FRUIT AND VEGETABLES ARE DOWN

Meats, Fish, Butter, Eggs and Poultry Steady at Old Rate.

A QUIET WEEK IN FLORISTS' GOODS

Office of Pittsburgh Dispatch, Friday, June 14, 1930.

Diamond-market dealers do not report a very active trade this week, but the reverse.

Of the new things that have appeared in the fruit and vegetable market for the first time this week are sweet cherries, raspberries and carrots.

Prices of fruit and vegetables are steadily drifting to a lower level.

Home-grown strawberries are in full supply, but will continue to go through another week.

After next Saturday the season will be practically over, but the season has not yet begun to show up, but in a wholesale way.

There has been some difficulty getting fish from Eastern markets, but the season has not yet begun to show up, but in a wholesale way.

Flourists report that their trade is little good, but they are still holding out for a better price.

Prices called for at the Diamond Market remain unchanged. The best cuts of tenderloin are ranging from 20c to 25c per pound.

Up the Wheat Market—All the Options Higher—Cores and Oats Feared to Rise

CHICAGO—A bullish feeling again existed in wheat and prices reached a higher range.

Trading was active in a speculative way, both outside and local accounts, with shorts covering, and a good investment buying also reported.

June was advanced 1/16, and closed 1/16 higher than yesterday. July opened a shade above last close, but was not active.

Higher than yesterday. August and September closed 1/16 higher, and December closed 1/16 higher.

The conditions influencing the market were the same as noted the past few days, of which unfavorable weather was the principal factor.

Rain was again reported where harvesting was in progress and where dry weather was needed.

But little interest was manifested in corn. Transactions were confined principally to the overseas market.

Prices were comparatively firm, due largely to the fact that the market was not active.

Rather more interest was manifested in the market for meat pork. Trading was chiefly in the foreign market.

Prices were generally steady, but there was a slight decline in the price of hams.

Little business was transacted in lard and the feeling was easy. Prices declined 1/16.

Shorts were fairly active. Prices declined 1/16, and the market closed quiet at about 1/16.

The leading futures ranged as follows: August, 104 1/2; September, 104 1/2; October, 104 1/2; November, 104 1/2; December, 104 1/2.

Flour. The market was quiet, but there was a slight decline in the price of flour.

A CHANCE FOR PITTSBURGH IRON KINGS

Paris and figures almost innumerable might be cited to show that real estate is on a better footing and in a more prosperous condition than at the same time last year.

The following from a member of one of the leading agencies on Fourth avenue is to the point. Said he: "Our June sales to date last year were $1,000,000 for the same time this year were $1,500,000."
