A NEW PARK BATTLE

An Exposition Land Squatter Refused to Vacate Till Forced.

HE DEFIES BOTH LAW AND POLICE.

The Exposition to Have Glass and Nail Factories Operating.

ARTESIAN WELLS AND OTHER PROJECTS

There was a bloodless war-one of words on the grounds of the Exposition Society yesterday morning. It was fought by Engineer A. M. Gow, who has charge of the Exposition buildings, and a Mr. Bardsley, a "squatter." Yesterday morning Mr. Gow directed a half dozen workmen to tear down the fence that stood between the lower end of the building and the Point. The men proceeded to do as ordered, when they were stopped by Bardsley, who claimed they were trespassing on his property. "His" property consists of about one acre of ground, which belongs to the Exposition Society, at the lower end of the Exposition, on which he has erected several sheds and a large stable. He has displayed in front of his office on Duquesne way a sign advertising "stabling to let." For two years he has occupied this ground, free of rent. After the men were ordered to stop the tearing down of the fence, Mr. Gow was sent for. He was informed by Bardsley that the men must cease the work of destruction or he (Bardsley) would have all of the men arrested.

IN SPITE OF THE LAW. He was informed by Mr. Gow to have him (Gow) arrested, thus allowing the men to con-tinue the work. He was further informed to bring an officer, and he would go to work him self "in the presence of the law," and knock the fence down. Nothing further was done,

Mr. Gow stated that he will warn Bardsley to tear down the sheds and stables at once, and if the order is not compiled with, they will do so themselves and also sue him for trespass. In the meantime the work of demolishing the fence goes on. This work is being done for the purpose of clearing the ground for a park.

Mr. S. S. Marvin, President of the Exposition Mr. S. S. Marvin, President of the Exposition Society, stated to the reporter that the building would be positively opened to the public on September 4. He further stated that they will have also about 500 exhibitors, whose displays will be the finest ever exhibited in any Exposition building, with the exception of the Paris show. Space has been sold for that number already. An artesian well is being drilled in Machinery Hall, the water of which will be forced out by pumps. This water will be for drinking purposes.

MINIATURE FACTORIES AT WORK. There will also be hydrants with hose attached all through the building. 20 feet apart, to be used in case of fire. A glass factory will be operated in the building, as will also a nail factory. Silk thread will be woven there and a great many other industries will be represented by actual manufacture of their wares. About 250 men are now working for the contractors, a great many of these on clearing up the grounds surrounding the building. The banks are being filled in and the fence to surround the building will be started to-day. The work of calcimining the walls will also be commenced in a few days. The stone wall along the river will not be built until next year. A part of the frame of Machinery Hall is now up, and it will be finished in about one month.

Mr. Gow stated that the contractors say there will not be any work to be done after the Exposition is formally opened, but everything will be completed before September 4. to be used in case of fire. A glass factory will

HE WAS SCALDED TO DEATH.

George Byers in a Mill. George Byers in a Mill.

George Byers, aged 17 years, of No. 7 Ann street, was scalded to death yesterday while in a closet at Bradley's woolen mills in Allegheny. The steam from the boiler had been turned into the pipes for the purpose of cleaning them, and went directly into the closet. The engineer claims he looked in directly before turning on the steam. The Coroner will investigate.
