

LOCAL LIVE STOCK.

Leading Features of Markets at the East Liberty Yards.

CATTLE SUPPLY ABOVE DEMANDS.

Light Run of Sheep and Lambs, but Sufficient for Needs.

HOGS HAVE A FALL AND RISE AGAIN

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, WEDNESDAY, June 12, 1889.

The run of cattle this week has been too strong for the wants of trade. Receipts on Monday were 75 carloads, and about five loads have come in since Monday. Of course a little more than one-half came from Chicago.

Cattle opened on Monday 5@10c lower than rates of last week, and closed strong at 10c lower. The only exception to this was good heavy stock, of which there were not more than two loads on the market. Heavy cattle have been down to below for several weeks now, and the chances are that they will be held in the market a long time.

Fairly steady prices have come to be a rare quantity in East Liberty yards for good and sufficient reasons. Our home trade no longer calls for cattle, and the few loads of stock which we saw in the market last week were advanced to 5@6c range, and trading was entirely of a local character. The feeding was comparatively slow.

Cattle were slow, the bulk of transactions were confined to local professionals, and priced 5@6c.
