Pork Packers Find Nothing Bright in the Present Situation.

A BETTER TONE TO BREADSTUFFS.

Some Items of Interest on the Leather Manufacturing Art.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, TUESDAY, June 25, 1889.

Hog Products. A representative of one of our leading pork packing firms said to-day: "Pittsburg is one of the poorest markets of the country in our line. We could sell pickled hams in Chicago a full 1/2 higher than we can here, and I would be glad if our entire product was in the Western metroplis, Our expenses, taxes, etc., show no signs of decline, but rather the reverse, and at the same time we are getting less for our products than for a number of years. The truth is hogs have been too high all the past season to afford any margin to packers. While we have found it best to buy at Chicago, we can now do better to sell our products there. The market for our product is limited to a certain territory, while Chicago has the world for its field. A provision buyer naturally goes the Western metropolis for his goods, and he result is that prices are better maintained here than here or anywhere west of the sea-oard. Our firm has recently sold large quan-ties of stock at Chicago to better advantage han we could have done at home."

Tunners' Burk Must Go.

With all the improvements of late years in the tanning industry, there has been nothing covered to take the place of bark in turnishing a liquid for the vat, The tannic acid engendered by the dissolution of the oak and chestnut bark is still a prime necessity, as it chestnut bark is still a prime necessity, as it was ages ago. A recent talk with a representative of one of our leading firms, engaged in the manufacture of harness leather, elicited the following:

"As the time approaches when our native forests will be cleaned out, efforts are being made to supply the place of bark with extracts. Already there are factories at Staunton and Huntington, W. Va., and Olean, N. Y., where bark extracts are prepared for shipment to the various centers of this industry. The cost of reighten bark, which is a builty article, has come to be an important item in the cost of leather manufacturing in these days of close margins. Our tanners here do not as yet use mouth of the bark extract, as we are near enough the Virginia forests to justify us in paying freight on bark.

"But we all feel that the time is not far away when the bark extract will be generally used when the bark extract will be generally used instead of bark. In Europe and New England there is little bark used by tanuers. Ultimately we will have to come to this here. It is only a question of time. Already our tanners are using extract in small amounts, and the drift of the leather-making art is in the direction of the universal use of the extract in preference to the bark. There is, however, much yet to learn in the proper preparation of the extract, and its proper use when prepared. The large tanner has not yet learned how to gauge the extract, and put the proper amount in the vat, as he knows from long training the exact quantity of bark required to produce the right result. It will come, however, before long, when we will have to do as they do in old settled countries, and learn how to make leather with bark extracts." ng extract in small amounts, and the drift

An old-time drover who furnishes cattle at Herr's Island yard, said to-day: "Last week was the worst in our line this year, and, in fact, for several years. On the two carloads of cattle I had for sale I lost 80%. But this week there is an improvement. We did not have to pay as much for cattle in Chicago, and, while prices much for cattie in Chicago, and, while prices were a shade off from last week, there was a small margin of profit. Margins have been close all this year, and it required close watching and a good deal of fush to come out even. Prices of cattle have now fallen to a level in Chicago, which leaves a little profit to buyers here. If we had had to pay the same prices there this week as we have been doing for some time past we would have been losers on our operations."

Breadstuffs. The current number of the Minneapolis Miller finds some crumbs of comfort in the wheat and flour situation. It reports a sharp advance in winter wheat sections, owing to constant rainy weather, and in spring wheat sections for the opposite reason, namely a lack of moisture. Unfavorable reports of European weather, particularly in Russia, which took America's place last season in supplying West-ern Europe with breadstuffs, have also served to stimulate flour markets. The principal influence on which the advance The principal influence on which the advance was supposed to have been established was the abundance of bad crop news from European countries, as well as the United States. The crops of Russia and Hungary were reported to be very poor. Cables were firm. From the Northwest came conflicting reports; some advices report the wheat not heading out well and others say the lookout is good: Some reports of rust were heard of in some sections South and Southwest and also that the crop in many sections had been exaggerated. sections had been exaggerated.

Speculation had as much to do with the rise as the influences mentioned. The shortage no doubt is large and the short interest under the recent action of the market disposed to cover, fearing that the movement of new wheat might be delayed so as to give the longs a chance for manipulation.

be delayed so as to give the longs a chance for manipulation.

A very fair business was reported in corn, the bulk of which occurred during the first half of the session, after which the pit became rather quiet. The prevailing feeling was firm and trading, as for several days past, was confined mainly to July and September, there being considerable pressure to exchange the former for the latter at a difference of %c. The market opened at about the closing prices of yesterday, was firm and advanced %c higher than Monday's close.

In oats a firmer feeling was noticeable, especially on the more deferred futures, which were bought by the shorts. The bulk of the strength was due chiefly to the advance in corn and wheat and the backwardness of holders in selling.

MARKETS BY WIRE.

A General Movement Among Workingmen to Acquire Homes.

STOCK DEALERS LOOK FOR A RALLY

ON THE RIGHT TRACK

Confidence as Business Capital Illustrated by a Local Incident.

HOW GOLD IS COUNTED AND WEIGHED

A notable feature of the real estate market is the large number of workingmen who have purchased or are in quest of cheap lots. This fact being brought to the notice of a Fourth avenue agent yesterday, he remarked:

"This feature of the market is not new to me. I have been aware of it for some time. Fully one-half of my sales are to this class of people. In many cases they pay cash, and afterward arrange for houses on time. A workingman with a home of his own may be said to be well fixed. He is then, to a certain degree, his own master. I am glad to see this movement. With the working element thoroughly identified with the city, its future is safe.

conservative on economic questions. This effort of the bone and sinew of the community to acquire homes should be community to acquire homes acquired by the community to acquire homes should be community to acquire homes should be community to acquire home should be community ity to acquire homes should be encouraged to the utmost. To them banks and land owners should be as lenient as possible."

Confidence is the life of business. I was discussing this subject with a well-known gentle-man yesterday—one who has been honored by his fellow-citizens with several positions of trust in the municipal government—when a young man, who was neatly dressed and of pleasant appearance, crossed the street and en-tered a bank. "There is a case in point," remarked my friend. "His success in life is en-tirely due to the fact that myself and one or two others had confidence in him." "The story is no doubt interesting, and as it may point a moral, I would like to have it."

"It is short" responded the gentleman, "but full of encouragement for young men who are making an honest effort to establish themselves in business. I had known the family of which he is a member for some time, but had no particular knowledge of the young man. One day about five years ago he came to me and requested a private audience, during which he laid his blans before me. He had a strong de-sire, he said, to better his condition by engag-ing in mercantile pursuits, and begged my assistance to the extent of indorsing for him to the amount of $500. I gave him no decided answer, but requested him to call again in a few days. I was favorably impressed with his appearance, and frank, outspoken manner. I at once set to work to investigate his character and ascertain his business qualifications, both of which I found were good. I then broached the subject to a couple of my friends, told them the result of my investigations, and requested their co-operation in the matter. This they willingly assented to, and the indorsement was given.

"What was the result?" "The young man went into business and prospered. He canceled his obligation to us in less than a year. We offered to lend him our names whenever he needed money, but he de-clined with thanks, saying he could get along without it. He has a reputation for honesty second to that of no other man in the city. He does everything on the square. I was not mis-taken in my man. But for the confidence he inspired in me he might to-day be filling a clerkship or some other subordinate position at a low salary." This little story, which has the merit of being true, conveys a lesson to young men which they should carefully ponder. Integrity is cap-ital. A character for honesty once established, success, sooner or later, is sure to follow. The cierks at one of the leading banks were engaged for some time yesterday in the pre-sumably agreeable work of counting gold coin, os of which the cashler, who was looking on, remarked: "Generally we count our gold but for special purposes we weigh it. In counting we throw out all the pieces that are defaced by wear. Gold, as well as silver, we weigh twice a year, when the directors take stock. They fill a bag with $20 pieces, amounting in the aggregate to $5,000, and weigh it. All other bags containing a like amount must weigh the same, or the shortage must be made good. At the last count two bags fell $20 short. This was occasioned by the presence of a number of pieces that had been in circulation so long that the milling had alnost entirely disappeared.

"In foreign countries gold is invariably weighed and every imperfect piece rejected. A large proportion of the gold and silver coin in circulation in this country is so abraided by use that it would hardly be looked at on the continent. England is a little more liberal in this respect, but even there coins that are the least orn are regarded with disfavor." The firmness and activity displayed by stocks in New York afford encouragement to local speculators, one of whom remarked yesterday evening:

"The revival of the speculative interest in New York will, in my opinion, have a good effect upon our local securities. Although they have been neglected for some time, they are in good shape, and a few good-sized buying orders would give them a whirl. There is no good reason why they should be in the rut. They are as sound as a dollar, representing first-class in terests, which will improve in value as they are developed.

"At present prices I think most of them are good investments. Electric and the tractions will pay big dividends as soon as they get firmly

As showing the irresistible force of the im-mense volume of water that issued from the South Fork dam, a gentleman who witnessed the incident told me yesterday that it struck a rock almost as hig as a two-story house, that was partly embedded in the earth, and carried it a distance of nearly a quarter of mile, where it lodged against a large tree. It plowed a deep furrow, and demolished everything in its course. No wonder, therefore, that houses, course. No wonder, therefore, that houses bridges, trees and everything else gave way be fore this tremendous display of power.

Only a Small Movement in Stocks-Orders

Below the Market. The stock market yesterday showed no im-provement over that of the previous day. Only three of the favorites received attention in the forenoon, the sales of which were 156 shares. They were Electric, Switch and Signal and Central Traction. There were no sales in the afternoon, and figures were almost as scarce as business. There was neither news nor gossi; of importance, and prices were practically the same as have ruled for some time.

There were orders for Switch and Signal at 23, and for Electric at 40%. Philadelphia Gas was the strongest stock on the list, being held at 38 with 37% bid in the afternoon. Plife

AFTER THE STORM.

Quiet Returns to the Oil Exchange-Only

One Lay-Down. There was a calm at the Oil Exchange yesterday, presenting a strong contrast to the storm which swept over it the day before. But, while quiet by comparison, the market was both strong and active. The fluctuations were small and rapid, affording the scalpers a good opportunity to turn an honest penny. The sales were not far from 2,000,000, agaist 3,606,000 the previous day.

The market opened feverish at 91c, and in a short time sold up to 91½c, the highest point of the day. It then weakened and sold down to 89%c, around which figure it hung for some 89%c, around which figure it hung for some time, with fluctuations of only a few points either way. In the afternoon it made a dash for the dollar line, but stopped at 91%c, vascillated between that point and 89%c for a few minutes, and closed firm at 91%c.

* Monday's panic fortunately resulted in only one lay-down, and that was for less than $4,000. It was not the fault of the broker, but of some of his customers, who failed to come up with their margins. It is the general belief that he will make a prompt settlement and resume his place on the floor. Trading in futures will begin to-morrow.

Degin to-morrow.

The cause of the flurry was generally attributed to the change in the system of trading, but that was denied yesterday. A broker ex-plained it thus: "It was more of an accident but that was denied yesterday. A broker explained it thus: "It was more of an accident than anything else, and might have happened any time within a month. When oil reached 80c and none was offered the shorts lost their heads. They had to have the stuff and were willing to pay almost any price for it. A good many of the brokers were at dinner about the time the fun set in, and the few traders around the ring were either unable or unwilling to supply the demand. Indeed, they had no time to do much of anything, so quickly did it all happen. In my opinion there was no reason at all for the panic."

The report from New York that the producers had closed out the $500,000 reserve to the Standard was not generally credited on change yesterday. There was no confirmation of the deal here, and nothing was known about it at Oil City. A proker said: "As the option does not expire until July 1, I do not see why the producers should be in such a hurry. By holding on to it a week longer, as they are entitled to do, they might get more than 90c, the guaranteed price for it. I do not believe the report."

New York, June 25.—Petroleum was comparatively quiet to-day, and there was no trace of the excitement that marked yesterday's trading. The opening was strong at 91c, after moving up to 91% the market yielded under realizing sales and declined to 89%, reacting later and closing steady at 90c. Total sales, 1,555,000 barrels.

Continues an Exciting Feature of the Stock Market-Railreads Coming to the Front-A Flurry About Money -Only Fractional Changes.

New York, June 25.—The stock market to day was firmer and more active for railroad shares and the trusts were weak and feverish, shares and the trusts were weak and feverish, occupying a less prominent position in the transactions, although they were still extremely active. The sales of lead again crossed the 100,000 mark. There was no news of importance to affect any portion of the market, though the rumor of the absorption of the Atlantic Works by the Lead Trust was again used lantic Works by the Lead Trust was again used. to advance the stock. Its fluctuations, however, were on a much smaller scale than yesterday, and after the first few minutes' trading its tone was drooping and rather weak.

Sugar, on the other hand, was weak from the outset, and toward the close dropped to about Saturday's figures. In the general list the speculative activity was all in New England, but while the stock was strong throughout most of the day, there was but a fraction left of the improvement at the close. A small flurry in money toward the close which sent the rate on call up to 8 per cent, had much to do with the reaction at that time, and all the strong stocks of the foremon yielded materially.

Pacific Mail became quite conspicuous at the opening of business by its weakness, caused by the report of the loss of one of the company's steamers, but when the market began to move it recovered almost all of the loss from the opening figure, though having opened down it shows a marked decline at the end of the day.
The Hocking Valley securities showed more animation, and the stock became one of the leading strong stocks, though the dealings in it were on a small scale, as usual. There were further reports of rate cutting in the West, but it seemed to have little or no effect upon the Grangers, which were comparatively quiet, while the Coal stocks, especially Lackawanna and Reading, were active, and displayed con-sidarable strength, being better supported than usual of late. The stocks of the Chicago and East Illinois were again prominent for the strength shown, but their final gains were small.

The opening was rather heavy and the first prices were generally from ½ to ½ per cent lower than last evening's figurea, though a good sign was the comparative strength shown by the shares of the regular list and the decrease in the animation among trusts. The transactions in lead were again on a large scale, however, and the fluctuations in sugar were very wide and the gain of yesterday was lost as quickly as it had been made. In the general list the strength shown in Lacksawanus, New England and some others spread to the rest of the market, though Pacific Mail was specially weak. The excitement in the trusts rapidly died away and the fluctuations after the first hour were made within a comparatively narrow range.

The stocks of the regular list continued strong and prices slowly crept up, though there was little animation outside of the few leaders, until toward delivery hour, when the realizations began and the market moved off slowly. The close was quiet and fairly steady, generally at small fractions better than the opening prices. Sugar displayed the most extreme weakness in the last few minutes. There were sales of 161,558 anares of unlisted stocks, of which Lead Trust furnished 110,275, augar, 25,044, and Cotton Oil, 11,387. The final changes are generally for fractions, but Pacific Mail is down 13/2.

There was the usual lack of feature in the railroad bond market, but the tone of the dealings was again strong, and except the Ohio, Indiana and Western firsts, which dropped 10 per cent to 62, and the Kansas and Texas Issues, there was no weakness anywhere apparent. The sales reached $1,553,000, to which the Chesapeak and Ohio 5s contributed $188,000. Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio firsts rose 3 to 110, and Toledo, Ann Arbor and Grand Trunk firsts 2 to 118.

LATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

-B. W. Bashford, D. D., of the Delaware Avenue M. E. Church, of Buffalo, has been elected President of the Wesleyan University at Delaware, O., and will be inaugurated tomorrow. It is one of the leading seats of learning in the West, and has alumni in Pittsburg, among whom are Principal C. B. Wood, of the High School, and Prof. Merrick.

The President has made the following appointments: Henry H. Lawrence, to be Assayer of the Mint of the United States at San Francisco; Michael E. Smith, to be Assayer in charge of the Mint of the United States at Denver, Col.; James E. Fitch, of the District of Columbia, to be a Trustee of the Reform School of the District of Columbia.

The Swiss cantonal authorities have begun the establishment of a unique contrivance to connect the summit of Mount Pilatus with the highest point of the Kimsenhorn. This will consist of cables swinging in mid-air between these two lofty eminences, and at many points hundreds of feet from the ground below. An omnibus large enough to carry eight people will be propelled over pulleys along these cables by a steam engine to be placed on the top of Mount Pilatus, near the Bellevue Hotel.

—One hundred and fifty nounds of quartz, carrying gold at the rate of $60,000 a ton, were brought in from the Michigan gold mine, near Ishpeming, the other day. A new shaft was started last Thursday, and at a depth of four feet a pocket of quartz-carrying gold was struck. The vein at the point where the find was made is three feet wide—double the width of the vein at points previously worked. The discovery has caused much excitement and is regarded as the most important yet made in the Ishpeming gold range.

—Secretary of the Interior Noble says of the Cabinet: "That is all nonsense. Mr. Blaine will not leave the Cabinet. Blaine is going to leave the Cabinet: "That is all nonsense. Mr. Blaine will not leave the Cabinet, and there is no foundation for the story that the President's treatment of him is not cordial and friendly. They go arm in arm in the Cabinet chamber." In relation to Corporal Tanner and the Pension Bureau, Secretary Noble said: "That is not going out of it. There is nothing in those stories. Tanner suits Tanner, suits the President and suits the Secretary of the Interior."

—News has been received from Arlee, the principal town on the Flathead reservation, in dent and suits the Secretary of the Interior."

—News has been received from Arlee, the principal town on the Flathead reservation, in Montana, that Sheriff Heybarn and the posse of Missoula county, who went to the reservation to arrest three Indian murderers, are having a battle with the Indians, who refuse to give up the men wanted. Two Indians are reported to have been killed already. Agent Ronan has called on the officer at Fort Missoula for troops, but that official is waiting orders from Washington. In the meantime a posse of well-known citizens from Missoula, headed by the Mayor, has been organized and is on its way to aid the Sheriff. The civil officers are determined to arrest the murderers, and, as the Indians are determined not to give them up, serious trouble is feared.

—Fifty persons have been poisoned at Westindians are determined not to give them up, serious trouble is feared.

—Fifty persons have been poisoned at Westson, Canada. A druggist had sold sugar of lead instead of tartaric acid for making lemonade. Fifteen are reported to be dying. The others are considered out of danger. The druggist has disappeared to evade arrest. The following is a list of those supposed to be fatally poisoned: Manie Shaw, aged 20; Sadie Harinat, aged 22; Alice Flyun, 16; Minnie Flynn, 19; Mrs. McNaughton, 45; Mrs. Macalpin, 23 (only married a week); Mrs. Sarah Smith, 38, and her two daughters, Sarah II, and Minnie 8; Edward Nolan, 19; James Shaw, 22; John McKetcher, 24; Ed Lewis, 17; John D. Hortel. A crowd has started after Alexander with the openly avowed intention of capturing and lynching him.

—The proliminary surveys of a railroad to him.

The preliminary surveys of a railroad to run from Jaffa, on the seacoast in Palestine, to Jerusalem, and thence to Bethlehem, have just been completed, and a party of engineers will start from London this week for the Holy Land to lay out the route. A company has already been formed to build the road, in which a number of French and English bankers are interested. From all accounts it is a purely business enterprise, without a trace of sentiment or religious fervor. The travel in the Holy Land of late years has been increasing steadily, and it is believed if first-class railway accommodations were furnished the number of tourists who annually visit Jerusalem from all parts of the earth would soon be trebled.

PHILADELPHIA-Market firm at unchanged St. Louis-Receipts, 292,463 pounds; market New York—Wool firm and in fair demand; domestic fleeces, 32@38c; pulled, 23@39c; Texas, 14@28c.

Texas, 14@28c.

BOSTON—The market grows stronger on domestic wools, as reports from the West of high prices are received. A slight advance in the prices of light-weight woolens, which have been opened, also gives the holders of wools here more encouragement that the market will be sustained. Fine washed is still dull, owing to light receipts and stocks, but the position is firm. New spring Texas wools are selling freely at 20@28c, and California at 18@28c, as to quality. In territory wool there have been some sales at 18@25c for fine and medium Utah and Wyoming. Kentucky, Georgia and Southern wools generally remain firm. In pulled wool a good business is doing at 30@38c for super and 25@30c for extra. Australian wools are in demand and firm. Carpet wools steady.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. STARTLING EVIDENCE THE CURE OF SKIN DISEASES WHEN

orissis 5 Years, Covering Face, Head, and Entire Body With White Scabs. Skin Red, Itchy, and Bleeding. Hair All Gone. Spent Hundreds of Dollars. Pranounced Incura-ble. Cured by Cuticurs Remedies. Hundreds of Dollars. Pronounced lecurable. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight albogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely baidheaded; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head, and shoulders being the worst. The white scabs fell constantly from my head, shoulders, and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles, I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT and one box of CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after were deep scar, but the CUTICURA REMEDIES are used it without any scars. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES. They saved my life and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. I know of a number of different persons who have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and all have received great benefit from their use.

Cute every species of agonizing, humiliating.
