the adulterated goods.

SCANTY EXHIBITS. The British and American exhibits are disappointments. The scantiness and relative inferiority are due to the obvious fact that English speaking nations have longest adhered to all but exclusive literary institution, which is a fossil reminiscence of rejected pedagogy.

A RARE EVENT.

A Typical Welsh Service, the Second in this Country, to be Given. Pittsburg is the second city in this country to enjoy the decided novelty of a typical Welsh service according to the ritual of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The service will be largely musical, and will consist of the usual canticles for evening prayer and hymns sung in the Welsh language, the Trinity Vested Choir being assisted by the choirs of the various Welsh churches in Pittsburg and vicinity.

The Government's exhibit of native ores is in the collection under charge of Mr. George Kunz. The American publishing trade has an imposing exhibit in the educational section and represents productions of Dappleton & Co., Barnes & Co., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Jones & McClure, Evison Blackman, Lippincott, Lockport, Frank, the Century Company and Johns Hopkins University.

A Word About Catarrh.

"It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease."

DO NOT STOP TO CONSIDER LOSSES NOW, But Pushing the Great Work On, Until Every Garment Will Be In the Hands of the Consumer.

This is the plan we have mapped out—the policy we will pursue in conducting the anti-backward season sale inaugurated by us last week. We waited patiently for old so to assert himself, but in vain. Where was gentle spring? Flowery May? Rosy June? It is a common remark now that never has there been so raw, cold, wet and disagreeable spring as the present. It's no matter of surprise, under these circumstances, that people didn't feel like buying thin, light summer garments. But these must be sold as well as the rest. Profits are out of the question, of course. The whole thing resolves itself in: What'll the loss be? But, as the head line of this "ad," reads, we have "no time to stop to consider losses now." Our united energies are now bent on selling our Men's and Boys' fine summer Suits. This done, it'll then be plenty time to figure up our losses.

Men's Fine Suits Men's Fine Pants $14, $3, Worth from $22 to $25. Worth from $4 50 to $5 50.

These Suits are cut in the latest shapes of Sack and Frock styles and made from such celebrated materials as English Wide and Narrow Wales, Genuine Scotch Cheviots, Celebrated West of England Cloths, Simons's famed Woolens, French bird-eye Worsteds, Bradford Cass
