

LAST DAYS IN CAMP.

The Eighteenth and Tenth Regiments Are Ready to Come Home.

THEIR ANNUAL OUTING IS OVER.

And Many of Them Are Not a Whit Sorry It is Through With, Either.

THE LAST DAY IN CAMP A QUIET ONE.

A Battalion Drill and Some Rifle Shooting Among the Last Features.

Yesterday was an uneventful one in the N. G. P. camp near Uniontown. The soldiers all come home to-day.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. CAMPS O. H. RIFFEY AND J. B. HOWELL, NEAR UNIONTOWN, July 26.

Soon the sound of bugle and trumpet will cease to echo and re-echo through the valleys and the mountains, calling sleepy soldier boys from their slumbers. The music joyfully just beginning to realize what a pleasant place they have struck, and would like to stay the 14 days allowed by law. A few are homesick, though, and others are beginning to feel the pressure of business. About 30 in all broke camp to-day and left for their respective homes. Captain A. J. Logan, of the Eighteenth Regiment, was about the only officer of the party.

To-day will certainly go on record as the quietest day of the encampment. Visitors were very scarce, with the exception of a small crowd at dress parade of the Eighteenth, the last drill of the encampment.

LAST BATTALION DRILL. The Tenth had battalion drill in the afternoon, as their final work of the encampment. All the morning was devoted to rifle practice in the Tenth. Lieutenant Critchfield, Inspector of Rifle Practice, selected ten of the best marksmen from each company, and each of the companies did good shooting except Company C, of Uniontown, the wind getting so high as to make accuracy impossible. The Eighteenth had no rifle practice during the encampment. In the Tenth shoot, Company B, of New Brighton, made the highest average grade, with Company E, of Mt. Pleasant, a close second. Lieutenant Critchfield expects to select his regimental team from those selected to-day to compete in the shooting at Mt. Gretna next year.

Several elections were held in the Tenth last night and to-day. Company C elected Lieutenant Augendobler First Lieutenant, and First Sergeant Gustav Schauf Second Lieutenant. Company D elected Robert Quartermaster Sergeant Thomas Donohue, Jr., First Lieutenant. In Company E, Private James Harkins was elected Second Lieutenant. Company B elects a first lieutenant to-night.

THE PHOTOGRAPH FEATURE. A feature of to-day's work among officers and privates was that of examining the almost hundreds of photographs taken during the encampment. Nearly everybody of importance has been photographed except, of course, the huge mass of privates. Major Kay, everybody in camp had their quarters preserved on a dry plate and often as many times as the group in front of the tent changed.

The guardhouses of each regiment contained a very small aggregate of prisoners last night. The same guard that is on to-day remains all night. The Eighteenth Regiment Band furnished considerable amusement by mock serenading. They got themselves up as a German street band, and did their best to wring out harmonious sounds. The Clifton House, Uniontown, was the scene of a gay assembly last night. The officers of the Eighteenth gave an assembly for some of their Uniontown friends, and it is safe to say it was

THE BRIGHTEST GATHERING of ladies and gentlemen ever seen in Uniontown. The whole upper floor, parlors and dining room was thrown open for their reception and beautifully decorated. A guard of enlisted men from the Eighteenth Regiment stood at the doorways, giving the affair a military appearance. The gentlemen from Uniontown, without exception, were in full evening dress, and the officers of the regiment in full uniform. The ladies were all in elegant evening dress. Mrs. Chambers McKibben and Colonel Smith and Mrs. Spear were the guests of honor in the ladies' parlor. The following officers of the Eighteenth Regiment were present: Col. Smith, Colonel Rutledge, Colonel McKibben, Adjutant Koch, Lieutenant A. L. Pearson, Lieutenant Charles Brown, Lieutenant H. F. Davis, Captain W. H. Davis, Captain A. J. Logan, Captain J. P. Penny, Captain William Aul, Lieutenant Horace Lovett, Dr. C. W. English, Dr. W. English, Dr. Oscar Brumbaugh, Major J. C. Kay. The music was given by ten pieces of the Eighteenth Regiment Orchestra, and was said to be the best ever heard at a Uniontown assembly.

AN ELEGANT SUPPER was served at 12 o'clock. The affair broke up at 2:30 A. M., when the officers took carriages to camp. The Eighteenth Regiment gave the farewell dress parade this evening and had out all their Uniontown friends. The band gave its last concert to-night. The Tenth will break camp first in the morning, and will probably be on their way home by 10 A. M. The Eighteenth will leave a little later in the day and will arrive in the city in time to give a parade along Liberty and Fifth avenues.

CHICAGO'S GREEN FIELDS. Held Sacred From the Browning of Herds.

CHICAGO, July 26.—Morris Ryan, Daniel Beckham, Edward Billstein and Daniel Ryan were until a month ago wealthy dairy farmers, whose fat milk cows pastured on the extensive prairie lands of Jefferson. They are still dairy farmers, but their pastures and their cows have been annexed to the city of Chicago and have come under the provisions of its municipal code, one section of which ordains that no one shall keep a herd of more than three cows within the city limits. The farmers failed to appreciate the majesty of the municipal code and each one continues pasturing his 40 or 50 cows on valuable Chicago building lots. City Prosecutor May got after them for their violation of the ordinance and they were fined this morning by a magistrate.

"THE QUEEN OF TABLE WATERS." People cannot hearken too earnestly to the WARNINGS already sounded by medical men against the indiscriminate use of the ALLEGHENY WATER at this time. "Dr. W. T.
