THE TAX DEFECTIVE.

THE HARTMAN STEEL CO.'S APPEAL

Proves Largely Successful, and an Injunction Issues.

OTHER NEWS FROM THE LEGAL FIELD

The business tax contest between the Hartman Steel Company and the city was decided by Judge Slagle yesterday. The suit was a test case, and it affected the matter of levying a business tax on the large coal and coke firms and other business concerns having a branch office in the city and their works elsewhere. The suit was to restrain the city of Pittsburg and W. R. Ford, Delinquent Tax Collector, from collecting the business tax levied on the Hartman Steel Company. The company has its works and main office at Beaver Falls and a branch office here. It was taxed on the business transacted on the grounds that the contracts were made here; therefore that the business was transacted here. Three modes of fulfilling these contracts were referred to in the bill. On two questions the Hartman Steel Company win their point, and on the other the City Assessors are sustained. The case is fully given in the opinion handed down by Judge Slagle:

It is alleged in the bill that the company is organized under the act of 1874, having its manufactory and principal office at Beaver Falls, but having at Pittsburg a branch office, at which some of its business is transacted, but have no warehouse or place for storage of goods in said city, and that transactions as to the sale of goods were made at Pittsburg as follows:

First—Goods manufactured at Beaver Falls, sold to customers living in Pittsburg and delivered to them on board cars at Beaver Falls, consigned to them at Pittsburg.

THE CLASS THAT GOES.

Second—Goods manufactured at Beaver Falls, sold to customers living in Pittsburg and delivered to them at the railroad depot in Pittsburg, contracts being made outside the city.

Third—Goods sold to customers living outside of the city of Pittsburg, and delivered to them at Beaver Falls. In the first and third cases the contracts were made in the city of Pittsburg and in all cases on credit, and three-fourths of the purchase money paid in Pittsburg and the remainder collected by drafts, credited to the accounts of the Pittsburg office. Upon all these transactions the city levied a tax and threatens to collect the same. The plaintiffs allege that the city has no legal authority to levy and collect said taxes, and asks that it be restrained. All the facts are admitted by the answer, the only denial of the allegations of the bill being as to the power of the city to levy and collect the tax, and as to the irreparable injury.

The only authority to which we are referred is contained in the act of March 7, 1846, Sec. 2, which provides that the Councils of the city of Pittsburg shall be and are hereby authorized to levy and assess upon all articles of trade and commerce sold in the said city, including sales at auction or otherwise, an annual tax not exceeding 5 mills on the dollar.

There is no question as to the power of the Legislature to authorize such taxation, and the solution of the questions involved, therefore, depends upon the proper construction of the act and its application to the property taxed.

The third class raises the questions involved clearly and distinctly: "The goods mentioned were never within the city of Pittsburg, and though the contracts for sale were made there, they were executed outside its limits by delivery to persons who were not residents." It is contended by plaintiffs that, in order to subject goods to taxation, the goods themselves must not only be within the city, but the sale must be perfected there; while the defendants claim that it is sufficient that the sale be made within the city, and that it is only necessary that the contract be made sufficient to pass title between parties. It will be observed that the act does not impose a tax upon sales, but upon goods, wares, etc. It is not imposed upon all goods, but only upon those sold.

The natural construction of the act named, therefore, requires that the goods should be within the jurisdiction of the city and sold there. It may well be doubted whether the Legislature would have the power to authorize a municipal corporation to impose a tax upon personal property of a tangible character not within its limits. If it had intended to authorize a tax upon sales, irrespective of the location of the property, appropriate language could have been employed to clearly express such intention. In the absence of such language, it is not to be presumed that the Legislature intended to exercise such doubtful power. But, even if the language more clearly indicated a tax upon sales, it still would be regarded as a tax upon the property itself.

IMPOSSIBLE TO TAX IT.

It has frequently been held that a tax upon sales or license to sell is in effect a tax upon the articles sold. [Reference, Walton vs Missouri, 12 wheat 446; Abney vs California, 24 Howe, 169; Cook vs Pennsylvania, 97, United States, 566.] It seems clear, therefore, that property which has never been within the city limits is not taxable under the act of March 7, 1846, merely because the contract of sale was made there. This is in accord with the decision of this court in Pittsburg vs Midway, 377, December T., 1888, upon substantially similar state of facts.

In the first class the goods were brought within the city, and the contract of sale was made there, but the sale was perfected by delivery at Beaver Falls. As before stated, in order to subject the property to tax under the act of 1846, the property must not only be within the city, but the sale must be had there.

It is true, as argued by defendants' counsel, that a sale may transfer the title to property as between the parties, without actual delivery. As between vendor and vendee, it is specification and not delivery that is necessary to the vesting of title (Winslow, Lanier & Co. vs Leonard, 20 P. St. 37). But in this case, the delivery being made outside the city, the specifications were necessarily there also. In Shain vs Pittsburg, 66 pa., 65, the Court held that this act clearly covers goods in the warehouse of the defendants sold by them, though the orders were taken and contracts made by agents outside the city.

In Savbracht vs Comm., 96 page, statute 449, the court says the place of sale is the point at which goods ordered are set apart and delivered to the purchaser or to the common carrier, who for the purpose of delivery represent him. Delivery, either actual or constructive, is an essential ingredient in a sale of personal property. Same case: Until this took place, he had only a right of action to recover for a breach of contract. (Rochester Oleo and Oil Company vs Hughey, 96 page, statute 321.) It is clear, therefore, that the sales in these cases must be held to have been made in Beaver county, and that title had passed out of plaintiffs' before they were brought into the city of Pittsburg, and they are not taxable as plaintiffs' property sold there.

The same reasoning, applied to the second class of sales, as clearly shows that they are not proper subjects of taxation by the city of Pittsburg. The contracts of sale were made in Beaver county, but they were executed by delivery in the city. They remain the property of plaintiffs until delivered at the point of the term of the act—"goods sold" there. A decree will be issued restraining the collection of taxes upon the first and third classes.

THE PUPS AND A TRAGEDY.

Testimony About a Litter the Davises Quarreled Over Before Alfred J. Was Shot—His Wife on Trial for the Homicide.

Caroline Davis, or Palmer (colored), was placed on trial in the Criminal Court before Judge Collier yesterday, charged with the murder of Alfred J. Davis (colored), with whom she lived as his wife, on January 8. The prosecution claim the defendant deliberately shot and killed Davis. The attorneys for the defense, Messrs. William Reardon, Thomas M. Marshall and Thomas M. Marshall, Jr., say that they are able to show that Davis shot himself and that the accused had nothing to do with it.

The first witness placed on the stand was a little colored girl named Meely White. Davis and Cabie W. Nichols ran a restaurant at No. 60 Frankstown avenue, in partnership. Meely White was employed by them. She said that Davis had a litter of pups which he kept in the room in which himself, Mrs. Davis and Meely White slept. Mrs. Davis objected to the pups being there, but Davis would not have them taken out of the room. On New Year's eve, Mrs. Davis threw five of the pups out of the window into the alley, and drowned the rest. When Mr. Davis came home the witness heard them fighting. She heard Davis say to Mrs. Davis that he would break her neck. About a week before the shooting, witness saw Mrs. Davis with a pistol. It was lying on the window sill in the room. She thought Mrs. Davis said something about it's being rusty. Witness did not see where the revolver was put, and never saw it afterward.

Mrs. Davis had been in bed 10 or 15 minutes on the night of the shooting, before Davis came home. When the shot that killed Davis was fired, witness jumped out of a window from the bedroom into the restaurant, and did not go upstairs afterward. Mrs. Davis went up when the officer came.

When Davis came in he asked, "Meely, are you asleep?" Witness thinks Mrs. Davis was asleep at that time. Davis sat down and began to read a book, and witness fell asleep. She was awakened by hearing a pistol shot, and sprang up in the bed. She heard no scream and saw no smoke. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Davis spoke to her. When witness looked around, Mrs. Davis was by the side of the bed. She picked up the end of her nightgown and ran out of the room. Davis jumped up off the floor and met her at the door after her. He could not speak, because his mouth was full of blood. When he got to the door he fell down the first flight of steps.

Cabie W. Nichols, partner of the deceased, told about having warned the woman when he saw her with a revolver, shortly before the homicide, that "It was nothing to fool with," and Reuben Austin, an employe of the restaurant, also described what sounds they had heard on the night of the homicide. The case continues this morning.

FIXED FOR TO-MORROW.

Certain License Rehearings Already Ordered—Others Set Down for Friday—The Court's Decree.

Clerk of Courts McGunnegle yesterday received from the Prothonotary of the Supreme Court the record in the case of the wholesale dealers' appeal, and the opinion of the Supreme Court reversing Judge White. Upon the opening of court in the morning a number of attorneys applied to Judge Stowe to grant rehearings in all cases where license had been refused to wholesale dealers and bottlers. Reference was made to the clause in Judge White's opinion that the decision in the case of T. D. Casey & Co. would apply to other cases of a similar character, to save the expense of taking an appeal in each case. After hearing the lawyers, Judge Stowe made the following order:

It appearing from the record in the matter of the application of T. D. Casey for wholesale license that the Court of Quarter Sessions at March term, 1889, No. 1223, entered an order that if, on appeal to the Supreme Court in one case, the action of this court shall be reversed, the decision of the Supreme Court will be applied to all refused cases of a similar character, this order is made to save trouble and expense of taking an appeal in each case; and it now appearing that, in the case referred to in said order, the Supreme Court have entered a judgment of a reversal and procedenda, it is ordered that rehearings be granted in all the cases referred to in said order, to-wit: Applications for the sale of liquor by wholesale, and that the time for the hearing thereof be fixed for 9:30 o'clock on Friday morning, July 5, next; and all cases in which appeals were taken and reversal had, will be heard at 9:30 o'clock A. M. of Wednesday next;

LATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

—Congressman Sunset Cox, who arrived at St. Paul Saturday on his way to Huron, Dak., to deliver a Fourth of July oration, is sick abed at the hotel with a stomach trouble. Mr. Cox thinks his illness is not serious, though he will probably be prevented from going to Huron.

—The Anchor Line steamer Victoria, Captain Jamieson, which left New York June 19 for Avonmouth, passed Brow Head yesterday morning. Some fears as to the safety of the Victoria have been felt, as some bills of lading belonging to her were lately found on the shore of Nantucket Island.

—The Brooklyn police have satisfied themselves that Patrick Cooney, the Cronin suspect, is not hiding in Brooklyn. They have given the city a very thorough search, and have found his sister. She professes to know nothing of his whereabouts, and says he has not visited her for some time.

—Papers were served yesterday upon Jacob Baiz, Consul General of Guatemala in New York City, in an action brought against him for alleged libel of J. H. Hollander, the editor and proprietor of the Guatemalan Star, through the publication of the decree of the Guatemalan Government expelling him from its territory. Damages are laid at $50,000.

—Tony Arkena, together with his wife and five children, were poisoned yesterday at Chicago by something eaten at their noon meal. They had for dinner boiled rice, beef, potatoes and coffee. Soon after eating all were taken violently ill with cramps and furious pains. Two doctors were called in and antidotes applied. All are pronounced out of danger except two of the younger children. It is thought the poisoning was from the rice, which was purchased from a street peddler.

—A large cave near the Hermosa mining camp, 60 miles from Las Cruces, N. Mex., has been opened up, and its interior is lined with veins of almost pure silver. It had for years escaped the keen eyes of old prospectors, because there was nothing about the cave to indicate mineral. It is now thought the cave will exceed in richness the famous Bridal Chamber Cave at Snake Valley, N. Mex., from which over $500,000 in silver was taken.

—Captain Arthur McArthur, Jr., of the Thirteenth Infantry, has been appointed Assistant Adjutant General, with the rank of Major, to succeed to the vacancy caused by the appointment of General Kelton to be Adjutant General. The new Major is a son of Judge McArthur, of Washington, and was born in Massachusetts, June 2, 1845. He entered the volunteer service as First Lieutenant Twenty-fourth Wisconsin Infantry in 1862, was rapidly promoted, and mustered out as Lieutenant Colonel in 1865. He was breveted several times for gallant and meritorious services, and entered the regular army as a Lieutenant in 1866.

—The steamer Rio de Janeiro has arrived from Hong Kong and Yokohoma. One of the most destructive rain storms in the history of Hong Kong occurred May 29 and 30. The total rainfall for 36 hours was 20¼ inches, at one time the fall measuring nearly three inches per hour. Scarcely a house within an area of 32 square miles but what suffered. Almost every minute during the storm the vivid flashes of lightning lit up streets, which were seen more to resemble the bed of a river than the roads in the center of the town. The water pipes burst as never before. Eight men were killed by the lightning in a mat shed. One Chinaman was killed by the falling in of a mat shed. Fifteen lives in all were lost.

MISS S. LINDENFELSER,

Residing at 3460 Penn avenue, has also been a great sufferer from catarrh. The tenacious secretion that formed in her nose, and which she was unable to discharge, ulcerated into the bones until the walls of her nose fell in, giving it a flattened appearance. In vain she tried to find some doctor that could cure her of catarrh before this ulceration took place, and thus save her from the disfigurement of her nose that he will now have to carry all her days. Her sense of smell also became entirely destroyed. She had much headache, ringing sounds in her ears and dizziness. As some of the mucus that dropped down from her head lodged in the bronchial tubes of her lungs her breath became very short. After becoming cured of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute, at 328 Penn avenue, she says:

"I wish to tell the people that although I have treated with several physicians for catarrh I never found any relief until I commenced treatment with the physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute, and am glad to say happy to state that after using their treatment I am entirely cured.

A Remarkable Experience.

MR. H. ROBERTSON SAVED FROM AN UNTIMELY DEATH.

Mr. H. Robertson, a native of Scotland, but who has been a resident of this country for several years, has been a victim of kidney disease with the following symptoms: He had a heavy dragging pain across the small of his back, extending from one side to the other, and a bloated, dropsical condition of the bowels, high colored urine, and he noticed that sometimes it contained a reddish, brick-colored sediment, and at other times the sediment was of a lighter color. He noticed that he felt very tired in the morning, and as he gradually grew weaker, his stomach became affected. His appetite became poor, and he was constantly annoyed with sour eructations of gas from his stomach after eating, and on account of the kidneys not performing their function properly, his blood became charged with rheumatic poison, so that he had much pain about his shoulders and different parts of his body. As he became more emaciated he began to cough, and he felt much tightness and weight across his lungs. In speaking of the matter one day, he said:

"I doctored with the best doctors I could hear of, but was fast getting worse. I became melancholy and thought I could not live. Finally I began treatment with the physicians of the Polypathic Medical Institute, who are specialists for chronic diseases, and although confined to the bed when I commenced their treatment, my improvement was very rapid, and I have been entirely cured by these physicians, and I gladly sign my name. DOES THE LAW PROTECT?

A number of our patients who have been swindled by traveling doctors, ask why don't the law protect us? We answer: Every doctor will cheerfully show you a receipt, given by the Prothonotary bearing the seal of the Court and the date he registered his diploma. Self-called doctors cannot show such a receipt, and traveling doctors may have one of late date. You can also examine Physicians' Register in Prothonotary's office. Ladies don't employ a Mrs. doctor who is not registered if you value health.

We are encouraged by so many of our new patients manifesting their appreciation of our honest effort to protect those who are being misled by a display of false colors. We are an association of regular registered resident physicians of long experience and thorough education, and by combining our skill we offer the sick and the deformed an amount of talent worthy of their patronage. A few specialty, catarrh, dyspepsia, diseases of women, tumors, deformities and other chronic diseases, medical or surgical. Consultations free; physical examinations $1 to $5.
